THE WEATHER
Generally fair and somewhat warmer to-day; light to moderate Southwesterly winds.
High tide, 2:45 a. m., 3:15 p. m.
Sun rises, 7:13 a. m.; sets, 4:19 p. m.
Moon sets, 10:28 p. m.

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

This Edition of The AMERICAN Consists of the following sections:
1. Latest News. 2. Foreign. 3. Want Ads. 4. Sporting. 5. General News. 6. Editorial. 7. Drama and Society. 8. Comic. 9. Magazine.

VOL. 5—NO. 278. 56 PAGES Registered in U. S. Patent Office. BOSTON, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1908 PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Boston Leads in Storm of Protest That Shakes Country at Prison Sentences Meted Out to National Labor Leaders

'The Astounding Decision of the Court Demands Immediate Reply'===Robert Treat Paine, Jr.

The following remarkable letter was received by the Boston American last night from Robert Treat Paine, Jr., great-grandson of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and one of Boston's foremost philanthropists and leaders in the battle for civic improvement:

To the Editor of the Boston American, Summer Street, Boston:

Dear Sir—The astounding decision of the District of Columbia Court, sentencing Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell to penal servitude, demands immediate reply.

The old Cradle of Liberty is the fitting place for a meeting for indignation and action. Delegations from every organization should assemble there.

In earlier days the judge himself might have been roughly handled. Fortunately, though a liberty loving people, we are also law abiding.

The judicial judgment may well have been in accordance with the law. If so, not vengeance upon the judge, nor executive pardon for martyrs, is the fundamental object, but the alteration of the law as to injunctions—instantly and effectively.

ROBERT TREAT PAINE, JR.

Not the escape from incarceration by individuals, but the emancipation of labor.

Let Congress amend the law now—at this session.

Let each representative from Massachusetts be summoned, categorically, to support this demand, to give it the right of way for immediate enactment.

Let the Legislature also be forced to give such instructions to all the representatives of the State in both branches of Congress.

Such a campaign, nation wide, would be overwhelmingly successful and epoch making.

Yours truly,

Robert Treat Paine.

CLAUDIA HAINS DENOUNCES THORNTON AS COWARD.

In Remarkable Statement Wife of Annis's Slayer Declares Author Will Be Punished.

CALLS DEFENCE WEAK

Claudia Libbey Hains, wife of Captain Peter C. Hains, who killed William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht Club last August, in an interview with a reporter of the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN, at her home in Whitney, Yesterday, scathingly arraigned the action of Thornton Hains, now on trial for his life for complicity in the crime, for his action on the day of the tragedy.

The young wife of Captain Hains denounced Thornton Hains as a coward for allowing his brother to shoot down an unarmed and defenceless man and declared that it was in keeping with the vaunted Hains courage as displayed when Thornton Hains killed his friend Ned Hannigan in an open boat when Hannigan carried no weapon. Mrs. Hains says that Thornton cannot escape punishment.

Mrs. Hains declined to say where she had been for a week. She declared that she had been in close touch with developments in the forthcoming trial. This is her sensational statement:

By Claudia Libbey Hains

"I have been away from home for a week and I have just returned. I do not care to say where I have been, as I do not think it would be discreet for me to do so, particularly at this time, when the trial of Thornton Hains is in such a critical period.

"But I will say this—I have been in close touch with every movement of the trial. I have read every word of the testimony that has been printed by the newspapers.

"I do not think that Thornton Hains will escape punishment for his crime. How he can be brought to justice. Think of it—two heavily armed men going out to buy real estate!

"And this is the defense of Thornton Hains—that he was going to buy real estate. Was that the customary way that real estate was bought and particularly at Bayside. That is not a well section of the country and very few persons carry deadly weapons. It is not thought necessary.

Shows Evil Motive.

"Counsel Hains declared that he was interested with the keeping of his brother, he says that his brother was not responsible for his actions. What kind of care do you consider it when an irresponsible man is allowed to carry a deadly magazine pistol?

"Care of his brother! It is a travesty such care is the kind that is criminally negligent that has birthed it a mockery that is evil.

"This is a fair sample of the much boasted Hains courage. In his writings of the Thornton Hains has time and time again dwelt upon the lack of bravery shown by the members of the Bayside Yacht Club. He has spoken about the timidity of the men there and seems to think that they should have risen forward and disarmed him and his brother.

"The time of the killing of Annis the action of Thornton Hains in pulling his revolver and threatening to shoot one who stepped forward showed about as much bravery as would be displayed by a squad of hold up men who dashed upon a party of Sunday tourists and robbed them of their dinner.

"Bravery! Is that the name and that was displayed by Thornton Hains at the time Ned Hannigan was shot down defenceless in an open boat. Hannigan and Thornton Hains went away in the boat good friends apparently, but Hannigan was brought back dead by Thornton, and the claim was set up by the survivor of the trip that he had to shoot Hannigan, who was unarmed, to save his own life.

"I gave been reading Fred Hart to-day and I came across a quotation that fits Thornton Hains. It is from a poem, en-

Continued on Page 8, Column 3.

GERALD SHAY, SHOT BY YOUTHFUL DORCHESTER HUNTER IN QUARREL

MISS ELKINS TO BE A TRAINED NURSE

Former Fiancee of Duke of Abruzzi to Study in Washington Hospital.

By Boston American Leased Wire.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The end of the romance of beautiful Katherine Elkins and the Duke of the Abruzzi is to be like the final chapter of an old fashioned novel in which the heroine does with her memories to the convent walls and the hero betakes himself and his wounded heart to the wilderness of the world to seek forgetfulness.

The authoritative announcement is the sixty part of the month that there would be no marriage between Miss Elkins and the Italian prince and cousin of a King was hardly cold when the cable brought from Rome the report that the Duke was planning to be off to the unexplored fastnesses of India.

Subsequently despatches have confirmed that report and ever since Washington has been wondering what the young woman would do with herself, it being assumed that her affections have been so deeply wounded as our royal suitor's by the breaking of the engagement. It was learned to-day that Miss Elkins's attitude toward society for the last few months at least and perhaps longer will be more serious than was ever anticipated. She is going to try to forget by giving her time entirely to the study and course necessary to fit herself to be a trained nurse.

Arrangements have been made by Miss Elkins to begin the serious work of study in the Homeopathic General Hospital at Second and V streets in this city, a week from Monday.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT HAS LONG TROLLEY RIDE

Goes to Aiken, S. C., and Indulges in Golf.

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 26. The President elect had a 23 mile trolley ride to-day, going from here to Aiken, S. C., as the guest of President James I. Jackson of the Augusta-Aiken electric railroad. In the party were the Taft family and the John Hays Hammond family.

At Aiken Mr. Taft and Mr. Hammond had a game of golf.

SHOWER OF GOLD FOR WORKERS IN LENOX

Lenox, Dec. 26.—More than two thousand dollars, in ten, five and two and one half-dollar gold pieces, were distributed this Christmas among the employes' families of Mrs. John Spence, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloane, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Morgan and Charles Lanier. William D. Sloane has more than 100 men working on his estate, Elm Court. This is the largest amount yet divided by those families on an occasion.

BOY HUNTER OF 16 SHOOTS LAD OF 9 IN A PETTY QUARREL.

Gerald Shay of Granite Avenue, Dorchester, Wounded by Bullet Fired by Leon Durgin.

END OF HUNTING TRIP

Gerald Shay, nine years of age, son of James J. Shay of Granite avenue, Dorchester, employed by Stone & Webster, Milk street brokers, was shot yesterday afternoon by Leon Durgin, sixteen, son of Mrs. Mary J. Durgin, a widow who has worked for many years in a Boston department store.

"They called us names," said Durgin. "The big boy pointed his gun at us and fired and we hadn't done anything at all," said Shay, the wounded boy.

Durgin was arrested by Annesley E. Augusta of Stanton Pl. at his home No. 21 Lonsdale street, Atlantic, last night. Later he was released when his mother promised to have him in the Dorchester Municipal Court to-morrow before Judge Joseph R. Churchill.

Boy's Dispute Caused Trouble.

It was a boys' dispute which caused all the trouble, but young Shay will probably come well out of it, after all, for Dr. W. F. Perkins of Adams street, Dorchester, thinks the bullet didn't penetrate the right organs, and that it will do any death.

Gerald Shay, in company with his three brothers, James and Thomas, twins, aged twelve; Arthur, thirteen; John Clark, thirteen, Thomas Clark, eleven; Alfred Cutts, fourteen, and William Murray, the same age, were playing around an old bridge on the Granite Avenue bridge over the Neponset River yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Leon Durgin, his brother Frank, twelve, and Harry Hines, sixteen, came down that way from Ashmont to shoot crows in the marshes. Leon carried a new 22 calibre rifle his aunt had given him for Christmas.

Tried to Shoot Over Heads.

The Durgin boys say the Shay boys called out: "Look at the tin soldier with a gun." They say they paid no attention until the smaller boys threw rocks at them, when Leon raised his gun to shoot over their heads.

The bullet struck little Gerald and he fell with a cry to the ground. His brothers rushed him home and Dr. Perkins was summoned in vain for the latter.

The Shay boys declare they said nothing, but "the big boy shot at us as we played tag about the road, not for fooling." said Gerald, "and thing I tell, I would have been killed, maybe, if I hadn't had on a heavy overcoat, a vest, a sweater and a heavy shirt."

Leon Durgan was charged with assault with a loaded rifle. His case will be continued until Tuesday when Juvenile Court meets in Dorchester.

WILBUR WRIGHT MAKES A LUCKY DISCOVERY

Maniac's Act Might Have Caused Mid-Air Explosion.

Le Mans, France, Dec. 26.—An attempt on the part of a supposed maniac to cause the death or serious injury of Wilbur Wright was discovered only just before the American made his successful flight in his aeroplane to-day. The intruder into the machine before the start found that the petrol tanks had been emptied, and from the pipes had substituted petrole, which would surely have resulted in a disastrous explosion in mid air. The aeronaut has asked the authorities to investigate.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS, DIED SOON AFTERWARD

Autopsy to Be Held in Case of Fred Lord.

Fred Lord was found in an unconscious condition last night in front of his home, No. 199 havenni avenue, by Miss Margaret Lear, who lives in the same building. The police were notified and Lord was taken to the City Hospital where he died shortly after. Death is thought to have been due to heart failure. The coroner will hold an autopsy.

BESSIE GOLDSTEIN, WHO WAS THE SOCIALISTIC HOSTESS OF MRS. JACK

"MRS. JACK" GOES TO MEETING OF REAL RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS.

Back Bay Leader Surprises Friends by Accepting Invitations of Forward Society.

"RED" SONGS ARE GIVEN

Mrs. "Jack" Gardner—Socialist!

True is the question which the Russian Socialists and Revolutionists in Boston are asking since Mrs. Gardner, leader of Back Bay Society, patron of art, letters and music, and the wealthy chatelaine of Fenway Palace, sat under the red banner of socialism and listened to proscribed Russian revolutionary songs in the Civic Service House in Salem street.

It came about through an invitation sent to Mrs. "Jack" by Miss Bessie Goldstein, Gardner street, Roxbury, organizer of the Forward Club, to attend a christmas eve entertainment at the club rooms on the first floor of the Civic Service House. Mrs. "Jack" was informed in the invitation that Russian refugees would sing their native songs. It was thought that the native Russian singing would interest an distinguished a patron of music as Mrs. John L. Gardner.

Attended in Sombre Raiment.

Mrs. "Jack" accepted the invitation. A note, containing her thanks and acceptance, came to Civic Service House for Miss Goldstein, written on heavy linen paper in the Fenway Court seal on sheet and envelope.

Mrs. Gardner went to the entertainment, accompanied by Mr. Gardner, her brother-in-law. She was severely, almost plainly, gowned. Her attire seemed somewhat out of place in the midst of the colors worn by the Russian girls. Mrs. Gardner was welcomed by Miss Goldstein and was seated where she had an unobstructed view of the platform, also of the cloth banner on the opposite wall. This banner is of the red revolutionary color and bears, besides the club name, the revolutionary insignia of the famous hand brandishing a knife. This is the official seal of the New York Central Revolutionary Committee.

Under this revolutionary aegis Mrs. Gardner heard several songs which breathe very spirit of Russian revolution and which are powerful in the Russian fatherland under pain of death. It is not assumed that revolutionary songs were selected for Mrs. "Jack's" benefit. But it is a fact that the song programme was as follows:

1.—Marseillaise in Russian.

2.—Russian funeral march, denouncing the government and extolling labor.

3.—"In Memory of Siberia."

4.—"Years Being Shed All Over Russia," of which the chorus is:

"Stand up, you workers of Russia and lift your voices, Show the Czar you can fight for your rights."

5.—"Warsaw Women."

This song lauds the women martyrs of the Russian revolution who were killed for bomb-throwing.

6.—The "Red Standard"—The official song of the Russian Revolutionists.

7.—"Reds."

Interested the Society Leader.

The songs were sung with pathos and feeling. Mrs. Gardner expressed herself as greatly interested in the music and is pleased to have heard them.

Miss Goldstein made the presentation to Miss Goldstein of a set of two books. The presentation and acceptance were in English. The two books were "Das Capital," by Karl Marx, the Socialist agnostic. "Das Capital" has been called "The Socialist Bible."

Mrs. "Jack" waited for the Russian tea served in samovars, and for the other refreshment. She thanked Miss Goldstein before leaving and said she would like to come again.

The Forward Club was organized primarily for the education and development of Russian refugees in Boston. But, as Miss Goldstein says, it has become a "social club" as well.

Socialists in and out of the club are wondering if Mrs. Gardner will attend other club gatherings.

DO NOT MISS THIS GOLDEN CHANCE!

Do you want $50 in gold, a valuable gift or a handsome souvenir?

See Page 6L.

LADDERMAN HURLED TO DEATH AT FIRE

One Hundred Dwellings in Peril of Flames at Providence; Loss of $40,000.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 26.—Benjamin H. Brown, 57 years of age, for twenty-eight years a member of the Providence fire department, was killed to-night while fighting a fire that destroyed the manufacturing plant of the Clark Casket Company on Ashburton street, at the north end of the city. The property loss was $40,000.

The old fireman had climbed a ladder against the front of the building and was directing the hose on the burning structure when he slipped and after a desperate attempt to recover his balance plunged to the ground before the horrified gaze of hundreds. He lived at No. 75 Doyle street and leaves a wife and several children.

The fire is thought to have been caused by sparks from a passing engine. Nephews Gallant, night watchman, discovered the fire and turned in the alarm. The loss of the engine-house, which was out of commission, handicapped the firemen in their work, the flames getting beyond their control and necessitating second and third alarms.

The flames made such rapid progress that the hundred tenement buildings in the vicinity occupied by 1,500 mill hands were in imminent danger. Several attempts were turned on the roofs of the tenements to put out sparks. The occupants rushed from their homes and did not return until the fire was under control.

The loss is now $40,000, the first and eight-alarm fire in Providence, despite a half story high wooden structure, destroyed the plant of the Clark Casket Company on Ashburton street, at the north end of the city. The property loss was $40,000.

The old fireman had climbed a ladder against the front of the building and was directing the hose on the burning structure when he slipped and after a desperate attempt to recover his balance plunged to the ground before the horrified gaze of hundreds. He lived at No. 75 Doyle street and leaves a wife and several children.

The fire is thought to have been caused by sparks from a passing engine. Nephews Gallant, night watchman, discovered the fire and turned in the alarm. The loss of the engine-house, which was out of commission, handicapped the firemen in their work, the flames getting beyond their control and necessitating second and third alarms.

The flames made such rapid progress that the hundred tenement buildings in the vicinity occupied by 1,500 mill hands were in imminent danger. Several attempts were turned on the roofs of the tenements to put out sparks. The occupants rushed from their homes and did not return until the fire was under control.

The loss is now $40,000, the first and eight-alarm fire in Providence, despite a half story high wooden structure, destroyed the plant of the Clark Casket Company on Ashburton street, at the north end of the city. The property loss was $40,000.

AIR OF MYSTERY IN SALOON SHOOTING

Man Denies Being Wounded Until Removed to Hospital.

Mystery surrounds the shooting last night of Daniel McDonald, fifty years of age, of No. 184 Northampton street.

Police of Boston Highlands say they learned of the affair from the City Hospital, where McDonald was taken, from the saloon of Andrew Owens, at Shawmut avenue and Northampton street. Roxbury began a search for John Riley of No. 28 East Brookline street. McDonald said he was the man who had shot him.

At 10:30 last night Lieutenant Feeseden of Station 10 was informed by telephone that a shooting had taken place and he was to send policemen to Owen's saloon. Patrolmen Harry Pierce who was in the station at the time with Sergeant Frazier and policemen Dennis Reynolds and Michale Neagour hastened to the saloon.

On the floor they saw a man and he, John J. Dowling apparently attending him. Policeman Benjamin S. Powers and Arthur Bostwick and three or four other men were in the saloon. McDonald would not admit that he had been shot and the policemen were told that a varicose vein in his leg had bursted.

MIGHTY APPEAL TO SAVE UNION CHIEFS

Big Mass Meeting Planned for Hub to Voice Indignation at Blow at Labor Principles.

ROOSEVELT IN STATEMENT SAYS HE CANNOT INTERFERE

ORGANIZED labor throughout the United States is aroused over the prison sentences of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, who have been found guilty of contempt by Judge D. T. Wright of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in the boycott case of the Buck Stove Company of St. Louis.

Boston last night took the lead in giving voice to the mighty protest which will be made by labor's ranks all over the United States. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Central Labor Union it was arranged to recommend a meeting of protest at which sympathy and support may be pledged to the leaders who are now under judicial displeasure.

From all parts of the country telegrams giving assurance of sympathy are pouring upon Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, and Boston was among the first to dispatch its message. In addition to telegrams to the leaders, a wire was sent to President Roosevelt protesting against the decision by Judge Wright as being "at variance with the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence."

President Roosevelt has issued a formal statement in relation to the case, in which he declines to act in the case pending a decision on the appeal, on the ground that so long as the matter is still before the court the President has no authority to act.

Labor men in New York and Chicago will hold mass meetings of protest. The heads of labor organizations which have offices in Indianapolis are discussing the propriety of calling a meeting of all national officers for the purpose of framing a protest. Labor men will unite to press Congress to wipe out the injunction process in trade disputes.

Robert Treat Paine, Jr., suggests that only a national campaign can wipe out the abuses of the injunction.

CALL BIG MEETING OF PROTEST IN HUB

At a special session of the Executive Committee of the Boston Central Labor Union called last night by President John J. Hynes, plans were begun for a greater protest meeting representing 75,000 organized workers of Boston, to voice a united protest against the action of Justice Wright in sentencing to prison President Gompers, Vice-President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor for contempt of court in the Buck Stove case.

The committee voted to recommend to the Central Labor Union that it hold a great protest meeting at a time to be arranged by the central body. The Central Labor Union will meet one week from to-day to make arrangements.

The committee notified all delegations to the Central Labor Union to secure a full representation of each union was had in the arrangement meeting called for next Sunday.

The members of the Executive Committee who arranged for the mass meeting last night are:

John J. Hynes, president of the Central Labor Union.

Philip H. Sweet, president of the State Branch, A. F. of L., and secretary-treasurer of the C. L. U.

Dennis D. Driscoll, secretary and treasurer of the State Branch.

Anna Bawen, past president and treasurer of the Cigar Strippers' Union.

Louis R. Sullivan, president of the Ship Riggers' Union.

John Fenton, business agent of the Amalgamated Coal Teamsters' Union.

John C. MacDonald, secretary of the Building Trades section and business agent of the Elevator Constructors' Union.

Henry Abrahams, chairman of the Central Labor Union.

G. Harry Dunsdale, assistant secretary of the Central Labor Union and delegate from Newsawriters' Union to the C. L. U.

Michael A. Murphy, vice-president of the Central Labor Union.

James English, business agent of the Bartenders' Union.

F. J. Daley, business agent of the Carriage and Wagon Workers' Union.

Roger Baker, Coopers' Union.

"Protest for Free Speech."

The members of the committee, most of whom made statements, were of one mind in declaring that the union men of Boston and of all America should cry out against what they consider a violation of the rights of every free born American citizen. In the language of President Hynes in issuing the call, the mass meeting will be to "Protest against further infringement upon the right of free speech, of free press and of trial by jury guaranteed every citizen under the Constitution of the United States, and also decide upon any action necessary."

President Hynes, of the Central Labor Union, said last night:

"Seventy-five thousand union workers of Boston represented by 300 delegates named by 142 different affiliated locals, will offer a mighty protest against what we deem a usurpation of our rights under the Constitution, as is exemplified by the sending to jail of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison.

"It behooves every union man in America, every wage-earner, in fact, to stand up for his rights at this time. I know that the sentiments of every one of these will be voiced at our mass meeting, which will be one of the most momentous popular expressions ever known in the history of the nation.

"Good Thing for Labor."

"It is our plan to make this united protest in behalf of liberty under arrange-

Continued on Page 6, Column 1.

CLAUDIA DENOUNCES THORNTON HAINS AS COWARD.

Remarkable Interview. She Declares Author Cannot Escape Punishment.

SCORES DEFENCE AS WEAK

Vote of Anna's Slayer Returns to Winning Home for Mysterious Tie.

Continued From First Page

The Hains Courage

"That's [illegible] Hains' courage [illegible] defence. [illegible] with a [illegible] general [illegible] and him when [illegible] the bravery of [illegible] Hains [illegible] acting that [illegible] writer.

"It makes [illegible] the Hains [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

$100,000 LOST LOVE SUIT STIRS NORTH SHORE SOCIETY.

Bitter Legal Battle Promised in Sensational Haley-Sleeper Court Action.

OPENS IN SALEM MONDAY

Beautiful Nine-Year-Old Girl Pleads in Vain to Reconcile Mother and Father.

The $100,000 suit for the alienation of wife's affections, brought by Fred Haley, a rich resident of Lynn, against H. H. Sleeper, a wealthy Swampscott man, is scheduled to open in Salem Monday. It promises to prove of a most unusual character.

Haleys and Sleepers—both husbands and wives were the closest friends. Then a shock and disillusion. A beautiful little girl of nine years of age, Blanche, and a baby boy, Harold, are left to the sad mother together since, but has family failure.

Counts at a settlement of a case which but the same date. The Haleys divided her time between her father's in Lynn and her mother's present on Beacon street, Boston and tried by unusual, childish way to coax her to come back home, all to no avail. The case is to be called before Judge Raymond.

It is like from some out so far in the fashionable one of the most sensational of the history of the North Shore. Because of this fact and the added fact that many prominent people are involved in the case it is not improbable that the trial will be conducted with secrecy matters of such consequence.

Wife Loyal to Sleeper.

In spite of the charges made by Haley against her husband, Mrs. Alden B. Sleeper is not prejudiced, be one of the witnesses for the defence at the trial. She is fully believed in the innocence of her self, and it was learned from a friend of that she will be by the side of her husband whenever he goes to court. The defense has summoned a large number of witnesses and has secured the services of several former lawyers in the house. Although attorneys for Sleeper refuse to divulge the character of the testimony to be offered by witnesses, yet it was yesterday learned that these persons will be put on the stand to show that the home life of Haley was not happy, and that neither of wife has ever had even a breath of scandal attached to her name. Haley is expected to be the star witness for the defense. The case promises to be the most sensational one of the sensational incidents of the Maid Important Witness.

Another important witness is to be put on the stand by Mary Corey, a maid in the Haley home, who, it is alleged, was hired by Haley to keep a watchful eye on Mrs. Sleeper.

The first notice to the public of the trouble in the Haley-Sleeper home came on Nov. 11, 1908, when Haley filed an attachment for suit of $100,000 against Sleeper. This was followed on Dec. 1 by the filing of a declaration, in which Haley declared that Sleeper was responsible for the breaking up of the Haley home. The attachment was filed within twenty-four hours after a thousand-dollar bond, which was signed and filled by a Boston hotel, which Haley had given to insure that he would be present at the trial. Haley is the only witness. Sleeper was released on $5000 bail.

Both Haley and Sleeper are well known in Boston society. Haley is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1900, and was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club. He is a member of the Algonquin Club, Boston Athletic Association, Tedesco Country Club and Boston Yacht Club. He is a member of the firm of Haley & Whittemore, 53 State street, Boston, and resides at 9 Ocean avenue, Swampscott.

Sleeper is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1900, and was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club. He is a member of the Algonquin Club, Boston Athletic Association, Tedesco Country Club and Boston Yacht Club. He is a member of the firm of Haley & Whittemore, 53 State street, Boston, and resides at 9 Ocean avenue, Swampscott.

Both Prominent in Society.

Mrs. Haley, who had lived in Brookline, where they were socially prominent, went to Lynn about three years ago to live in the house of the father of King street. Mrs. Haley is the daughter of the late Edmund Dalton, who was a well-known lawyer of Brookline. Mr. Haley was engaged in shoe manufacturing in Lynn, wholesale millinery quarters on Bedford street, Boston, joined many of the clubs maintained by the young men who succeeded in with the smart set along the North Shore.

A few months after their arrival in Lynn found the Haleys leading lights in organizations of the Sleepers, who occupy beautiful residence on Movement ave., opposite the famous estate of the late Thomas W. Lawson. Mr. Sleeper is one of the promoters of the Country Club, which is to have a handsome club house.

Mrs. Sleeper, a daughter of Henry Hall, a retired shoe manufacturer of Lynn, is much of Haley's spare time, and it is coming her to the home as an old friend. So intimate did the Haleys become that they went on long automobile trips into the country in Summer. They were inseparable, the women likewise. As the delightful days of the Autumn faded merged into Winter, Haley became nightly visitor to Mrs. Sleeper's attentions to Back Bay Hotel incident followed.

Went to Live With Mother.

Mrs. Haley never returned to her Lynn home. She took up her residence at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles Leigh, No. 848 Beacon street, where she is

Haley feared shortly after this that Sleeper was trying to alienate the affections of his daughter, Constance, who was then eight years old. He consulted a lawyer, but decided to do nothing, fearing the girl might be taken away from him. Haley's attorney says that Sleeper refuses to divulge the character of the testimony to be offered by witnesses, yet it was yesterday learned that these persons will be put on the stand to show that the home life of Haley was not happy, and that neither wife has ever had even a breath of scandal attached to her name. Haley is expected to be the star witness for the defense. The case promises to be the most sensational one of the sensational incidents of the Haley, Haley and Whittemore, and Fred A. Waite, a private detective, was with them.

Maid Important Witness.

Another important witness is to be put on the stand by Mary Corey, a maid in the Haley home, who, it is alleged, was hired by Haley to keep a watchful eye on Mrs. Sleeper.

The first notice to the public of the trouble in the Haley-Sleeper home came on Nov. 11, 1908, when Haley filed an attachment for suit of $100,000 against Sleeper. This was followed on Dec. 1 by the filing of a declaration, in which Haley declared that Sleeper was responsible for the breaking up of the Haley home. The attachment was filed within twenty-four hours after a thousand-dollar bond, which was signed and filled by a Boston hotel, which Haley had given to insure that he would be present at the trial. Haley is the only witness. Sleeper was released on $5000 bail.

Both Haley and Sleeper are well known in Boston society. Haley is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1900, and was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club. He is a member of the Algonquin Club, Boston Athletic Association, Tedesco Country Club and Boston Yacht Club. He is a member of the firm of Haley & Whittemore, 53 State street, Boston, and resides at 9 Ocean avenue, Swampscott.

Sleeper is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1900, and was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club. He is a member of the Algonquin Club, Boston Athletic Association, Tedesco Country Club and Boston Yacht Club. He is a member of the firm of Haley & Whittemore, 53 State street, Boston, and resides at 9 Ocean avenue, Swampscott.

Two of Principals in $100,000 Lost Love Suit; Maid Who Figures as Chief Witness

Mary Corey, maid in Haley home. Mrs. Fred M. Haley, for whose lost [illegible] suit.

Fred M. Haley, who accuses Alden B. Sleeper of stealing wife's affections.

BOSTON GIRL JOINS QUEER PARIS CLUB

Miss Hamilon Paine in American Party Admitted as "Society" Type.

Paris, Dec. 26.—Eleven American young women, each having the necessary quality of rations of representing some art, science or calling, have just been admitted to the queerest club in Paris, Des Unes Interna tionale.

All were elected by acclamation, but when Miss Tregant Buxter, a sister of Mrs. Lucien Carr, was proposed, there was an intense commotion. As the young lady possessed every calling except that of an inspector in an excellent police, some suggested that her election represent sport.

But the members were willing to accept one calling out. "Why not admit her as representing the calling of a widow?" they asked, but an artist.

Miss Buxter got in unanimously. The others elected were Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the secretary of Archdeacon, representing song. The Countess of St. Maurice, who was Grace Curzon, of Kedleston, representing journalism; Miss Katherine Van Wyck, daughter of the ex-Mayor of New York, representing finance; Miss Alice Van Heyderick, the American multi millionaire, representing Miss Katherine Paine, daughter of Mrs. C. Hamilton Paine of Boston, representing the stage; Miss Elsie Moore, the famous American lecturer at the Louvre and Sorbonne; Miss Stewart and W. W. Astor, representing Miss Margaret Chanler, daughter of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, and Miss Hyde, Miss Anna Klumg who has written the life of Rosa Bonheur, an artist, Miss Alice Gerry, Chicago, representing travel; Miss Clifford Barney, politics.

The club is composed mostly of French women and meets monthly at some elegant restaurant and entertains distinguished women visitors. Mrs. Harry Lehr, Paris; Madame Sarah Bernhardt and Madame Emilie Mendes.

ASKS COURT ORDER TO EXAMINE BOOKS

S. M. Andrews of the city has filed in the Supreme Court a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Freeman Davison, treasurer, to produce for examination the books of the Mines Corporation, Limited, room 27 State street, Boston. Mr. Andrews is a stockholder in the corporation and owns 5000 shares in the company, which has been idle since 1905 and for which he has paid $1000.

In the petition the company has been incorporated and its assets are being squandered. Mr. Andrews says that he has been refused an examination of the books he called at the company's office on Dec. 19 and that on Dec. 21 he was told he could be given them, he says, upon treasurer Davison's forcing him to do so.

Judge Jenney in order returnable January 9 issued the writ.

The Mines Corporation, Limited, is a company organized about five years ago to operate mining property in Mexico.

HELPED MAN STUCK FAST IN TRANSOM

While walking along Portland street about eight o'clock last night Stephen Jones of Hayes's grocery store heard a sound of breaking glass and calls for aid. At 56 Portland Building, No. 56 on that street, Jones found a man trying to crawl out to the transom over the building. The man was head and shoulders through but had stuck halfway. Crowds formed him out and the stranger mostly said "thank you" and ran away. Crowds reported the matter to patrolman Murphy of the street station. Investigation revealed nothing missing from the building. It is thought that the man was accidentally locked in and took his strenuous method of getting out.

POISON VICTIM A NEW YORK GIRL

Joseph Daly of Rochester, N. Y., brother of Mary Daly, the young woman who took poison in the room of Abraham Bernstein, No. 61 Hancock street, Dorchester, on Sunday, and later died in the Relief Hospital, will arrive in this city to-morrow morning to arrange for the disposition of the body.

The news of the suicide came as a terrible shock to the family. The girl had been employed in one of the leading department stores in Rochester and had been for months apparently in good circumstances. She was engaged to be married to a young man established in good business in Rochester. The family was in affluent circumstances and the girl, Bernstein says, was the only child. She left home about a year ago and it is feared that the parents' grief over her disappearance was too much for Mrs. Daly, the mother having been ill.

Abraham Bernstein, who found the woman in his room, was released in $500 bail by Judge Bagley in the municipal court yesterday morning. He told a very full story of all other events of the night. He said that Miss Daly and I were acquaintances. I knew very little about her, only that I worked for the same concern. She is a forewoman in the upholstery department and she was formerly employed in the same room from me. I came here from New York six months ago.

"My brother Louis and I live in two rooms. Miss Daly lived on the same street about one block away. She called at my room several times to speak to my brother. On another occasion I was present when she was there.

"I visited her twice these times and one evening I went to the theatre with her and several friends.

"She said we must see some more theatres before I left the city. I was to leave for New York six months ago.

"Last night I was invited to a party at the home of Miss Daly. I did not go, however, as I had to work. I was surprised to hear of the affair, as Miss Daly had told me that she would not go.

"This morning I got up voluntarily while the others were asleep.

"The next time I saw Miss Daly was when she was dead. I was by first chloroform and then by poison. The latter was evidently taken after the chloroform had been administered.

"I do not know of any reason why she should have committed suicide. She had no trouble that I know of. She was very happy when I saw her last."

Bernstein was arrested on the charge of murder in the first degree, but

IT'S SETTLED! $18 A WEEK AMPLE FOR TWO, SAYS JURY OF EXPERTS.

"Paid in Full" Problem Solved at Last; Let the Gay Marriage Bells Ring.

"THE PAID IN FULL" CASH PRIZE WINNERS

FIRST PRIZE, $25—Mae F. Rosmine, Lynn.

Second prize, $10—Mrs. Catherine McCool, No. 22 Tufts street, Charlestown.

Third prize, $5—Mrs. George Stocks, No. 108 Washington street, Chelsea.

Third prize, $5—Mrs. George No. 57 Dotson street, Dorchester.

Third prize, $5—Mrs. Ada M. Holland, No. 23 St. Botolph street, Boston.

In addition to these winners of cash prizes there were twenty-five readers of the Boston Sunday American, who won two seats each to a performance of "Paid in Full" at the Colonial Theatre.

Well, it's all settled. A large jury composed of the best housewives in Boston have decided the all-important question of what constitutes a comfortable living salary.

To you, young men, who are making $18 a week and are hesitating about taking the thumpal plunge, corner the article.

DO IT NOW!

And to you young women, who are keeping certain deserving and worthy fellows in suspense because they have not the income of a Midas, comes the advice and friendly counsel.

Forget it! If he is earning $18 or more a week, snap him up at once. Else you may die an old maid.

Eighteen dollars a week is ample to live on and live well. These Boston housewives have said it. They are the best housekeepers in the world, these Boston girls, and they know.

All this discussion arose because a man of New York theatrical managers, Wagenhals and Kemper by name, sent a very excellent play called "Paid in Full" to the Colonial Theatre for a Boston run. It is really a splendid play. It is most capably acted. If this were a dramatic criticism column could be written about the merits of the company presenting it. The column could be written about the play as a masterpiece of dramatic construction.

One feature of it alone makes it an unusual play. The young man who wrote it made his central character a weak-willed person.

Think of that! A hero who is really the villain of the piece. Therefore a weak willed, colorless person who is a spineless jellyfish—being interesting.

But that's what the author of "Paid in Full" did. That's the kind of a play he wrote. A wonderful play of great human interest, which tells about a man who was a weakling and a man who finally found and developed his wife's latent powers.

Do You Like Problem Plays?

Do you like problem plays? Do you like to see a play which makes you think? Do you like to see a play which makes you talk? Do you like to see a play which makes you argue? Do you like to see a play which makes you quarrel?

If you do, then you will like "Paid in Full." It is a problem play. It is a play which makes you think. It is a play which makes you talk. It is a play which makes you argue. It is a play which makes you quarrel.

Some of the Leading Prize-Winners Who Helped Solve "Paid in Full" Problem

Mrs. J.J. Paula

At the top is Mae F. Rosmine, Lynn, who was awarded first prize; below, on the left, is Mrs. Catherine McCool, Charlestown, winner of second prize; on the right, beside Mrs. Paula of Dorchester, is Mrs. Ada M. Holland, Boston, both of whom were awarded third prizes.

Raises Practical Question.

The jury raised the question of real life. Could a man and wife live on $18 a week? The Boston American decided that it was a question for the people to answer. It offered prizes for the most practical and interesting offered by each author of the best letter setting forth how a couple can live on $18 a week.

Today the winners are announced. It was a big undertaking to make a decision. The judges having the contest in hand were kept busy for days. Some of more than seven letters that they opened the best. Miss Ethel Little, Miss Mae F. Rosmine of No. 9 School street, Miss Ada M. Holland, Miss Catherine McCool, Mrs. George Stocks and Mrs. George [illegible] were the judges who had the unenviable task of reading the letters and deciding which were the best. Since the contest began Miss Little has been in Boston and has become quite a Boston girl at the time. She has been in Boston and has become quite a Boston girl at the time. She has been in Boston and has become quite a Boston girl at the time.

Miss Rosmine is employed in a factory, and Miss Little is a stenographer. She finds time for cooking and music, as well.

The winner of the second prize of $10 is Mrs. Catherine McCool, No. 22 Tufts street, Charlestown, whose husband, John, is employed in the navy yard.

"My daughter, Catherine, assisted me to write the letter," said Mrs. McCool last night. "She is very domestic and manages to do a great deal of housework. I help her with her work. I did not and am certainly not a believer in helping husbands with their work. I believe that a wife can help her husband much more by attending to her own duties and not by helping him. I have been married seven years and have been able to live on $18 a week. We manage to live very comfortably and manage to put by a few dollars every month. I hope that my letter to the American may help some young couple who are struggling with the problem of the cost of living."

Another winner of $5 prize was Mrs. George Stocks of No. 108 Washington street, Chelsea.

"I am delighted to learn that I am one of the winners in the American's 'Paid in Full' contest," said Mrs. Stocks yesterday. "I have always been an interested reader of the Boston American, and I consider the editorial page the best of its kind in Boston. I wish the American success in all its enterprises."

The other $5 prize was bestowed by the judges upon Mrs. Ada M. Holland of No. 23 St. Botolph street. It was a pleasing surprise for her last night when she was told of her good fortune.

The joy of winning was not Mrs. Holland's, for all the keener because it appealed to her that I was the author of the essay which will be the means of in a measure helping others in the wrong impression set afloat by the strikingly wrong thought in "Paid in Full."

"True, a normal young woman with the best sign of red blood in her veins likes fine dresses and sparkling diamonds, and would be happier with them with one these glittering accessories to woman's beauty; but such things don't go with an $18 a week salary, and the woman who loves real happiness for existing the substance soon finds that dress and jewels do not of themselves constitute happiness."

"Live Within Your Means."

"My solution of the problem is not theoretical by any means, for we lived on a smaller salary when first married two years ago, although not compelled to do so at the present time, and you will notice that I have made ample allowance for a reasonable amount of recreation at that. "If the young wife is handy with her needle and doesn't feel above pressing buttons or trimmings when the occasion requires, I see no reason why a couple should not marry on less than the $18 in Paid Full. But the husband must not age the wife's part of society, nor the wife try to outdo the best dressed women in town until better times will abound, for that would surely bring disaster and speedy ruin."

The members of the Boston American who win a pair of tickets for a performance of "Paid in Full" at the Colonial Theatre are:

Winners of Tickets.

Mrs. L. G. Jackson, No. 42 Cambridge street, Revere, Mass.

Mrs. M. J. Holcomb, No. 51 Wellington street, Worcester.

Mrs. G. Arlington, Mass.

Mrs. E. M. M., 202 Harvard street, Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Minnie Frank, No. 185 Charles street, Suite 8, Boston.

C. J. Smith, No. 108 Corey street, West Roxbury.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, No. 1209 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester.

Abraham Rubin, No. 210 North street, Boston.

Harry Bailey, No. 98 Williams street, Chelsea.

Mrs. Frederick W. Hall, No. 16 Benton street, Middleboro.

Mrs. V. A. Bartlett, No. 5061 East street, New Bedford.

Frank S. Fletcher, No. 262 Summer street, West Somerville.

Irving M. Hoyt, No. 1 Emerson, 62 How street, Haverhill.

Mrs. M. Noyes, No. 68 Central avenue, Lynn.

Sarah Henderson, No. 212 Medford street, Somerville.

Mrs. Bella Holland, No. 99 Madison street, Worcester.

Mary E. Harris, No. 259 Meridian street, East Boston.

George L. Brown, C. and R. Dept., U. S. Navy Yard, Charlestown.

Mrs. Margaret Parsons, No. 89 Union Park street, Boston.

A. M. C., Goddard street, Quincy, Mass.

Mrs. William Burke, Brookline.

Mrs. Bessie Thornton, No. 29 South Whipple street, Lowell.

Mrs. Ella Davis, No. 48, Arlington, Mass

Mrs. Loolin Carrella, No. 32 Gale street, Malden.

Mrs. Daniel W. Davis, No. 78 Granger street, Dorchester.

All prizes, checks for the cash winners and orders on the Colonial Theatre box office for the others will be mailed early today, excepting with the two exceptions of Mrs. C. of Arlington and A. M. C. of Goddard street, Quincy. These writers will have to send in their full names and correct address, to insure the safe delivery of prizes.

The Stomach Does Not Cause Dyspepsia

Neither Will It Cure It. Because The Lack Of Gastric Juices Prohibit Relief.

The stomach is a strong, powerful organ, which is composed of muscles of great strength. It is filled during digestion with gastric juices, which, when the stomach, extending and compressing the food, dissolve it and separate the nourishment from the waste matter. If, however, these gastric juices are lacking, the stomach is not capable of digesting its food, because it has not the tools with which to work successfully.

The gastric juices, when in a perfect state, do away with all foul odors, fermentation and decay, reduce the food to a disintegrated mass and the stomach then presses it into the intestines, where another form of digestion takes place. Then the intestines take from this mass of food all that is nourishing and give it to the blood. The waste matter is thrown from the system.

If instead of nourishment the intestines receive impure deposits combined with a poisonous and imperfect gastric juice, it can be readily seen that they must turn such imperfect nourishment into the blood. The blood then being unable to give each part of the body that which it requires becomes impoverished and disease is spread broadcast.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets corrects such a condition at once. If the gastric juices are lacking and imperfect these tablets do their work just the same. They build up the elements in the juice which are lacking and remove those elements which cause disturbance.

Meat, grains, fluids, vegetables and delicacies, in fact, each portion of a large meal, have been placed in a glass vial Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have digested them to a perfect fluid just as a healthy stomach would do.

A large, complex, hearty meal holds no terrors for a dyspeptic if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used. Abnormal eating, late dinners, rich foods cause ill effects to the stomach, but when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used one may eat when and what one will without danger of dyspepsia or discomfort.

Forty thousand physicians endorse and prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and every druggist carries them in stock, price 50c. Send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ECONOMY RULE HITS 1000 CITY EMPLOYES

Plan to Save $2,500 a Day by Reduction in Time and Suspensions.

Next Years day will witness an unusually sweeping reduction in the number of city employes during the present administration.

At least three-fifths of the employes of the street department will be laid off, pending and pending upon half time more than 1,000 men in the paving and sewer division, will go into effect and the pay roll of the city will be permanently reduced about $2,500 a day.

Laborers in the paving division are the most affected, 600 of them will be placed upon half time. This means that they will be paid for only four days instead of six, as received heretofore. In the sewer division 200 men in addition to the city service employees, receiving from $2.50 to $3 a day, are suspended.

In the sewer division 200 laborers are placed upon the half time basis. The superintendent of the sewer division has decided upon this action in order to save at least two months' pay for the men. Under the present system the men would be employed during the winter months, when there is little work to do. It is estimated that by the proposed method of employing men only when there is work to be done, the city will save $2,500 per day and about the end of April or the first of May at least the total saving to the city will be in the vicinity of $125,000.

The suspended men and those upon half time will be laid off on the principle that many seemingly unnecessary laborers are employed in the force. He stated that he has a large number of employes and if every one was required to do the work needed to be done there would be no suspensions, but the reduction is made necessary.

He will retain those employes and the reduction of time for others it is expected will save the city $2,500 per day and approximately $2,500 per day and about the end of April or first of May will save at least the total saving to the city will be in the vicinity of $125,000.

The suspended men and those upon half time will be laid off on the principle that many seemingly unnecessary laborers are employed in the force. He stated that he has a large number of employes and if every one was required to do the work needed to be done there would be no suspensions, but the reduction is made necessary.

He will retain those employes and the reduction of time for others it is expected will save the city

150 ARE CALLED BY GOVERNMENT IN MOVE TO CRUSH BEEF TRUST.

Sweeping Prosecutions of Packing House Firms Promised by Federal Authorities.

PLAN OF WAR OUTLINED

Chicago, Dec. 26.—More than 150 subpoenas were served today by the Federal prosecution of packing house firms for opposed violations of the interstate commerce laws.

The list of men called to appear Monday before the grand jury includes every branch of the business, for most of the witnesses are from the traffic departments of the railroads and the packers. The government had a clearly defined story that a trust exists whereby the Chicago packers control absolutely the sale, the output and the selling and purchasing prices. But the evidence thereby this may be proved is not to be had.

The Government depends largely upon admissions from witnesses under oath before the inquisitors and with the alternative of court hanging over them.

Jail Guilty, Says President.

United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims has been closeted with Attorney Washington, and to have originated with President Roosevelt the plan of prosecution and if there is to be statistics, indictments and convictions, heed must be taken and if there is the slightest indication that the packers are not complying here and there with the decree, the matter may be carried to the president himself.

The president is very much regardless that he is known here as the "trust buster." Time and time again the president has declared that the government is not a man he knows the words of the silliest packing paper and will turn his efforts to secure the punishment of the guilty second, that the government in the administration of the law, is not to be embarrassed by technicalities rather than the conviction of the guilty.

When the case shall be ended and whether he resigns or not, the president says he will be able to determine for all time whether the people support the report that the packers have the courts in their pockets or whether the courts are independent of the packers.

It is now generally admitted that the packers' association has been in existence for many years, and that its object was to control the meat supply of the country and to dictate to the producers of cattle, hogs and sheep what they should receive for their product

MIGHTY APPEAL TO SAVE UNION LEADERS.

Big Mass Meeting Planned for Hub to Voice Indignation.

NO PARDON IN SIGHT

Continued From First Page.

peals to be made by the Central Labor Union.

As far as Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison are obliged to go through the court is concerned, it is really the best thing that ever happened to organized labor. It has aroused a long standing controversy to a climax. It has gotten the great American public to understand for the first time what we are battling against—corporate domination and government for capitalistic interests. It has shown the public for the first time, I know, what our fight means to us and to them.

Without the public is aroused to such a pitch that it will demand that the issues involved in the sentences of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison be settled once and for all, and settled right, then we are no better than a lot of cowards and slaves.

"We Can No Longer Delay."

The H. Smith, president of the Massachusetts State Branch of the American Federation of Labor, and secretary-treasurer of the Central Labor Union, before the meeting said:

"We protest most strenuously against the action of Justice Wright of the District Court of Columbia in sentencing leaders to prison as being fundamentally at variance with the Constitution and the principles of the Declaration of Independence and opposed to the right of free speech and free press.

"If the Judge was to say the least extreme, either in his arraignment of labor unions, or in the sentences he imposed in my opinion, will be to bring the approved steel arms of labor unions more closely into shape than ever before. We have come to the parting of the ways. We cannot longer submit to the yoke of slavery. Half hearted measures will not do. We are not pacifists by nature. Gompers' turn today; it may be someone else's tomorrow. It is time for all to get together. It is time for someone else's to get together. It is time for all to get together. It is time for all to get together. It is time for all othy Ames "Goes On" in The Goddess of Reason," and Tells Her Experience.

OW IT FEELS TO BE THE 'MOB' WITH JULIA MARLOWE.

FASCINATED BY MAD SCENE

By Dorothy Ames

When I sat humpy and comfortable n a good seat at the Majestic to see ulia Marlowe in the "Goddess of Rea-on." I wanted, oh, so much, to be in stirring French Revolution. I ry a case of being stage struck.
mo! I plainly crave the limning an's part of long to be "La Belle rgulaise." I had wanted, always all ings, to be a part of the howling, ng throng that cursed and sneered nd roared and made noises like the ngry lions and bulls.
ll during the first act when the hly dressed peasants laughed and ked secret jokes full of fun at h quiet resigned air and crushing, longing nothing to get on there on stage and be a common person in mmon loathsh rabble.
anted to be joyful all brown sunburn, and dirt-streaked.
ed to have my hair dressed selfe untidy, with a red ribbon hat d on one side. I wanted to wear raudy cap and to be shown the midst of the sandwich, most barn scene.
h, how real it seemed. How natural s I was for the fate of the poor girls erats. Every groan, every sister, allatie it was, made me feel all of Manager Reluctantly Agreed.
When the fifth act opened I determined be one of that mob if it cost money was worth a wonderful, unreasoning, tal mob.
t didn't because a word to a soul, not next evening I had to be there uld go to the stage door of the Majestic get a job in the mob.
I asked for the manager. Imagine that ot you see, just had to go in the ub scene. Mr. Reed, the stage manager, s real, don't you know, I mean exclaimed the surprised man. "What you want to be in the mob for?"
Oh, I just want to, that's all."
ered with my most coaxing smile.
Well! well! well! I'm afraid you would a mistake." Then he looked at those people in the mob have been ing there for weeks and they don't ent thing that no slip should be e."
Oh, but I would do it just right," ed. "I'll saw the show last night and know every single bit of the Well, if that's the case, come ahead
I'll see the stage manager."
After I went a few directions and inter-ations and arched eyebrows and all sort of things, the stage manager sented.
In I went, following close at his heels, ng passages, down narrow flights irs. Finally I guess we got down
ere. There were dozens of the ple ones for the star people. Finally came to rooms where the on hung over low benches with a story front and clothes on each one. The clothes, hung up all around the
, then called the wardrobe mistress,
dear little woman who runs everyone ard" and dresses and doctors and time today hurry up jobs for every e from the star down and has a stag-ling maltese dog.
gan he hurried off and I was all alone ong with hands and heads of girls d women around me in all stages of ss and undress and all conditions of ake up.
ere were the ladies dressed as the ond dames of long ago and peasants ed and powdered and white-faced nuns d Revolutionary leaders with pert cock-hats, all in all the most fantastic gath-I ever saw.
somber inspired to my makeup and ss costume, I scrambled to make up to e of the subject, maddest mobsters.
brushed down my hair and powdered and frowzed it until it was unrecognizable myself, even on my free and easy that powder and paint and eye pencilling
e. Oh, I was a fine looking subject.
I caught a reflection of myself in the mirror, with my ragged, dishtitting ube and full patriotic hood added I ughed and laughed, until they all held r very sides for laughter too.
By that time the hurrying scrambling ple all came and made up were ng upstairs at the call of the first act.
The left the extras and supers alone.
Coaties here, there and everywhere,
and bandages littered about.
When I had dried up to my own intense isfaction I presented myself to the dsome mistress for inspection.
Everybody crowded round me, and one looked me over critically and said:
hite, superfluous tone, with her most ecting air:
Oh, a new girl!" As though being a girl was just about the lowest thing aginable.

Lords and Ladies and Peasants.

All of a sudden there were noises and ushing about and all the gay dames and ords and ladies, nuns and peasants, came hopping back.
"Oh, dear!" cried a great dame, "I'll ever get the change made to-night in e wide, wide world. How ever am I oing to change wigs and make-up and ostume and fix a minuet, too?" and he rushed round working with frantic ste to transform herself from a giddy, ighing, powdered, bepowdered lady
o a pale sombre nun.
I watched and waited for the third act. I id not recognize it was so beastly hot—oh, an ven and stuffy in the dressing room, and he make-up round my eyes made them ke mad devils and all one "Come on," said a girl (Margie, she as) to me, "we're on in a minute. This irl. Stay with me. I'll tell you what to o."
Up she went and waited in the wings.
Oh, dear! I did wish I was in the udience again. I didn't have much time
o think, though. The curtain went up.
Come on," said the girl.
On we went, running around and aving, yelling and screaming and gesti-ulating.
I stayed near the back, but it seemed s though the stage was so small and the ther people so transparent, that I was ure that every one of the white faces pointed to the ragged black hole down n front was gazing directly at me. Now believe me My knees got weak. I trembled ll over. The hand that was gripped on the other girl's fingers to if for very life ecame cold and clammy. My head was wimming and the blood was pounding n my temples like all possessed.
"Watch the star," whispered the girl.
he threw out her hands to her.
If you don't the boss will say something,
me silent-like."
Mechanically I stretched out my hands, elled, fell prone on the ground, or reared, just what r the others did. Me, who had intended be the wildest of them all.
After we had waited for what seemed verity I felt myself being hauled off, aze by my kind Samaritan friend.
We came face to face with a roundaced man who looked like somebody's ther. He looked so funny dressed that way d the center of them all being interviewed.
"A new girl?" he demanded. "Your me and address?"
I stammered. Talk about nding under one's rouge. I felt the hot ood surge up in my very eyes.
"Come, speak up; don't you want your ame in the papers? they questioned the an.
How could I explain—me a meek, little, ncealing newspaper woman—before that ge with all men and women, agreed d there behind the scenes.
There won't be any pay," managed to say, and for to-night, you know, sort of an sort of experiment, eased, oh, how I caught at that word experiment.

"An Experiment" Only.

With one withering glance of scorn, un-er which I felt shriveled and left dead, he walked away, saying: "An experiment? I hope" with a studied, sarcastic ouse—"that it will be successful."
Poor man, of course, he couldn't understand. I suppose he thought I was just ome sort of a harmlessly demented oman.
Then the boss of the supers," explained he girl who had undertaken the superision job of looking out for me.
Back again to the dressing room to ange from fifth and last act costume.
Oh, I would be brave. I would how them what I was made of. I could ow them that I had been on once.
Everybody that hadn't a leading part as making up to be in the mob scene nd came more ragged mob costumes. On ent brown powder and black stars for ots. And this line and that line for bag-ess, and that line for age and so on.
Then were blackened, necks smeared and ands disinfected, and everyone was ready nd in quite a tropped, a motley, funny, ild crowd indeed.
It was a court room scene, with the mob leaders as the judges and the mobbers seated on the benches. Andrienne Lecouvreur the front the night before it all seemed o me, and the prisoners' birds and ladies being sent to death and torture by the ahead, cranky people of the mob. Then oked curdling shrieks and their sneers and ughs had all seemed to the scene as one as t out a sympathetic gasp.
But pretend as much as I would and go hrough the movements and make the ounds, I just couldn't make believe on the ame way the artificial faces before me as it had seemed that I could when lookng out.
Every time we stood up on the rickety eats, denouncing and threatening, we waved thin lest the whole business would topple over. I motioned and groaned with the best of them and I got into the thickest of the fray when the frenzied mobbers grabbed the beautiful leading lady. Verily, the one time leader of the Revolution, who denounced the Republic and cried "France and the King," I saw her trampled upon and hauled up onto the shoulders of the men and carried off lucre and prostrate, and I only felt about one-tenth of the mob feeling that I had expected.

Silver Service Given Church by Henry H. Rogers, Standard Oil Magnate, and Million-Dollar Memorial Sanctuary at Fairhaven

H. H. ROGERS GIVES MEMORIAL CHURCH SILVER SERVICE.

Beautiful Vessels for Fairhaven Sanctuary Dedicated to His Mother.

DESCRIPTION OF CHALICES

Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil King, has presented an elaborate and beautiful silver service to the congregation of Memorial church, in his native town of Fairhaven, which was built at a cost of $1,000,000 as a memorial to his deceased mother. Mr. Rogers will also give two chime doors, the cost of which is $10,000, and a stained glass window of special design.

The service will not be installed until Easter, but it will be inspected in Boston tomorrow by members of the church.

It was designed by Higham, Cowles & Ribbon, the architects of the Memorial Church, and was made by Gorham, Providence, at whose establishment in Washington street the handsome and costly pieces will be on exhibition.

As this church is not to be a Unitarian church, save Charles L. Coonley, one of the five trustees, the ancient patens are not to be used for sacramental purposes, although it is understood that the Communion service is included in the gift. The decision therefore was one of designing vessels that would be beautiful in principle of material and ornamentation with the church in which they are to be used, but which also could not be incorporated in their make-up anything which would offend Unitarian feeling or any of their elements.

The shape of the chalice is unusual, being taken from those to be used for the celebration of Holy Communion in the Roman Catholic church. They are heavy, however, and it is not expected that they will be used by the ushers of the church for the members of the congregation. It was therefore necessary to so design them that they might readily be passed from hand to hand.

The paten is much larger than the one for Catholic use, it having a diameter of six inches.

The designs of the vessels is quite different from anything that one would know, but is of course in harmony with the design of the work of the best period of Mediaeval Gothic art. For instance the stem and base of the chalices are pentagonal, which was during Mediaeval days the common form. The ring around the stem is also a development of the Gothic which is given for you do this in accordance with the Gothic feeling and form of words used by Christ at the consecration of the bread and the cup. The Latin inscription 'Drink ye all of it, for this is my blood' is used in the Vulgate of St. Matthew's rendering of Christ's words at the institution of the supper.

In addition to this service Mr. Rogers has also instructed Messrs. Higham, Cowles and Ribbon to design some magnificent doors which will cost about $20,000.

Perhaps the most beautiful of all is a baptismal font, destined for Mr. Rogers, to be presented to the church by the ladies of the communion service. The font will be of white marble and will cost, it is said, standing on a marble base. It will be on view at the New Art Museum.

WEEKS BOOMED FOR ELIOT AND MORGAN NAVAL PORTFOLIO TO MEET 'OLD BOYS'

Lively Scramble in 12th District if Congressman Is Promoted.

Friends in Boston of Congressman John W. Weeks of Newton have received word that he is to be urged upon President elect Taft by Senator Knox picked to be the new Secretary of State, as the best man for the position of Secretary of the Navy.

Senator Knox is to visit Judge Taft at Augusta, Ga., very soon, probably the first week in January, and at that meeting the places in the Cabinet not already arranged will be discussed and the men to fill them will be determined upon.

Those who are in touch with the situation say that Senator Knox will present the name of Congressman Weeks for the navy portfolio and that his backing will count greatly in Judge Taft's final selection for the position. Senator Knox is known as one of the closest men to the incoming President and his influence is considered by Congressman Weeks's friends as the strongest that could possibly be secured, next to that of President Roosevelt.

In the event of Congressman Weeks's appointment as the new Secretary of the Navy a big fight for his seat in the twelfth district will be precipitated, it is said. There are a number of men in the district who look with longing eyes on the coveted position, and already the names of a number of them have been mentioned as Congressman Weeks's successor. Among these are Hon. Alfred F. Bemis of Patrick line and Hon. Seward W. Jones of Newline, members of the Governor's Council; Senator Arthur C. Frazer of Stoughton, Representative Norman H. White of Brockline and former Representative George L. Barnes of Weymouth.

GAELIC HIBERNIANS TO HAVE NEW YEAR BALL

Members Plan Good Time for Death of 1908.

Gaelic District, No. 76, A. O. H., the only one of its kind in the United States because it always opens and closes its meetings in the mother tongue) will celebrate the fifth anniversary of its formation by giving a concert and ball New Year's eve, in Pilot Hall, Pilot Memorial building.

More than 700 tickets have been distributed, and all the State and County officers are invited.

The ball committee have made arrangements for sending out the old year and welcoming the new in a manner befitting the host as a surprise to all.

AFFINITY DANCE ONE OF BALL FEATURES

Coachmen's Protective Union to Boom Sick Fund.

Of interest to the members of labor organizations in and around Boston is the twenty-first annual ball of the Coachmen and Stablemen's Benevolent and Protective Union, to be held in Paul Revere Hall, Mechanics' building, Huntington avenue, on Wednesday evening, January 6. The proceeds of the undertaking will go towards the sick and death benefit fund.

For the past few weeks members of the various committees have been working on the undertaking. Many novelties will be introduced, including the dancing contest, the "Electric waltz," the "Affinity dance" and a supper march.

The officers of the organization comprises Thomas Clark, president; Patrick Liddy, secretary, and James Kelly, William Fisher, Michael Sherwin, Patrick Egan, Jeremiah Fitzpatrick and James Burke, director.

To Sing Scotch Songs.

What is expected to be one of the prettiest social events of the season will be the seventh annual New Year's concert and ball of the Highland Dress Association of Massachusetts, at Odd Fellows's Hall, Friday evening. Among those who will participate in the concert will be Miss Margaret McLaura in Scotch solos and Miss Margaret Needham. Music will be by the Highland Pipe and Drum Band.

GRADUATES COMING FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY TO ENGLISH HIGH REUNION.

English High School graduates, who are headed the school as far back as 1832, are coming to Boston from all parts of the country to attend the great reunion and dinner of the alumni at the Boston City Club on January 14.

The reunion promises to be one of the most interesting events in the eighty-eight years of the history of the school.

The oldest graduate yet heard from by the committee is Rev. William G. Babcock, a retired Presbyterian clergyman, who graduated in the class of 1832. He and the other graduates of the early days will be guests of honor at the reunion.

Among the invited guests and speakers at the reunion will be Headmaster John D. Casey, Governor-elect Eben S. Draper, Lieutenant-Governor-elect Louis A. Frothingham, Mayor Hibbard, J. Piermont Morgan, graduate of the school; President Eliot of Harvard University, Professor Harry E. Clifford, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a graduate of the school; members of the state and city governments, the School Board and teachers in the English High School.

Charles H. Bigelow, president of the English High School Association, will be the presiding officer. An informal reception will be held from 6 to 7 o'clock, when the "old grads" will have an opportunity to talk over their schoolboy days with their classmates and teachers.

Because accommodations could not be secured in any hotel or restaurant in Greater Boston for the hundreds of English High School graduates who wish to be present at the reunion, the committee has been obliged to limit the dinner, restricted to those graduating prior to 1890. The committee has, however, accommodations for the officers of the last class in the history of the school now in service.

The committee is still endeavoring to find the address of Irving Graduate of English High School and J. H. Clapp, class of '75, Eng. 1905, Boston Pos.office, and will be glad to receive any notices. Mr. Clapp is expected to attend the commencement exercises that may be addressed to him.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR PASTOR CROKER

Jamaica Plain Clergyman Leaves for California.

Dr. Joseph H. Crooker, a well-known preacher and pastor of the Roslindale Unitarian Church, and his wife, the Rev. Florence K. Crooker, pastor of the Jamaica Plain Universalist Church, were Boston Tuesday for a few months' stay in Berkeley, California. Dr. Crooker gave up active charge of his church in order to recover his health in the climate of California.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. Crooker gathered this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the Jamaica Plain Universalist Church.

Dr. Crooker will preach Mrs. Crooker will give a short talk on the Bible character, Ruth.

BRIDGE BLOCKED TRAFFIC.

Street car and wagon traffic to and from Chelsea square and Boston was interrupted or some hours yesterday when the tracks of the Boston & Revere draw bridge, which opened to permit a schooner passing up into the Mystic River, were disabled. The bridge gang got the draw closed sufficiently to permit foot passengers to use the bridge, but the Chelsea square cars were obliged to make a long detour.

FR. GASSON TO SPEAK.

The Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., president of Boston College, will address the members of the Social Club of the Boston Police Department Monday night in Investigator Hall, Appleton street.

St. James HOTEL AND CAFE
Everything Up-to-Date. Rooms $1 per day and upwards. European Plan. Service Unsurpassed. Bowling in Basement.
BOWDOIN SQ., BOSTON

LINA CAVALIERI, STAR WHO OPENS STORE TO SELL BEAUTY LOTION

UNIVERSITY SALE TO ELKS HELD UP

Transfer of Jacob Sleeper Hall to Boston Lodge Is Enjoined.

Declaring that the vote taken by Boston Lodge, No. 10, of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to buy Jacob Sleeper Hall, on Somerset street, from Boston University for $160,000 was improperly taken, Charles A. Kelley and other members of that organization have filed a bill in the Superior Court, directed against officers of the lodge and Boston University.

The court has issued an ad interim injunction restraining the defendants from making the necessary conveyances to consummate the deal, pending a hearing on the merits of the case next Tuesday.

The plaintiff says that the Elks were given an option on the Somerset street property, and that at a special meeting, December 30, 1907, members out of 500 present voted to take up the option. They assert that the notice sent out for this meeting were not sent for days ahead, as required by the by-laws, and that, in addition, the meeting, involving over $50, a four-fifths majority of members present is necessary to pass a motion.

The terms of the sale, say the plaintiffs, provided for the transfer of the Elk property at No. 287 Columbus avenue to the Boston University at a valuation of $60,000, the remaining $100,000 to be covered by a mortgage for three to five years held by the university. The bill alleges that if such a sale takes place it will only result in the ruin of the Boston Lodge of Elks.

GRAND OPERA STAR OPENS BEAUTY SHOP

Preparation Used by Catherine de Medici Offered to Public by Lina Cavalieri.

Lina Cavalieri, prima donna and star of grand opera, is about to open a shop in New York where New York's beautiful women are to be sold those creams, lotions and perfumes, which make a pretty woman still more attractive. Everything in the store at No. 249 Fifth avenue is said to be home made and the marvelous preparations by which Beatrice Tavernier became made Catherine de Medici pretty at times are to be within reach of New York women at so much a jar.

"Me attend behind the counter? Oh how funny!" she said with a fascinating uplift of eyebrows and shrug of dainty shoulders. "I will miss the most confidences of attendants there, but since my patrons, whom I shall see occasionally myself, it will be worth it, perhaps.

"I am opening a little shop in Paris, too. I have been very busy, but I have long wanted to do this. I am doing this for the public. I hope they will like what will be received in the spirit in which it is given. And, of course, the rarest perfumes and creams and many lotions, for the ladies who want them.

"Let us come back for an Italian festival that I have planned from the stage or grand opera. No one has ever done it before. I expect to get about! It would be wonderful!

"I shall stay here a little while longer and then go to Paris, where I shall make a grand concert tour. After that I shall go to Monte Carlo, Garden, London and very soon I hope to tour the United States."

No because I open a scent shop does it follow necessarily that I drop my lifework—grand opera. I discovered in Italy recently that Renato Tavernier, who was the foremost private perfumer of that ancient lady's nuptiness, succeeded in making actually poetry at times. It was marvelous."

FUR COATS BARRED BY TROLLEY LINE OFFICERS

Springfield Motormen Angry Over New Order by Road.

Springfield, Dec. 26.—With cold weather the motormen employed by the Springfield Street Railway Company bemoan the fact that they cannot wear their fur coats. An order to this effect was posted in the car barns, but the men did not realize until this week what a handicap it means. The reason given by the men for shooting the fur coat is that it is not in harmony with the regulation uniform. They have been told to buy a uniform coat, and even the color of the uniform has been suggested by the company officials.

Some of the motormen fear they will be compelled to resign because of the new order. Those who own expensive fur coats are opposed to the ruling.

Library Branch Opens.

The Jamaica Plain branch of the Public Library, which has been closed for some days on account of the burning of Curtis Hall, will be reopened to-morrow in temporary quarters in Jackson Hall, Centre street, Jamaica Plain, to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

To Give Weekly Talks.

Reverend Father Tully, S. J., chaplain of St. Mary's Infant Asylum of Dorchester, will deliver, beginning the new year, a series of weekly talks on the Influence of Jesus Christ and the Immaculate Virgin Mary.

GREAT JANUARY SALE
Ladies' White Goods
Beginning Monday, Dec. 28th

Nemo Corsets

The "1909 Special" a remarkable value, made up especially for this sale, stylish and comfortable, made of excellent white coutil; a model that will suit most figures. Sizes 19-30. Identical in quality material and workmanship with the regular $3.00 Nemos. Sale price $1.00.

Corset Covers
Fine quality cambric and nainsook, lace trimmed. Sizes 34-42. Rare values.
50c value....25¢
60c value....39¢
75c value....49¢
85c value....69¢
$1 value....79¢
$1.50 value....98¢

Gowns
Styles—High, square and V neck, and chemise, lace trimmed. Sizes 14, 15, 16, 17. Cambric and nainsook.
75c value....59¢
$1 value....79¢
$1.50 value....98¢
$2 value....1.25

Drawers
Made with deep flounce, lace trimmed. Sizes 21, 23, 25.
50c value....25¢
65c value....39¢
75c value....49¢
$1 value....79¢
$1.50 value....98¢

Combination Styles
Drawers and Corset Cover. Skirt and Corset Cover.
75c value....59¢
$1 value....89¢
$1.50 value....98¢
$2 value....1.39

Skirts
All styles—Lawns, nainsook and cambric, trimmed with the newest embroidery effects. Sizes 23-40-42.
$1.50 value....98¢
$2 value....1.49
$2.50 value....1.89
$3 value....1.95
$4 value....2.89
$5 value....3.95

Chemises
Lace and hamburg trimmed. Sizes 36 to 42.
75c value....49¢
85c value....59¢
$1.50 value....98¢
$2 value....1.25

Waists
Six new spring styles; batiste and lawns, hamburg and lace trimmed, all sizes.
Regular $1.50 values....98¢
Special $2.50 Batiste Waists....2.00
Special $4 Batiste Waists, tucked all over, with ebony lace trim....3.00
Black and Fancy Silk Waists, $5, $7.50, $10 values....2.95, 3.95, 4.95

Bridal Sets
Four pieces: cross-barred muslin, lace trimmed, $5 value....3.95
Fine cambric, hamburg trimmed, $7.50 value....5.00
Nainsook, la...ed $8 value....6.50

Many Other Lines at Re...rices

A. Shuman & Co. Ladies' Annex Third Floor

The Pimple And The Face

rst Show Signs of the Blood Poverty Which Causes Most Skin Diseases.

t is a strange truth that pimples ually appear upon the face, thus i rating that nature uses the most ect part for conducting us that e blood is filled with poison.
The human circulatory system is d to be the most wonderful of all nature. It carries
lth, food and strength to every t of the body. It also carries from part of the body all germ life, ste matter and decay.
f through poor eating, indigestion, nstipation, etc., the blood is filled h poisonous, decaying, irritating ids, these poisons are carried to the gs, where they are attempted to cleansed by the oxygen from air lone.
f this does not accomplish the re-ts demanded the blood takes away poison and carries it to the little lls of the skin, where they leave it.
re these poisons irritate and decay ll at last they form pimples and ckheads or other skin eruptions.
last bursting or are removed by ct.
When you have pimples, it is a cerin sign that your blood is wrong at the great human blood system is rned into an intricate series of sews and canals, which are filled with purities.
Science long ago learned that Calci-Sulphide was the most powerful, mless and beneficial blood purifier ainable.
uart's Calcium Wafers, under entific tests, conclusively proved mselves to be one of the best meth of preserving the full strength or ginal blood cleanser.
e real beauty of Stuart's Calcium fers lies in their rapid work. Those effects are seen after only a few ys use, and a face full of pimples been made clear and clean after y five days' use of these wafers.
hese wafers, by the peculiar Stu-process, preserve and hold the full ength of Calcium Sulphide, so that system obtains this wonderful rifier in its most efficient state.
Other methods of administering and paring Calcium Sulphide have ven Stuart's Calcium Wafers to the best method.
o so your druggist and buy a box those little pimple eradicators toy, price 50c, or send us your name d address and we will send you a al package by mail free. Address
A. Stuart Co., 176 Stuart Building, rshall, Mich.

R. H. WHITE CO.'S MILLION DOLLAR JANUARY MARK-DOWN SALE

The Wonderful Bargains Advertised on This Page Are Representative of the Thousands of Extraordinary Values in Every Department of This Great Store

January Sale of Men's High Grade Shirts, Nightrobes, Neckwear, Hosiery & Underwear at about Half Price

Men's Night Robes

Men's Night Robes, V Shaped Neck or With Collar—The very best quality purchased at a great sacrifice; worth 59c each. Jan. Sale..... 29c

Men's Domet Flannel Night Robes—Extra quality flannel; cut full size and well tailored throughout, all made with collar, good 59c values. Jan. Sale.. 39c

Men's Domet Flannel Night Robes—Cut full 54 in. long, all neat light colors. Regular 75c values. Jan. Sale..... 59c

Men's Underwear

(Limited Quantities. Come Early.)

Men's Heavy Fleeced Underwear—Heavy Jaeger color Shirts and Drawers, sanitary fleeced, only one case offered for this sale; limit 4 garments to one customer. Value 50c each. Jan. Sale..... 29c

$1.00 and $1.50 Underwear at 69c—Discontinued lines, broken sizes, soiled and mussed underwear, marked down to clean up, medium and winter weight, grays, whites and camel's hair shades. Values $1.00 and $1.50. Jan. Sale..... 69c

Men's Natural Worsted Union Suits—Medium winter weight, perfect fitting, all sizes from 34 to 44. While they last $1.50 values. Jan. Sale, at..... 69c

$2.50 and $3.00 Union Suits at $1.50—A large manufacturer's surplus stock, also samples from some of the best union suit makers, every garment perfect and regular. $2.50 and $3.00 values. Jan. Sale, at 1.50

TUTELMAN BROS. & FAGGEN,
Manufacturers of Shirts & Mens Night Robes
Philadelphia

Including a great purchase from TUTELMAN BROS. & FAGGEN, Philadelphia---one of the greatest shirt manufacturers in the country.

This letter tells the story of this extraordinary purchase.

The Greatest Values of the Entire Season

Street Floor, Centre Aisle

Men's White Bosom Shirts,

Unlaundered, sizes 14 to 18, famous values, waited for by hundreds.

No. B. R. 1. Short bosom, closed, extra values
No. 3. Long bosom, closed, extra values 59c

No. 2. Long, closed bosoms, extra values
No. A. R. 1. Short bosom, open, extra values
No. A. R. 2. Short bosom, closed, extra values 69c

2000 Dozen Men's 4-Ply 15c Collars The celebrated "ANCHOR" brand, always sold at 15c, or 2 for 25c. We have purchased, especially for this January Sale, 2000 dozen "ANCHOR" Collars, attractively packed 6 collars in a box. 15 different shapes, all the new up-to-the-minute styles. Values 15c each. Jan. Sale..... 6 for 50c

Negligee Shirts

50c to 75c Negligee Shirts at 19c—Some of them are mussed from handling, but not so as to affect the wear, 50c, 59c and 75c values. Jan. Sale..... 19c

500 Dozen Men's Negligee Shirts—Made from ends of material used in making up the season's supply of shirts. All these shirts are new, neat and clean—straight from the laundry to our store. They are made coat style, some with detached cuffs, and of all kinds of material, such as woven madras, percale, cords, plain blue ginghams, white madras, all cut full size, and all worth 50c to 75c. Jan. Sale..... 29c

Men's $1.50 and $2.00 Bosom Shirts at 39c—This lot of shirts includes various high-class styles. The sizes are somewhat broken, but all are $1.50 and $2.00 shirts. Jan. Sale..... 39c

Men's Fine Percals and Madras Shirts—With attached or detached cuffs, coat or regular style, sizes from 14 to 18. Nothing in this lot worth less than $1.00 and many worth $1.50. All offered at our great Jan. Sale, at..... 69c

Men's Hose

Men's Half Hose—Checks and figures, embroidered clocks, split soles, all the styles that go to make up a big line of samples. All 25c and 35c values. Jan. Sale..... 15c

Men's Sample Half Hose—From one of New York's largest importers. Once each year this importer gives up his foreign samples of Men's Half Hose, a miscellaneous lot of samples of all kinds of hose, some embroidered, or with silk clocks; others with white split sole. These hose usually retail at 50c and 75c. This entire lot of Hose will go on one of our bargain tables for this Jan. Sale, at..... 25c

The Bankrupt Stock of Cohen & Herbert, New York, High Grade Manufacturers of Men's and Boys' Clothing, at 50c on the Dollar

Cohen & Herbert, Nos. 19 and 1719 Waverly Place, New York City, are well known as manufacturers of high grade Men's, Youth's and Boys' Clothing. Our buyers were in New York two days in advance of this great auction sale and went carefully through the stock, prepared to make a spot cash offer for the entire lot. We were satisfied to buy the entire stock at one-half wholesale prices, but we did better at the auction sale, for in many cases we purchased at less than half price. This purchase includes all their sample lines, and every garment this season's most up-to-date styles, handsome patterns, reliable materials. The greatest values in Men's and Boys' Clothing ever offered in Boston.

Boys' Suits, Overcoats and Reefers At Half Price and Less

Boys' Bloomer and Knickerbocker Pants—Made for suits; from the Cohen & Herbert stock. Regular price $1.00. Jan. Sale.. 50c

Eton, Russian and Sailor Suits—Sizes 3 to 10 years. Regular price $2.00. Jan. Sale. 98c

Light and Dark Gray Spring Reefers—Regular price $3 and $4. Jan. Sale. $1.50

Boys' Reefers and Long Overcoats—Reefers in very stylish dark mixtures and Kersey cloth, wool or serge linings, silk velvet collar; long overcoats in black and gray frieze, best of linings and silk velvet collar; every garment well tailored. Regular price $6.00. Jan. Sale..... $2.98

Boys' Knickerbocker Suits—Very dressy suits, made from strictly all wool blue cheviot, best of linings in the coats and bottom edge faced; pants lined, also in very stylish mixtures, made extra well and perfect fitting. Regular price $6.00. Jan. Sale..... $2.98

Plain Leather and Enamel Belts Extraordinary Values!

25c Belts at..... 5c
50c Belts at..... 10c

Boys' Reefers and Long Overcoats—Some of the finest Reefers and Overcoats ever offered in any sale. Such materials as blue and brown kersey cloth, with the finest quality Venetian linings. Cuffs on sleeves, and the latest style pockets. Very fine quality silk collar. Also Overcoats in the very latest up-to-date mixtures, made in the same way. Long Overcoats in very stylish mixtures, made in the same way as the Reefers. Regular price $8.00. Jan. Sale.

$3.50 and $3.95

Boys' Sailor and Russian Suits—All this season's latest and most up-to-date light and dark mixtures, and wool serges, blue, brown and red. Every suit is beautifully made and tailored, cut on a very full pattern and made to fit perfectly. Regular $6.00 and $7.50 Suits. Jan. Sale.

$2.98 and $3.50

Boys' White Laundered Blouses—With collar and cuffs attached. Sizes 7 to 16. Regular price $1.00. Jan. Sale..... 49c

Men's and Youths' Suits, Overcoats, Fur Coats and Raincoats at Half Price & Less

Overcoats

Sizes 30 to 38 or 15 years to 22 years old sizes. Overcoats in black, oxfords and fancys, in kerseys, meltons, cheviots, friezes.

$10.00 Overcoats in fancys and oxfords..... $5.00
$12.50 Overcoats and Ulsters, black and oxfords $6.25
$15.00 Overcoats, in fancys, blacks and oxfords. $7.50
$18.00 Overcoats, oxfords, browns and fancys $9.00
$20.00 Overcoats and Auto Coats, in all colors $10.00
$25.00 Overcoats and Auto Coats, in all colors $12.50

Raincoats

Sizes 30 to 38 or 15 years to 22 years old sizes. Raincoats in worsteds, cheviots and thibets, black and fancy.

$10.00 Raincoats, fancys..... $5.00
$15.00 Raincoats, fancys..... $7.50
$20.00 Raincoats, black and fancys..... $10.00

Suits

Sizes 30 to 38 or 15 years to 22 years old sizes, in fancys and blacks, in worsteds, cheviots and thibets.

$10.00 Suits, fancys..... $5.00
$15.00 Suits, in black and fancys..... $7.50
$18.00 Suits, in black and fancys..... $9.00
$20.00 Suits, in black and fancys..... $10.00
$25.00 Suits, in black and fancys..... $12.50

Men's Trousers

The Entire surplus stock of men's trousers, including odd suit trousers, bought two months ago and kept especially for this sale from the Worcester Pants Co., Bleecker St., New York.

$2.00 Trousers for..... $1.00
$3.00 Trousers for..... $1.50
$4.00 Trousers for..... $2.00
$6.00 Trousers for..... $3.00
$7 and $8 Trousers for..... $4.00

Fur Hats for Men and Youths

Muskrat trimmed hats. Regular price $4.00..... $2.50
Marmot trimmed hats. Regular price $7.50..... $4.00
Raccoon hats. Regular price $7.50..... $3.50

In addition to this bankrupt stock we offer the surplus stock from two of the largest fur coat houses in the United States.

Wearfine Fur Coat Co. 85 and 87 Bleecker St., New York, N. Y.

The Russian Tanning and Fur Co. Milwaukee, Wis.

Fur and Fur Lined Coats

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

Men's Fur Lined Overcoats

Black Pony Lined Coats, cloth shell, muskrat collar, all sizes from 36 to 46. Regular price $42.50. Sale price..... $19.50

Genuine Marmot Lined Coats, blended muskrat collar, all-wool cloth shell, blended and natural skins. Regular price $75.00. Sale price..... $32.50

Natural and Blended Muskrat Lined, Persian and otter collars, black cloth shell, cut full and generous. Coats in this lot worth from $85 to $125. Sale price..... $50.00

Men's Outside Fur Coats

Natural Brown and Black Siberian Dog Coats, also Jap wolf and China dog. Regular price $36.00. Sale price..... $15.00

Natural Gray Wolf Coats, long hair, quilted linlinx. Regular price $46.00. Sale price..... $17.50

Assorted Black Dog Coats, Russian calf, black and brown. Regular price $50.00. Sale price..... $29.75

No Matter How Many Magazines You Take

COSMOPOLITAN

Is the one you cannot afford to do without Subscription Price Only $1.00 a Year.

SOME OF THE FEATURES FOR 1909

"A Great Serial of the Air," by Herbert Quick Business Stories by George Randolph Chester
More "Aunt Jane" Stories by Eliza Calvert Hall
"Life of Charlemange," by Chas. Edward Russell
Henry Watterson on Abraham Lincoln
Humor of Ellis Parker Butler
Depew's Reminiscences

4 Duane St., New York City

Sunday
December 27, 1908

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

General News

BOSTON TO GET BEST FIRE PROTECTION IN WORLD UNDER UNITY PLAN.

Steps on Foot to Make Departments in Greater City Practically One System.

CO-OPERATION PROPOSED

That Boston and nineteen surrounding cities and towns may have the big best and most efficient fire protection of any like area in the world, even passing New York and London in its magnitude, initial steps were taken during the past week by the fire authorities of the Metropolitan district. There were scores and scores of committees appointed at the largest gathering of local fire chiefs ever held in this city, also assembled at the Copley Square Hotel to discuss an effective means of co-operation and of utilizing to better advantage the nine fire-fighting machinery which is owned by the different municipalities within a radius of eight miles of Boston.

Under the proposed plan, in event of a conflagration in any part of this area, it will be possible to set in motion, either in the scene of the fire or to cover other districts whose companies have moved, nineteen fire engine companies, including horseless engines and fireboats, 125 hose carriages, 40 ladder companies, including village trucks and Hayes trucks guided by propeller, 28 chemicals, 25 combination wagons of the chemical tank and ladders and chemical tank and hose carriage type, 4 water towers and miscellaneous, chiefs' buggies, wrecking wagons, etc. This list includes apparatus available in the different repair shops.

5,000 Fire Fighters.

Five thousand trained fire fighters, 1,500 of them on the permanent force, will, under veteran fire chiefs, cope with conflagrations or large fires, and will make a proposed system of running cards, telephone of all fires that occur near the dividing lines of the cities or towns. The practicability of this feature is possibly seen, inasmuch as it is a common occurrence to find out of town engine companies moving in the scene of a fire in an adjoining town than the town's own apparatus. This interchangeable feature comes on small fires plays a very important part in taking care of the greater fires.

Already the city of Chelsea, through Chief Spencer, has worked the new plan on a small scale, and has now a running card system been co-operating with Revere and Everett, and three of the city of Chelsea have given an admirable illustration of what the possibilities are in installing the running card system in Greater Boston.

The real prime movers in the new project are ex-Fire Commissioner Frederick N. Wells and Fire Chief Mullen, who are naturally backed by all the fire chiefs in the chiefs. Chief Mullen read a paper before the State Firemen's Association at Nantucket last September in which he outlined the plan, and the treatise was so thoroughly in accordance with the ideas in opinion so feasible that the association was quick to grasp the situation and appointed a committee composed of Chief Mullen and Fire Commissioner Wells, of Boston, and Chief Spencer of Chelsea, Chief Hopkins of Somerville, Chief Bradlett of Newton and Chief Rudder of Cambridge, with Lieutenant Joseph Woods of Boston as secretary. The committee was ordered to go ahead and lay before the association plans through which it might go before the Legislature and establish the new methods for fire protection in law.

For Quick Transportation.

To further show the effectiveness of the scheme, the Fire Chiefs' Club last week, to back up the work of the State Association, appointed a committee to inquire into a system of fire alarms which could be so arranged that the departments of the cities and towns could be notified at once of all fires of the outbreak of a fire, and to watch and be ready to help them. Then to either go to the fire or move up to cover the territory of companies that had already responded to fires. This is possible that an Arlington company may go to Medford if a Somerville company is called to protect that section while the Somerville company will move up to the next city or town's docks in case of a fire.

Chief William Brooks and City electrician Gilbert of Cambridge, Superintendent of Fire Alarm Telegraph Hall, Chief Bradlett of Newton and ex-Chief Howard Fiske of Framingham were named to look up a proper fire alarm system to cover the district.

That the transporting of engines and hose carriages may be quicker than now, Mullen, Ex-Fire Commissioner Wells and Chief Murphy of Fitchburg were named a committee to confer with the heads of the railroads and provide for suitable freight rates that the apparatus may be quickly unloaded in event of fires outside of the eight-mile zone, which is the limit now to send help as it has been in times past.

Ex-Fire Commissioner Wells, when interviewed in relation to the new plan for Metropolitan fire protection, said: "While our plans for mutual aid have not been all formulated, and the committee has not yet reported, I feel that I cannot intelligently discuss the progress we have made, but all of us are striving to bring about for the protection of the surrounding cities and towns that which in my opinion will give to the district about Boston the best and largest fire fighting force in the world, even larger than New York.

To Eliminate Confusion.

"We are going to do this at hardly any cost at all, and with the help of the Legislature we hope to perfect the matter. We shall endeavor, therefore, so that we may fire fighting machinery into a fire-infested district without the knowledge as to where it will look up and get to work.

"We have specified the fire fighting forces available, and with proper supervision at fires and a reliable alarm system to notify them at all times, Boston and surrounding towns will be able to cope with any fire that may occur within its borders. The Chelsea fire has demonstrated that a plan must be perfected to have the companies assemble and in time of great conflagrations.

"Under the new plan the engine companies in a number of municipalities will be used will number as high as 86. The intercommunicating between companies will be of the best features of the new plan.

"Each of the companies into a fire ahead of a company in its own territory.

"While I was Commissioner of Fire Boston fire department I was enabled, by the co-operation of some of our surrounding fire chiefs, to protect the property of the city of Boston in sections where I had no fire apparatus, one chief went so far as to place a box beside the Boston box, and orders were given by a sign to pull both boxes in event of fire. This chief generously placed a company at the disposal of the Boston section, and we were able to depend on excellent fire service until the arrival of the Boston department.

Prosperity Signs in Massachusetts

Everett Mills, Lawrence, issue $700,000 additional stock; new plant to be built employing 800 hands.

Contracts awarded for machinery for Sagamore cotton mill No. 3, at Fall River. New Lincoln, Davis and Sagamore mills to add 150,000 spindles and employ 1,500 more hands.

McCallum hosiery works at Northampton to be enlarged at once.

Orford linen mills at North Brookfield to be enlarged at once.

Harding-Whitman interests planning to build a fourth spinning mill at New Bedford, with 75,000 spindles.

Moore Spinning Company of Lowell to double its force of wool sorters.

M. M. Converse Rubber Company to build plant at Malden employing 1,000.

Ground broken for addition to George Mabbett & Sons' woolen mill at Plymouth.

Hudson Worsted Company awards contract for addition to plant.

United Indigo & Chemical Company leases big factory at No. 960 Broadway, Chelsea.

Perfected Self-Lighting Mantle Company of New York takes Myrick Building, Springfield. Will employ 150 workers and make 3,000,000 mantles a year.

$5,000 the Sum Set for Introduction at St. James Court

Newport Social Set Stirred Over Alleged Errand of Lady Auckland.

Newport, R. I., Dec. 28.—The impression reached Newport society today that the recent visit to this country of Lady Auckland was really so much to gratify her desire to observe our customs and manners as it was for business which she is said to have tried to land.

Lady Auckland, it is alleged, wanted to introduce Mrs. George Considine to the Court of St. James for the trifling sum of $5,000, but that lady's husband failed to appreciate the importance of the introduction either to his wife, himself or to his business, even though publicity in the British and American papers was promised.

Mrs. Considine is the wife of one of the famous Considine brothers, who for seven and years have run the Hotel Metropole, at the corner of Forty-second street and Broadway, and who, it is understood, have taken the Albany, inasmuch as the Metropole is to be torn down within a few months to make way for a skyscraper opposite the Times building.

YANKEE NAVY SECOND AMONG WORLD POWERS

Germany Third and France in Fourth Place, Says Pitman Pulsifer.

The American navy stands second among those of the great world powers, according to the navy year book, prepared by Pitman Pulsifer, clerk to the Senate Navy Committee, and received in Boston yesterday. Germany follows third, while France has dropped to fourth place and Japan is fifth.

The year book will show that Great Britain has sixty-one first class battleships with a tonnage of 840,330; the United States thirty-one, with a tonnage of 449,796; Germany thirty-one, with a tonnage of 414,681; France twenty-six, with a tonnage of 357,132, and Japan fifteen, with a tonnage of 253,444.

Including armored cruisers France ranks Germany, her navy being composed of battleships and armored cruisers being 578,364, while that of Germany is only 548,764. The tonnage of United States battleships and armored cruisers is 607,241. That of Great Britain is 1,385,380.

The book says that Japan is doing little in the shipbuilding line, only one ship in course of construction being two battleships.

VANDERBILT XMAS GIFT NEW YACHT CLUB SITE

Commodore Cornelius Deeds $100,000 Property for Addition.

New York, Dec. 26.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, retiring commodore of the New York Yacht Club, will give the club a site for an addition to its palatial house as a Christmas present. It was announced today.

Commodore Vanderbilt paid more than $100,000 for the property at No. 25 West Forty-fourth street, adjoining the clubhouse, which is at Nos. 37 to 41. It is a costly principle that it will give the club site 100x100.

J. Pierpont Morgan gave the site at Nos. 37 to 41 to the club when he was commodore. The clubhouse is too small for the big membership and the addition will be planned at once.

100 EDITORS WILL SEE "A NIGHT IN NEW YORK"

Manager Batcheller, of the Gaiety, Extends Invitation.

Manager George Batcheller of the Casino theatre will entertain a party of about 100 editors of the suburban and New England press next Tuesday afternoon at a performance of "A Night in New York" by the Transatlantic Burlesquers. The invitation is extended largely to give an opportunity to these newspaper men to inspect the handsome new Gaiety.

GREAT XMAS TRADE BRIGHTEST SIGN OF RETURNING PROSPERITY.

Volume Larger Than in Recent Years, Leading Hub Merchants Declare.

BIG ORDERS FOR FACTORIES

The record-breaking Christmas trade done by Boston stores the past week proves that prosperity has returned to Boston.

The heads of the big mercantile houses report that their sales were hundreds of thousands of dollars in excess of those a year ago.

F. H. Macnaue, president of the James A. Houston Company, says:

"We have had the finest Christmas trade ever known on this corner, either in the history of the present management or of the successive concerns that have operated our store. It is correct to say that it has been a record business.

"We found this season that while the average amounts of the sales did not increase materially, the number jumped so that the sum total of the sales was far ahead of previous years.

"In our store in Lynn we have had a very satisfactory holiday trade. It was far better, in proportion, than that of the year as a whole, for during the panic industrial lines, such as the General Electric and the hundred or more shoe concerns felt the depression very much. Since election business has been vastly better there, as well as in Boston.

More New Factories.

Captains of industry all over New England are sending out the same Merry Christmas story. On all sides are heard reports of full resumption of business, and orders are pouring in so fast since election that new factories are being built or planned everywhere.

William Whitman, president of the Arkwright Club, and member of the firm of Harding, Whitman & Co., which employs thousands of cotton and worsted workers all over the East, says:

"There is certainly a great improvement in business, though it cannot come all at once, especially while tariff legislation is pending. Our mills are working with a heavier volume of orders, and there is gain in all lines, I know."

Mr. Whitman was asked if it were true that his company was soon to build a 75,000 spindle cotton mill at New Bedford, where it already operates the big Whitman, Manomet and Nonquit mills.

"That story is premature," he replied. "We are considering the matter, but I cannot say anything decided at the present time."

According to the report from New Bedford, the new plant will be begun early in the Spring and will be opposite the Nonquit mill.

Maiden is to have a big new rubber factory the coming year, giving employment to 1,000 hands. It is to be erected by the M. M. Converse Company, and will be located in Pearl street, in the Edgeworth district.

Boom at Fall River.

Right hundred persons will be employed in the new plant to be reared by the Fore River Mills of Lawrence, $200,000 additional stock having been authorized.

The contracts have been awarded for the machinery of No. 3 Sagamore mill at Fall River. This, with the new Davis and Lincoln mills, will mean 1,500 more workers employed in the city and 150,000 more spindles.

The Perfected Self-Lighting Mantle Company has forsaken New York for Springfield, where it will occupy the Myrick building, employing 150 persons and turning out 3,000,000 mantles a year.

Ground has been broken for an addition to the George Mabbett & Sons' woolen mill at Plymouth.

The Hudson Worsted Company has awarded the contract for an additional building. The Northampton Cotton Mills of Northampton are also to be enlarged at once.

The Moore Spinning Company of Spring field announces that beginning January 1, it will increase its force of wool sorters from thirty to fifty, and that fifty will be kept at work in the future.

The Rockland Co-operative Club has induced the Weiser Brothers to open a shoe factory in that place with 100 hands. The committee on new business announces that the Terhune factory has been secured for new shoe firm, which will occupy it at once. It is said that Fall River capitalists, William M. Hurley of the Hurley Shoe Company are at the head of this company.

QUAKERS SPLIT EARTH ALL OVER MONTANA

Huge Fissures Opened in Ground for Distance of 75 Miles.

Butte, Mont., Dec. 28.—Earthquakes attending from the Yellowstone Park to Virginia City, Mont., a distance of seventy-five miles, have been continuing for five days, but without much damage.

The greatest harm was done in the old town of Virginia City by several shocks. Several buildings were cracked and fissures made in the earth, some of them a foot or two wide.

STATE TREASURER-ELECT MAY REFUSE THE OFFICE

Millionaire Dunn, of Rochester, Balks at Permanent $50,000 Bond.

Albany, Dec. 26.—State Treasurer-elect Dunn of Rochester, a member of the State senate, has decided whether to accept the treasurership or not. Senator Dunn, who is a millionaire, found today that the treasurer of New York State is compelled to give a bond of $50,000, and that the bond is permanent even after the expiration of his term. This situation Mr. Dunn does not like.

Mr. Dunn has not yet taken the oath of office. He intended doing so during the recess he was in Albany, before he learned of this continuing liability.

PROMINENT RUNNERS PULL OFF MARATHON!

Members of Chump Athletic Club, beaten to frazzle, claim foul! Say they were doped! Also charge that heavy articles were tied to their legs! Crowd of sports laugh uproariously as Monopoly champion wins!

GET STATION PLANS AFTER DOZEN YEARS

Work on Handsome New Building at Worcester to Begin in 1909.

Worcester, Dec. 26.—After twelve years agitation, Worcester received today the complete details of construction of a new union railroad station to replace the old, unsightly, inadequate structure which is now in use. The Worcester Terminal Co. of Northampton are also to be enlarged at once.

The Moore Spinning Company of Spring field announces that beginning January 1, it will increase its force of wool sorters from thirty to fifty, and that fifty will be kept at work in the future.

The Rockland Co-operative Club has induced the Weiser Brothers to open a shoe factory in that place with 100 hands. The new shoe firm, which will occupy it at once. It is said that E. and Ingram William M. Hurley of the Hurley Shoe Company are at the head of this company.

QUAKERS SPLIT EARTH ALL OVER MONTANA

Huge Fissures Opened in Ground for Distance of 75 Miles.

Butte, Mont., Dec. 28.—Earthquakes attending from the Yellowstone Park to Virginia City, Mont., a distance of seventy-five miles, have been continuing for five days, but without much damage.

The greatest harm was done in the old town of Virginia City by several shocks. Several buildings were cracked and fissures made in the earth, some of them a foot or two wide.

STATE TREASURER-ELECT MAY REFUSE THE OFFICE

Millionaire Dunn, of Rochester, Balks at Permanent $50,000 Bond.

Albany, Dec. 26.—State Treasurer-elect Dunn of Rochester, a member of the State senate, has decided whether to accept the treasurership or not. Senator Dunn, who is a millionaire, found today that the treasurer of New York State is compelled to give a bond of $50,000, and that the bond is permanent even after the expiration of his term. This situation Mr. Dunn does not like.

Mr. Dunn has not yet taken the oath of office. He intended doing so during the recess he was in Albany, before he learned of this continuing liability.

LIFE MAN'S CHRISTMAS GIFT IS FULL PARDON

Evidence for His Conviction Was Purely Circumstantial.

Topeka, Dec. 28.—Governor Hoch has pardoned John Collins, now serving a life sentence in the Kansas State Penitentiary for the murder of his father, J. S. Collins, a well to do real estate and insurance man of this city, in May 1898. Collins was set free today.

Young Collins was a student at Kansas University at the time of his father's death. He was convicted on the testimony of three negroes, all of it being circumstantial in character.

At the trial the State set up the plea that Collins was in love with Miss Frances Babcock, of Lawrence, Kan.

Needle and Thread Swallowed by Cat Comes Out of Eye

Joy Reigns in Family of Patrolman Wadleigh Over Pet's Recovery.

Joy reigns supreme in the home of Patrolman Henry C. Wadleigh of Charlestown on the recovery of the family pet, a beautiful Angora cat of the Maltese type. About a month ago the feline swallowed a needle to which was attached about seven inches of thread.

The cat showed signs of suffering, and the services of a veterinary was called, but the Wadleigh family feared they would lose their pet.

It was almost certain that the cat would die, and the members of the family, especially the children, were inconsolable. There appeared nothing that they could do to relieve the suffering of their pet. Yesterday Patrolman Wadleigh noticed the feline acting in a strange manner, and that it appeared to suffer from some foreign substance in the right eye. Upon investigation by him a shade object was seen protruding from the corner of the eye, and with a slight effort he succeeded in removing the needle and the seven inches of thread that was attached. The animal is now recovering, but will lose the sight of the right eye.

"FIGHTING BOB" EVANS TO LECTURE IN BOSTON

Will Describe Cruise to Aid Infants' Hospital.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who led the United States battleship squadron around Cape Horn to San Francisco on a record breaking trip, is to speak at Symphony Hall on Tuesday evening, January 12, in behalf of the fund for the Infants' Hospital on Blossom street. He will tell of his personal experience while in command of the great fleet of American warships during the world-famous cruise of the battleships. The lecture is said to be of great local interest in what "Fighting Bob" has to say.

There is nothing quite like the Infants' Hospital in existence. It has been in existence for a quarter of a century and has grown steadily and larger in the scope of its work without being duplicated elsewhere. In its hospital wards children under the age of two years are cared for, while those under twelve are treated as patients.

Funds are now needed for building purposes, and accordingly the plans of those at present occupied by the hospital have been drawn. Harland Medical School at Longwood has been bought and will be fitted up for the new hospital. Equipment is planned in connection with the present hospital.

For New Bank Law.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Senators Aldrich and Teller and Representative Vreeland of New York will meet at the Plaza Hotel in New York city on December 28 as a subcommittee of the National Monetary Commission to consult financial authorities in regard to banking laws.

1909 LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE JAN. 6

Beacon Hill Making Ready for Busy Inaugural Week.

Beacon Hill is getting ready for the 1909 session of the State Legislature. Both branches will convene Wednesday, Jan. 6. A new presiding officer will be elected in each branch. The Republicans have already picked Senator Allen T. Treadway, of Stockbridge, for President of the Senate and Representative Joseph Walker, of Brookline, for Speaker of the House. About half the members in each branch will be new.

The new Governor, Eben S. Draper, and a new Lieutenant-Governor, Louis A. Frothingham, will take the oath of office Thursday, January 7. The inaugural address of Governor-elect Draper will establish a new record for brevity. It is now practically completed.

Rumor at the State House has it that the Draper message will contain a few hard knocks for certain state boards and commissions which have been lavish in their expenditures of the Commonwealth's money.

The Governor-elect has been deluged with suggestions for incorporation in his inaugural message. The liquor question, labor matters, the Boston charter bill, woman suffrage, direct nominations, initiative and referendum and countless other matters are included.

Senators Lodge and Crane will be both elected next year for a full term, to succeed themselves. Representative Gillett has announced that this will every time it has been presented to the Legislature.

Representative Arthur Nason of Haverhill will take a special bill for direct nominations for all State officers except Governor. Organized labor next year will centre its efforts at the State House on three measures, the fifty hour law, peaceful picketing bill, initiative and referendum, and an anti-injunction bill. Representative James H. Mellen of Worcester, a prominent labor man, will offer a bill to provide for industrial education in lower-grade schools.

PROF. GIBBS' NIECE HIS PRINCIPAL HEIR

Miss Elizabeth Lane Benton to Receive a Big Estate.

Newport, Dec. 26.—The will of Professor Oliver Wolcott Gibbs, which was presented for probate in Newport today, gives a portrait of Captain Joseph Anthony, by Stuart, to the Redwood Library if it can hang it properly. If not it goes to the Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia.

Miss Elizabeth Lane Benton, niece of Professor Gibbs, receives all bonds and mortgages and all other property not specially mentioned in the will. Miss Benton is appointed sole executrix without bonds.

TOURISTS AND FAIR BRIDES INVADE THE CAPITOL DURING ADJOURNMENT.

Alfred Henry Lewis Tells of Life at Washington, the "Deserted City."

THE PHILIPPINE PROBLEM

BY ALFRED HENRY LEWIS.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Congress scattered like a flock of blackbirds, the town is deserted; only the heavy footfall of the tourist reechoes through the corridors of the Capitol.

Also, the place is replete of brides and bridegrooms. Perhaps the latter were here all the time, and required a Christmas drawing off of the rich tides of a general humanity to make their presence known. In any event they are here in numbers to rival the locusts of Egypt in their census, and infuriate sour ones like myself by their looks of idiotic joy.

The Fates decreed that I should speak otherwise than in terms of compliment of any lady, but many of the brides, in looks, surely in nowise justify the expression of brainless bliss which manifests in the faces of their mates. They, the bridegrooms, make one think of Josh Billings, where among other matters he set forth in his almanac: "They do say love is blind, but I'm dinged if some men can't see more in their girls than I can."

When the town has exhausted gossip over the probable cabinet makeup of the incoming Taft administration it turns to the strangers within its gates.

Lady Alan Johnston of the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has lately won local attention, not because her husband is the British Minister at King Leopold's court, but because he is the inventor of the fish sandwich.

The "Home" and "Divorce."

Then, too, we have had one William McWilliams of Boston, who speaks mournfully over the decadence of the American taste in tea, and one Professor Ward of Chicago, who spoke scandalously of the increase of divorces in this country.

Professor Ward, who is a feeler rather than a thinker, and considers a Georgia pond in fish, that he is—mentally—a mile wide and an inch deep, compares us to Rome in the decline, and foresees that via the divorce courts, we are going bounding to destruction like a barrel down hill. Likewise he says that 20 per cent of the American marriages result in no children, which is untrue, and that the American race is bound to die out, which is unlikely.

Speaking of the children, as I look about and discover one thousand men starting for golf links to one baby carriage, I think a man should be ashamed to invite children into such a world. Remembering what this life is, as the hog-bunny selfishness of man has made it, I have thought I would favor leaving them undisturbed, unquickened, in the supposedly happy antechambers of time.

And as one who reaches New York's East Side or looks through one of our factory bowels, Fall River, for example, will say the same. Not that I expect such a thought in the regard to meet common acceptance. How, indeed, could it make sheep, geese will still go barefoot.

Death Toll of Toilers.

Professor Ward, in his role of he-Cassandra prophesying the downfall of the American Troy, might profitably divide his excitement over the social disintegration approaching through the crowded avenues of divorce with the actual life and limb destruction of workingmen, because of the daily paralyzing of labor, worse, of employers in refusing to provide for their security.

The figures given out by the Department of Labor and Commerce show that over 24,000 workingmen were killed by accident last year, while something like 2,000,000 were injured, crushed or crippled in this or that manner on the railroads. Deducting 10 per cent by subtract from, if not cancel, their whole future value.

The latter presents quite as great a loss in our communal prospects as any offered by the divorce court. Divorces are made happy by degree; whereas a broken leg is a broken leg.

Would Let Philippines Go.

Blundering about our government, I discovered that the Philippines cost us about $20,000,000 a year more than they ever earn to. Pretty steep price to pay for the privilege of maintaining a highly sensitive tax payer 6,000 miles from home for Japan or somebody else to step on and break up the war.

The Philippines are doubtless a good investment for the Cramps and others of the navy ring who build our battleships for us—at double prices—but are they worth the price? While at the close of the common sense edition, riding at daybreak, I drew rein to the crest of a cross or cutting a hurried, hatless breakfast for the cook, in order to get to the factory before the whistle blows.

Ours the Robber Race.

Besides, what becomes of the Monroe Doctrine? And for myself I do not know that the Philippines than I'd keep a St. Bernard dog. And for precisely the same reason, namely, cost of expense and bites.

No one would have dreamed of owning the Philippines if they hadn't come to us in the way of conquest, and we are the robber race of the world. Ours is the greatest we have been going over the earth, from East to West, from North to South, and on the other, hearts bent on pillage. Since the beginning of history mankind has not to the contrary, every foot of territory it has lived on was stolen ground.

Even now, when the sentiment of prey and shoot has had time to cool, it is in order to find ourselves a quarrel. Are the Philippines worth losing $100,000,000 a year? Nothing of their worth to me, I repeat, unless in the powder magazine of our destruction. Are we to want the Filipino for "fellow citizens"? Or are you inclined to agree with me that we have had enough of our bone and blood and blood and bringing up to make us sick? Are we to be cursed with a parcel of such half-caste black and tans? And if we don't want them as our fellow citizens, in what way do we want them? Not forgetting all the time that, no matter what the solution is that we determine upon, it is to cost us and is costing us $100,000,000 a year.

The alliance is good for the Filipinos? Certainly. But you and I are not Filipinos, and it is wiser and better that we keep both ourselves and our sympathies at our own end of the alley.

Great Tour Contest for Sunday School Teachers Grows in Interest Daily

Many Thousand More Votes Cast for Favorites in Various Districts of Greater Boston During the Week.

WITH Christmas over, voting will be resumed bright and early to-morrow in the big tour contest. Candidates and their friends should not wait until the last day of the week to send in their ballots and SPECIAL BALLOTS, but they should VOTE EARLY.

It is especially important that SPECIAL BALLOTS should be in, when possible, by Wednesday of each week. This will insure the prompt delivery of the Sunday American to new subscribers.

Have you tried voting with a SPECIAL BALLOT yet?

It is the easiest and most satisfactory method. Any man or woman, boy or girl, can cast a SPECIAL BALLOT for any candidate by subscribing to the Sunday American for thirty consecutive Sundays and paying $1.50 in advance for the subscription through the European Tour department.

This SPECIAL BALLOT counts 5,000 votes. Subscriptions may be addressed or sent to the European Tour Editor, and the name of the teacher whom you desire the 5,000 votes credited to and the exact address of the teacher he or she desires the 5,000 votes credited to will be duly credited the moment the subscription is received.

Here is the standing in the contest up to Thursday at 2 p. m.:

DISTRICT NO. 1.
(Milton, Quincy, Hyde Park.)

Mary Thompson, Quincy	174,994
Charlotte Sweeney, Quincy	62,000
Ina M. Liddell, Quincy
Mrs. Mary Hodgdon, Quincy	2,923
Augusta Vidal, Swedish Lutheran Church, Quincy	1,577
Gertrude Spoliett, First Baptist Church, Hyde Park	104
Maria Bell Stearns, Methodist Church, Hyde Park	101
Alice Hayes, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy	68
Carrie Hughes, First Congregational Church, Hyde Park	57
Emil T. Carlson, Swedish Lutheran Church, Quincy	49
Mrs. Rose Bakmas, First Congregational Church, Hyde Park	46
Miss Ingeborg Harriet Johnson, Swedish Lutheran Church, Quincy	45
Ida Hughes, Episcopal Church, Hyde Park	40
Mrs. Annie Mitchell, First Congregational Church, Hyde Park	39
Miss Josephine Anderson, Unitarian Church, Quincy	38
Mrs. F. O. Freeman, Methodist Church, Hyde Park	37
Mary Trumpett, St. Mary's Church, Quincy	29
Mrs. Harold Hutchinson, Baptist Church, Hyde Park	28
Mrs. Fred Pennell, Star Memorial Church, Quincy	27
Maud Sanders, Methodist Church, Hyde Park	26
Mrs. Alice Rankin, Methodist Church, Hyde Park	25
Anna Rotzer, First Baptist Church, Hyde Park	24
Miss Dorothy Dennison, St. John's Church, Hyde Park	23
Mrs. J. H. Herr, Methodist Church, Hyde Park	16

DISTRICT NO. 2.
(Newton and Needham.)

Margaret Hicker, St. Mary's Church, Brookline	34,100
Elizabeth Bingham, First Presbyterian Church, Brookline	27,062
Gertrude Hoss, St. Mary's Church, Brookline	24,500
Matthew McNeilly, Brookline Presbyterian Church, Brookline	14,945
M. Ethel Rose, West Newton Unitarian Church	13,000
Winifred Sawyer, Highlands Congregational Church, Newton	5,477
Mildred McLellan, Centre Methodist Church, Malden	2,824
Jennie Hosier, Melrose Highlands Baptist Church, Melrose	1,298
A. Elwood, Bethany Congregational Church, Malden	790
Winnie Cheswell, St. Joseph's Church, Medford	641
Agnes L. Fernald, West Medford Baptist Church, Medford	458
Mrs. Isabel Henderson, Congregational Church, Medford	400
Mrs. Mary Sacred Heart Church, Malden	400
Mrs. Greenwood, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose	400
Rebecca Brann, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Malden	400
Bertha B. Gardner, Methodist Church, Malden	400
Erna E. Bunker, Universalist Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. Ella Bell, Methodist Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. Ella Bell, Methodist Church, Melrose	400
Bertha Kendall, Melrose Highlands Baptist Church, Melrose	400
Ralph Hopkins, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose	400
Miss Bartholomew, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. A. Giles, Baptist Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. Ella Bell, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. Dawson, Melrose Universalist Church, Melrose	400
Mrs. May Fiske, Congregational Church, Melrose	400
Catherine Hosier, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose	400

DISTRICT NO. 3.
(Waltham, Watertown.)

J. J. Mulchill, St. Mary's church, Waltham	1,126
Nellie E. Turkington, M. E. Church, Waltham	1,000
James M. Clifford, St. Patrick's Church, Waltham	1,000
Mary Magee, St. Patrick's Church, Watertown	282
Annie Bowers, First Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Alice B. Hodge, Immanuel M. E. Church, Waltham	282
Mrs. Hall, Episcopal Church, Waltham	282
Lena L. Pinkham, Baptist Church, Waltham	282
Margaret Kiley, St. Patrick's Church, Waltham	282
Elizabeth Walker, Christ Episcopal Church, Waltham	282
Elizabeth Dennis, Phillips Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Mrs. Fred Chaney, Waterspond	112
Martha Jarvis, First Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Ruth Wilson, Phillips Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Mabel Fox, First Episcopal Church, Waltham	282
Mabel Fox, First Episcopal Church, Waltham	282
Mrs. Harold Hutchinson, Baptist Church, Hyde Park	28
J. W. Pegg, First Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Walter B. Snow, Phillips Congregational Church, Waltham	282
Mrs. C. T. Howard, Unitarian Church, Waltham	282
Mrs. M. Fuller, Phillips Congregational Church, Waltham	282

District No. 4.
(Malden, Melrose.)

Maurice R. Flynn, Sacred Heart Church	2,220
Miss C. E. Lawler, Maplewood Baptist Church, Malden	1,120
Mrs. William Keener, Grace Episcopal Church, Medford	1,000

James F Winston of the Sacred Heart Church, East Boston.

Miss Mollie Elliott of St. Mary's Church, Cambridge.

Ernestine Atwood, Unitarian Church, Melrose | 6,113
Winifred Sawyer, Highlands Congregational Church, Newton | 2,477
Mildred McLellan, Centre Methodist Church, Malden | 2,824
Jennie Hosier, Melrose Highlands Baptist | 1,298
A. Elwood, Bethany Congregational Church, Malden | 790
Winnie Cheswell, St. Joseph's Church, Medford | 641
Agnes L. Fernald, West Medford Baptist Church, Medford | 458
Mrs. Isabel Henderson, Congregational Church, Medford | 400
Mrs. Mary Sacred Heart Church, Malden | 400
Mrs. Greenwood, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose | 400
Rebecca Brann, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Malden | 400
Bertha B. Gardner, Methodist Church, Malden | 400
Erna E. Bunker, Universalist Church, Melrose | 400
Mrs. Ella Bell, Methodist Church, Melrose | 400
Bertha Kendall, Melrose Highlands Baptist Church, Melrose | 400
Ralph Hopkins, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose | 400
Miss Bartholomew, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose | 400
Mrs. A. Giles, Baptist Church, Melrose | 400
Mrs. Ella Bell, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose | 400
Mrs. Dawson, Melrose Universalist Church, Melrose | 400
Mrs. May Fiske, Congregational Church, Melrose | 400
Catherine Hosier, Melrose Congregational Church, Melrose | 400

DISTRICT NO. 5.
(Wakefield, Stoneham.)

Margaret T. Power, St. Patrick's Church, Stoneham	54,065
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Alice O'Rourke, St. Charles Church, Woburn	5,097
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Gladys M. Bean, First Congregational Church, Woburn	4,283
Helen Doland, Trinity Episcopal Church, Woburn	4,282
Catherine Cooney, St. Charles Church, Woburn	4,263
Mrs. H. Hall, Episcopal Church, Woburn	4,263
Isabella Sullivan, Church, Woburn	231
Mrs. Walsh, Unitarian Church, Woburn	231
J. W. Hudson, Swedish Evangelical Church, Woburn	231
Catherine Andrews, Episcopal Church, Woburn	231
Mrs. Walsh, Unitarian Church, Woburn	231
Walter Weir, Methodist Church, Woburn	151
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Mrs. M. Bryant, First Congregational Church, Woburn	60
Mrs. Andrews, Trinity Episcopal Church, Woburn	60
Mrs. Walsh, Unitarian Church, Woburn	231
Mrs. B. Wetherbee, North Congregational Church, Woburn	17
Mrs. G. L. Hutchins, Methodist Church, Woburn	13
Mrs. B. L. Williams, First Baptist Church, Woburn	13
Mrs. W. E. Hosker, First Baptist Church, Woburn	11
Mrs. Stratton, Trinity Episcopal Church, Woburn	11
Mrs. W. E. Hosker, First Baptist Church, Woburn	11
Elsie Lewis, First Baptist Church, Woburn	11
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Holland Copeland, Methodist Church, Woburn	9
William W. Hill, North Congregational Church, Woburn	8
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Catherine Reiser, Unitarian Church, Woburn	8
Mrs. Green, Methodist Church, Woburn	7,091
Mrs. S. Keller, St. Mary's Church, Wakefield	7

DISTRICT NO. 6.
(Everett, Somerville, Chelsea.)

Margaret M. Reid, Church of the Immaculate Conception, Everett	20,220
Mrs. M. Fleet, St. Rose Church, Chelsea	54,000
Mrs. M. Fleet, St. Rose Church, Chelsea	54,000
Miranda Tremont, Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Everett	50,102
Alfred W. Treen, St. Paul's Church, Everett	27,000
Jennie Connell, Mystic Side Congregational Church, Everett	1,925
Mrs. Maud Whitehouse, Glendale Methodist Church, Everett	414
Helen Smith, Methodist Church, Everett	864
Mrs. Elsie Jones, Christ Church, Chelsea	37
Lena Berry, Grace Episcopal Church, Everett	1,000
Rose McLaughlin, Trinity Congregational Church, Everett	1,000
Helen Larrabee, First M. E. Church, Everett	267
Carrie Bruce, Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Everett	267
Chandler W. Whittemore, Orient Heights, East Boston	267
Mrs. Mollie Ellis, St. Mary's Church, Everett	267
Mrs. Edward E. Gerrish, Trinity Congregational Church, Everett	267
Winnie Patterson, Methodist Church, Everett	267
Marion Chase, First M. E. Church, Everett	267
Ethel Archbald, Methodist Church, Everett	267
Mrs. Frank Hunt, Trinity Congregational Church, Everett	267
Mrs. Thompson, Grace Episcopal Church, Everett	267
Mrs. Philip Freer, St. Paul's Church, Everett	267
Mrs. F. J. Coy, Congregational Church, Everett	267

DISTRICT NO. 7.
(Cambridge.)

J. F. Higgins, St. John's Church, North Cambridge	58,973
Mollie Ellis, St. Mary's of the Annunciation, Cambridge	54,065
Grace Pickles, Trinity Methodist Church, Cambridge	58,785
Mrs. Hodgeman, St. John's church, Cambridge	39,420
Leonard Kelly, Blessed Sacrament Church, Cambridgeport	20,000
Mrs. Ida M. Mudd, Salvation Army Corps, Cambridge	2,253
Isabella Woods, St. Andrew's Portuguese Church, Cambridge	1,852
Irene Haworth, St. James's Episcopal Church, Cambridge	505
Nellie Pelham, St. James's Episcopal Church, Cambridge	505
Nellie Morris, Church of St. Mary of the Annunciation, Cambridge	175
Mrs. Gertrude Senton, North Avenue Baptist Church, Cambridge	175
Mrs. Thompson, Church, Cambridge	118
Miss Morrison, North Avenue Congregational Church, Cambridge	105
Mrs. Hall, Episcopal Church, Cambridge	94
Mrs. Ryan, St. John's Church, North Cambridge	88
Mary F. Ryan, Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Cambridgeport	25
Jessie Semmit, Church of St. Mary of the Annunciation, Cambridge	25
Louise Connors, Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Cambridgeport	19
Anna Kelly, All Saints' Church, Roxbury	19
Mary McCarty, Church of the Sacred Heart, Cambridgeport	11

DISTRICT NO. 8.
(Somerville.)

Ella McCollin, Broadway M. E. Church	123,146
Anna Hennessy, St. Catherine's Church, Somerville	101,000
Eva Bancroft, Winter Hill Congregational Church	23,000
Mrs. Bancroft, Winter Hill Congregational Church	23,000
Jean Wilde, First Baptist Church	18,000
Carrie Morrill, M. E. Church	1,000
Elizabeth Weeks, First M. E. Church	148
Mrs. Lucy Baker, Presbyterian Church	132
Ella Carter, West Somerville Baptist Church	132
Marta T. Dolano, First Congregational Church	110
Mrs. Hall, Methodist Episcopal Church	110
Mary Cornell, First M. E. Church	63

HOW TO VOTE

CLIP the ballot from the daily or SUNDAY AMERICAN, fill it out and send it to the European Tour Editor.

—or—

Vote by Special Ballot, thereby sending your favorite teacher ahead by jumps of 5,000 votes at a time.

Mail your ballots, send them by messenger or bring them in yourself.

Vote as often as you like.

John A. Burgess, First Baptist Church | 60
Mrs. Charles Oliver, First Baptist Church | 30
A. W. Mansfield, St. Peter's Church | 30
Mrs. Mary Brown, First Congregational Church | 21
Mrs. Elsie L. Jones, Christ Church, Chelsea | 37
Mrs. H. Barnard, West Somerville Baptist | 34
Mrs. William T. Hill, Broadway Congregational Church | 34

DISTRICT NO. 9.
(Boston.)

Helena Tortorella, Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help	54,963
Annie M. Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury	55,100
Abbassia Simon, Temple Israel Shalom, Boston	55,200
James F. Winston, Sacred Heart Church, East Boston	55,200
Catherine J. Marley, St. Catherine's Church, Dorchester	102,952
Margaret Keaney, St. Peter and Paul's Church, South Boston	78,900
Professor Hill Rigley, First Presbyterian Church, Roxbury	71,000
Mrs. Maloney, St. Peter's Church, Dorchester	55,200
Helen Harrington, Cathedral, Boston	55,200
Eva Sullivan, Cathedral, Boston	18,555
Mrs. Mary Ryan, Church, South Boston	55,200
Lena Owens, St. Mark's Star of the Sea, Boston	12,600
Mary Green, Sacred Heart Church, East Boston	55,200
Marguerite Leighton, St. Peter's Church, Dorchester	212
Anna Veronica Conner, St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury	7,000
Minnie M. Armstrong, St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury	7,000
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Augustine's Church, South Boston	6,000
Celia Walker, Bowdoin Square Tabernacle, Boston	7,000
Mrs. Mahoney, St. Stephen's Sunday School, Boston	6,000
Mary McLaughlin, St. James' Church, Boston	2,250
Mrs. Mary Ryan, St. Peter's Church, Dorchester	2,100
Mary J. Sullivan, St. Augustine's Church, South Boston	2,100
Mary E. MacDonald, First Free Baptist Church, Roxbury	1,000
Nellie Warren, Avenue Baptist Church, Roxbury	1,000
Lillian Jenkins, St. James' Church, Boston	1,000
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Augustine's Church, South Boston	1,000
Florence Shea, Church of the Immaculate Conception, Boston	750
Minnie Flynn, Cathedral, Boston	750
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, South Boston	618
Thomas M. Devlin, Sacred Heart Church, Roxbury	252
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury	252
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury	252
Mrs. Christian, Baptist Church, Roxbury	252
Mrs. Ahern, St. Catherine's Church, Charlestown	210
Mary Ellen Dalton, Church of the Immaculate Conception, Boston	210
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury	210
Catherine Casey, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury	201
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. James' Church, Boston	201
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, South Boston	201
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Francis De Sales' Church, Charlestown	192
Mrs. Mary Sullivan, St. Peter's Church, Roxbury

RIVAL SONG BIRDS FOR GRAND OPERA IN BOSTON.

Mary Garden and Tettrazini Will Be Heard in Famous Roles.

OTHER NOTED ARTISTS

[illegible] have grand opera this [illegible] will bear two great prim[illegible] also [illegible] have started the annual world to its artistic foundations.

These rivals, both stars in the same opera [illegible] are Miss Mary Garden, the Chicago girl of Scotch descent, and Mme. Luisa Tettrazini, the Italian high soprano, who made her debut in New York last January.

In the two weeks' season of grand opera at [illegible] are also to appear Hans [illegible] and Isidore Luckstone, who will give several [illegible] [illegible] is unquestionably now [illegible] Tettrazini, selected her [illegible] has had marked success [illegible] with the [illegible] of the [illegible] Boston.

[illegible] Mary Garden [illegible] the greatest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

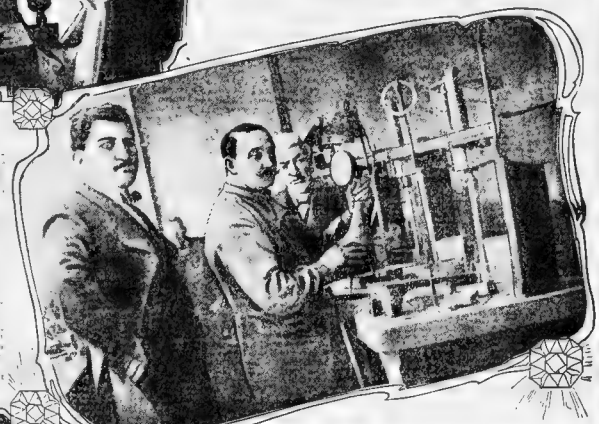
The Tragedy of the Greatest Diamond in the World.

Too Huge to Be Worn as an Ornament, Even By the Vainest Woman---It Is Mercilessly Cut Up Into 100 Sparkling Fragments.

The Original Size and Shape of the Cullinan Diamond.

The Two Parts After Cleaving.

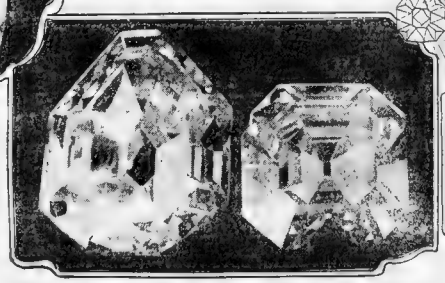
Mr. Asscher Raising His Arm to Drive the Cleaver Through the Big Diamond.

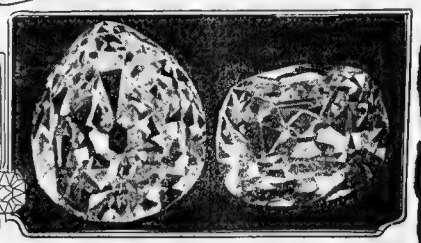


Special Arrangements in the Laboratory of M. Henri Koe fe Polishing the Cullinan Diamond.

The Two Principal Parts After the Preliminary Polishing, and

As the Two Largest Parts Looked After Further Grinding and Polishing.





The Safe in Which the Diamond Was Kept.

Cullinan I. and Cullinan II., Exact Size and Shape as They Now Appear.

Listen to Mabel! The Drug Store Cashier Tells Her Friend About the Artistic Temperament.

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE.

Scene—An EASY TO EAT Restaurant in New York. Time—Lunch Time

POLLY—Do you think it right for one gentleman friend to [illegible]

MABEL—Gee! The [illegible] Are they in the [illegible]

POLLY—No. [illegible]

MABEL—He may [illegible] Mabel. And here is his plan: he hopes of getting it and I suppose, and everything like that.

MABEL—I don't see [illegible] HIM that way doing to [illegible] He is a mere imagination, it means anything [illegible] for him to tell you how sure he is of making good with them.

POLLY—Oh, [illegible] Why, his picture [illegible]

MABEL—[illegible] THAT sort of an artist? I thought you meant a photographer. It would be better for you if he was. THEY make money, too. He gets seven dollars a [illegible]

[illegible] studio building uptown and rooms in his old [illegible]. He learned it off of the inmates of the [illegible]

MABEL—Pooh! I don't think painting pictures can be so much of a [illegible] Mr. Roosevelt would be writing people letters about the right way [illegible] He makes pictures of people, or just of cows and plates with grapes and apples and bananas on 'em?

POLLY—No. He makes pictures of women [illegible] He says they pay better, too, because [illegible] He says he's going to get [illegible]

MABEL—Oh, yes. I know. Them women that is too fool [illegible] a line of colors, as being printed under 'em the [illegible] printed under 'em, only he'd never be able to thing 'em up I'm afraid. You see he has to spend so much time running the el [illegible] he don't have no chance to think much.

MABEL—I think you'd better get another goal I mean [illegible] Art don't pay nothing extra, a gentleman told me so just [illegible]

POLLY—Who was he?

MABEL—He's a snare drummer in a band uptown. He comes into the store to get medicine for his nerves. He says they get all shook up in his business.

POLLY—But a drummer must an artist. He's a musician.

MABEL—Oh, sick, he is. He says he is. He says that anybody can drum right the band would get to going so fast they couldn't catch up with each other, or else go so slow they'd quit altogether. He says there's more art in playing the snare drum than [illegible]

POLLY—But he don't PAINT, does he

MABEL—No, I says, he DON'T PAINT.

POLLY—Look at [illegible] isn't an ARTIST

MABEL—No, I [illegible] Are ANYTHING that every body can't do.

POLLY—Is it being a bearded lady at a circus?

MABEL—No, of course not!

POLLY (triumphantly)—Well, everybody can't do that, can they?

MABEL—No, but that's different. It's all in the d [illegible] operation

POLLY—I'm [illegible]

MABEL—It's [illegible] the temperature.

POLLY—Don't [illegible] got something to do with the Weather Bureau [illegible]

MABEL—No, it is an artistic temperature. That's a great thing to have, and it makes you an artist.

POLLY—What is it like?

MABEL—Well, in the first place you're cross as two sticks [illegible] cross you and them, and say mean things to everybody around you and if you're a man you drink too much.

POLLY—And get hated for it, of course.

MABEL—Oh, no, you don't. They respect you because they know it's all temperature.

POLLY—And what else do you do?

MABEL—Well sometimes you have [illegible] and not a [illegible] whichever you happen to be, and you sit and gaze into nothing hour by hour, and then write or paint or play the drum, according to what you are, and divine. And people just get CRAZY about you.

POLLY—I should think they'd have you ARRESTED.

MABEL—Not if you've got the artistic temperature. But it's bad for your wife, all right. So just don't let your gentleman friend have any encouragement, or you'll wish you'd married a man that didn't know nothing but running elevators. The drummer sort of proposed to me one day.

POLLY (eagerly)—Did he? What did he say?

MABEL—He said him and me was two souls attuned, like two [illegible] and that we'd make life's symphony one grand sweet song without a false beat or an inharmonious measure.

POLLY—And what did you say?

MABEL—I said, "Aw, forget it!"

"LITTLE PETER—Did your grandfather give away all his things when he died?
"JOHN — No. But when we come back from the funeral, Todor, my elder brother, pocketed his gold watch for a souvenir of him."

LITTLE PETER

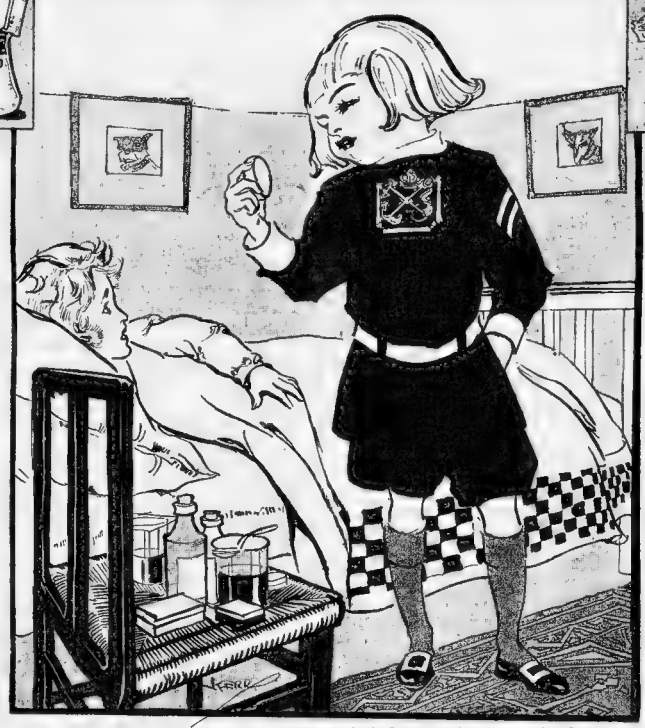
A PATHETIC TALE OF CHILD LIFE

BY FERENCZ MOLNAR AUTHOR OF THE DEVIL

"JOHN — At the doorway some poor people were standing and father gave me some money to give to them.
"LITTLE PETER—Did you give it to them?
"JOHN—Sure. You think that I could keep it?"

Translated from the Original Hungarian by Eugene Lucas.

Copyright, 1908, by American Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved



"JOHN (goes to the bed; in a low voice)—You Little Peter, you know what the doctor says. The doctor says that you will die.
"LITTLE PETER—So help you God?
"JOHN—So help me God. He said that you will die. Little Peter, give me this little round copper box which can be screwe dout. (Shows the box.)"

IT is evening of a day in Winter. Little Peter is lying in his bed, flushed with the fever that goes with the last stage of consumption. His father and mother have just gone from the room with a physician. The doctor, examinat on has exhausted the child, who is resting languidly on his pillow gazing at the ceiling. From the next room a low-voiced conversation is heard. The physician is talking, little Peter's mother is sobbing. Presently the other door is opened silently and John, Peter's small cousin, puts his head in.

JOHN, Little Peter!

LITTLE PETER—Is that you, John? Come in!

JOHN (goes to the bed; in a low voice)—You Little Peter, you know what the doctor says? The doctor says that you will die.

LITTLE PETER—So help you God?

JOHN—So help me God. He said that you will die. Little Peter, give me this little round copper box which can be screwed out (shows the box.)

LITTLE PETER—No. I can't give you that. But I give you the mouth organ.

JOHN—Why can't you give it to me? When you die it is just the same for you.

LITTLE PETER—And I still cannot give it to you, for I need it. (After thinking awhile.) I won't die.

JOHN (who wants to get the round "copper")—But the doctor just said it, and your mamma sobbed bitterly.

LITTLE PETER—My mamma sobbed, really?

JOHN—Of course she sobbed, your father sobbed, too, only the doctor did not. Give me the copper. You found it, anyhow.

LITTLE PETER—If I found it, it is mine just the same. (Calmly.) What is that—to die, John?

JOHN—I only imagine what it is. (Proudly.) Last year my grandpa died.

LITTLE PETER—Tell it to me.

JOHN—But this is different, for my grandpa was very old already. He couldn't walk, he had to be pushed in a chair, which had wheels, and the wheels could be screwed down.

LITTLE PETER—And did the chair have legs?

JOHN—It had legs and also wheels. When the wheels were screwed down it stood on the legs.

(Short Pause.)

LITTLE PETER—Such a chair must be rather expensive.

JOHN—And then grandpa went to bed and doctors came to him every day. But only mamma wept.

LITTLE PETER—And your father?

JOHN (cleverly)—He was only mamma's father.

LITTLE PETER—And then?

JOHN—And then at night, when we slept, the old man died. Four horses were put to the funeral wagon. But first they put him into a casket and lit candles. There were six candles. They were very tall candles. I never saw such tall ones before. And yet there was not enough light. I don't know why they didn't light the gas.

LITTLE PETER—You have gas? We have electric light.

JOHN—And messengers brought wreaths. When a wreath came mamma sobbed. Father always gave some change to the messenger.

LITTLE PETER. How much did he give?

JOHN—I don't know, maybe twenty or thirty—my father has more money than yours.

LITTLE PETER—That's a lie.

JOHN—Well, how much money has your father got? My father is a travelling salesman. He always has to travel. You think that one can travel on the road for nothing? Your father is a lawyer; he is always at home.

(Short Pause.)

LITTLE PETER—And then what did they do with your grandpa?

JOHN—They put him into the wagon.

LITTLE PETER—Did you cry?

JOHN—Me? No. Mamma sobbed, and always said, Look John, there they go with grandpa, dear old grandpa, to the cemetery." But father didn't let her speak. He pulled her away. At the door way some poor people were standing and father gave me some money to give to them.

LITTLE PETER—Did you give it to them?

JOHN—Sure. You think that I could keep it?

LITTLE PETER—Not even one penny?

JOHN—Not a penny. And then we got into a carriage and rode all day. The cemetery was very far away. It was near by the railroad.

LITTLE PETER—Did [illegible] big feathers.

JOHN—Sure. On the [illegible]. The feathers [illegible].

LITTLE PETER—[illegible] impossible, the horses would [illegible].

JOHN—What are you talking about? You [illegible] never seen a funeral. It was only feathers as the Hungarians used to have, but only a little bigger [illegible] stood up straight.

LITTLE PETER—But that's impossible. It couldn't grow into the horses' hair.

JOHN—Surely. They always moved their heads, because the feathers hurt them. They didn't grow clear through, just a little bit, only to be fastened.

LITTLE PETER—And what did they do with your grandpa?

JOHN—I looked at the horses, the coachman had a black soldier's uniform.

LITTLE PETER (interested)—Did he have a whip?

JOHN—Sure thing he had. It was as long as from here to the closet. But he didn't hit the horses with it. I only saw that they lowered the casket into the grave. The digging of such a grave is hard work, it is very deep. And then they dropped the earth on it.

LITTLE PETER—And then?

JOHN—And then it was raining awfully and I had to go into the carriage. I didn't see anything more.

LITTLE PETER—Why, then your grandpa became wet.

JOHN—He couldn't be wet, because he was in the casket.

LITTLE PETER—What is a casket made of?

JOHN—Of copper—give me this round copper.

LITTLE PETER—Now you won't get it at all. If you didn't ask for it you might get it.

JOHN—Well, I don't ask for it.

LITTLE PETER—I don't give it, either. Leave me alone with this copper. I said already that I need it. Did your grandfather give away all his things when he died?

JOHN—No. But when we come back from the funeral, Todor, my elder brother, pocketed his gold watch for a souvenir of him. A man took his ring away. He came from Kolozsvar to attend the funeral.

LITTLE PETER—And what happened then?

JOHN—Then there was nothing. They opened the windows and burned some brimstone in the room where grandpa died. It had such a strong smell that we almost choked.

LITTLE PETER—And then?

JOHN—You think that it lasts forever? Then there was nothing.

LITTLE PETER—And your grandpa?

JOHN—My grandpa remained there [illegible]. He will stay there forty years.

LITTLE PETER—Why?

JOHN—I don't know. Father said that we have to take him to the new cemetery. They will have poor grandpa there forty years.

LITTLE PETER—And in the old one?

JOHN—There he rises sooner from the dead. But father said there it is much more expensive.

LITTLE PETER—My father can afford that; we have some money in the bank.

JOHN—Now I must go, because my teacher is coming.

He stops in the middle of the room and does not dare to ask again for the round "copper". He waits a while, looking into the corner where his playthings are scattered about. Little Peter is sitting in his bed with a serious countenance. He is more feverish than ever. His eyes are very bright. He begins to bite his nails; he is thinking deeply about something.

LITTLE PETER (after a long pause)—John, I don't believe that those feathers grow into the heads of the horses.

My Compliment—by Lilian Bell

A Holiday Episode—With a Moral.

WHAT is your favorite form of flattery?

It isn't often that I admit publicly that I am weak on the subject of a well-turned compliment, but the other day I overheard one not intended for my ears which was so unexpected, and so undeserved that I have thought a great deal about it since.

It happened in this wise.

As I always read paragraphs in which editors have taken pen in hand to warn women to do their Christmas shopping early—both early in the month and early in the day—it was with the guilty mien of a cat on her way to the pantry that I stole into a large toy department after 5 o'clock, just before Christmas—not to make a fresh purchase, mind you, but to exchange an elaborate toy for a simpler one, because I have a hobby just at present of encouraging the children to whom I play Santa Claus to be satisfied with an interesting toy rather than an expensive and useless one.

So my manner was apologetic to begin with.

I said to the girl: "I'm awfully sorry to come in so late, but I have little time to shop, and I want to exchange this for something else if you allow it."

She said that would be all right, and we began to look. But her tired face appealed to me, and, feeling my guilt still more deeply, I said: "You sit down and rest and let me look. When I have found something, I will bring it to you."

So I prowled around until I had satisfied myself, then I handed her up and we made the exchange.

She said, "Shall I send it?"

"No," I answered, "it is so near Christmas, your wagons are all crowded. I'll carry it."

When she brought me the package, I said, "Thank you very much for making the exchange so pleasantly."

I turned away from her smiling rejoinder and just caught the impulsive words:

"Ain't she nice?"

Well, well! I have in my day and generation gathered in my share of taffy, but seldom have the cockles of my heart been so warmed as by that quick exclamation.

"Ain't she nice?"

If I had been that cat I spoke of, I'd have curled up right where I was, tucked my paws under me and purred for an hour.

"Ain't she nice!"

After all isn't that the best thing your friends can say about you? I know some women would prefer to be called fascinating, but fascination palls. Some care to be called beautiful. Most of the beauties so attend to that. Many would care more for the word graceful. Rheumatism would soon attend to that. Many would care more to be considered witty than to be assured of eternal salvation. Little do these know the wounds a clever woman unconsciously inflicts, often in the hearts of those she loves best. Others like to be known as "a good fellow," and not a few women cherish the hope of being permanently classed among the "good sports."

Ex-Senator Stewart, of Nevada, an extremely rich man, wears a beautiful, long, white beard, and in Washington the other day a man approached him—not knowing who he was—and offered him fifty dollars a week to dress as Santa Claus and sit in his show-window four hours a day and do nothing but smile at the children.

The Senator was delighted with the offer and took it as a great compliment that he radiated such kindliness as to be accepted as a commercial proposition to represent to children their most fondly loved benefactor.

That was his compliment.

As for me, I'll take this one—"Ain't she nice?"

To be sure, we Americans have diverted that word "nice" from its original meaning. When once meant exclusive, fine in the sense of discriminating, such as "a nice distinction," a nice sense of literary values," etc. And our perversion of it sometimes annoys an English purist. It is an old retort, but a good one, which the American girl made to the Englishman who said, "I think your word 'nice' is such a nasty word," when she said, "Well, do you think your word 'nasty' is a nice word?"

Nice, as we use it, means so much, and, furthermore, it has no exact synonym. If you say of a friend, "She is a thoroughly nice woman," you have implied that she has several attributes which most people admire. It includes refinement, thinks habits of person and thought, consideration for others, a certain degree of unselfishness, an agreeable personality, some sort of social qualification, a modicum of intelligence, the divine gift of sympathy. To be sure, beauty is not included in a definition of the word "nice." But have you ever stopped to think how seldom beautiful women are what we consider "nice"? In our admiration for beauty, especially in a woman, we at once proceed, by injudicious adulation, to destroy whatever chances the unfortunate beauty possessed of staying "nice," if she started out that way, or of becoming nice, even if her ambition pointed in that direction.

I once knew such a pretty little girl, who was continually hearing people tell her what a beauty she was. As I happen to loathe conceit in children above every other fault every chance I got was that child I taught her that when she pouted or frowned or did a selfish or unkind act her face changed so that nobody could call her pretty. She gradually came to believe that beauty meant loveliness, and then that it meant love itself, so that now she fears that if she loses love she will lose her beauty.

I am quite satisfied with the result. Have you not seen beauty disintegrate through all sorts of self-indulgence and bad temper, and the best love in the world worn out by a so-called beautiful woman?

Now, the little shopgirl who was the innocent cause of these pearls of thought on my part has probably never thought at all as to the meaning of any word whatsoever. She just tossed off a casual impression, and it fell on fertile soil, and lo! a banyan tree is the result, beneath which she may sit and rest herself.

Very likely she would deny that she meant all that I have proceeded to extract from her exclamation. If I should confront her with it, she would probably say:

"Ah, gwan! Wot I say 'Ain't she nice?' I only mean wot I say—'Ain't she nice?' And that's all!" See?"

STOKES' PLUTOCRAT SOCIALISM MAY CAUSE STRIFE IN RANKS.

Rich New Yorker and Wife Preach Personal Enjoyment of All the Individual Creates.

RESENT ELIOT'S CRITICISM

Shiftless and Thrifty Need N Share All Property in Common. Say the Stokes

By GEORGE H. GORDON.

If the Socialists with J. G. Phelps Stokes of New York and his brilliant young wife, who was Rose Pastor, the cigarmaker in the sweet shops of Cleveland, have been preaching in Boston during the last week doesn't create a sensation, if not a split, in the ranks of the so-called party members, I shall be surprised.

A Socialism with its charge of the present order of private ownership of property and the abolishment of profits, as Mr. Stokes states, that was given to some Socialists in this city in the words of an old parent that "if the money, while others will have one hundred. It seemed to me, as I listened to the many members of the Socialist party in the Twentieth century club, made up of the largest part of manufacturers, college professors, merchants, students, mechanics and laborers, that there were generous applause.

"Socialism Not So Bad."

And my experience with Socialists is one that when men of this class applaud party members usually look around for a waiter to shout at him who makes the impeachment.

"Is that Socialism? Well I never heard it put like that before! That's not so bad after all, though." Or, "I'm a property owner, but I'm a Socialist, in place to maintain the rights of private property in everything except land, and for that it can be owned by all." Even Upton Sinclair, the muckraker, who is said to be to make his home on the Scottish heather.

There are only a few of the smaller Socialist speeches of Stokes' and Rose Pastor's John Graham Brooks, Professor Commons of Indiana and President Eliot, Mr. Wentworth and others discussed the theories of Karl Marx. It was what Stokes said, that interested most, that the wife of the president of Harvard created a "breach" with the evangelical wing of the Orthodox bloc of heaven which proclaimed he did not want to see heaven on earth or anywhere else as the Socialists believe.

I have heard many Socialists but I never before understood it as Mr. Stokes presents it, and wondered if he was entirely in the right position that all of the dreams of Utopia and Hadley's thing accomplished, even if there was private ownership in a great many of things.

Mr. Stokes resisted disposed of the belief that, under the present system, all must share alike, shiftless and thrifty, producer and consumer, the lion and the lamb.

I decided to ask Mr. Stokes if he "still" became interested in his subject, and I am quite sure that many Socialist party members now hold that view of the Socialist ideal, and does not fear to be his party leaders for election.

I found him and Mrs. Stokes at breakfast in the Adams house, democratic simplicity they were enjoying a meal of corn cake and coffee which tasted a dollar for both.

"Doesn't Want Heaven."

Both looked that I should join them, but I contented myself with adopting Mr. Stokes's suggestion of pulling over my chair and sitting while I finished their meal. They asked me what I had on the night of President Eliot's anti-social at the night before, in which he deprecated the possibility of what would was too much like the orthodox idea of [illegible] places where [illegible] rest, peace, absence of [illegible] struggle, all [illegible] ambition as seem understood.

That statement brought to rouse every fighting [illegible] Mrs. Stokes, her great lip curled straight across her face. "Did you ever hear of such a thing, and from the president of a great institution, too, university [illegible] doesn't want heaven as [illegible] he had our experience, [illegible] injustice and poverty on the present system as we have, it would be [illegible] and struggle and welcome peace, blissful peace.

"It was not only quite remarkable in itself," added Mr. Stokes, but it was not more strange than the way in which it was received. The audience [illegible] very intelligent one, saw it as we do, and that idea was received in [illegible] laughter."

Much has been said and written about Rose Pastor Stokes and her husband [illegible] is different to divorce proceedings [illegible] from half an hours talk with them. Mrs. Stokes has been married [illegible] times and never twice alike. She has been married as a gentile, a Jew and then through all degrees down. Some [illegible] state that the strongest [illegible] "homely." Mrs. Stokes has [illegible] what not been referred to as her husband, and strange tales of [illegible] have spread a pall over [illegible] among it, while thousands [illegible] advice by letter and [illegible] it must spend [illegible] life [illegible].

Mrs. Stokes has [illegible] wonderful, big [illegible] her hair. If one [illegible] great big pile of [illegible] like hers a few [illegible] a few moments [illegible] faction that [illegible] young women [illegible] display of hair, extraordinary [illegible] every possible [illegible] a question of [illegible] connected, [illegible]

Never Weary of Work.

It seemed [illegible] that both ladies [illegible] described with [illegible] suggestions as [illegible] aries. [illegible] suggested to Mr. [illegible] when I stood [illegible] of [illegible] his chosen [illegible] going over [illegible] fairs. If [illegible] pioneer [illegible] "If [illegible] the [illegible] said, "that [illegible] We know [illegible] We can see [illegible] around us, [illegible] serve us gladly [illegible] an equivalent."

Mrs. Stokes [illegible] woman of refinement [illegible] in good taste [illegible] might attract [illegible] she does [illegible] be too many [illegible] but just [illegible] out of [illegible] she has not [illegible] of the days [illegible] are her own [illegible] last jewel she [illegible] equity to say [illegible] New York [illegible]

Stokes is [illegible] and [illegible] hands with you you are aware that you [illegible] with a mas among men. There [illegible] magnetism [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

KEITH'S

"THE BEST VAUDEVILLE—IN THE PAST, AT PRESENT, AND IN THE FUTURE"

CONCERT TONIGHT AT 8

THE PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE

NAT M. WILLS

LuBa McIntyre — Clark and Bergman — Excerpts from "A Night at the Country Club" — Mr. and Mrs. Emmett — The Kinetograph — Pearl and Tosco — Jones and Mayo

Prices 75c, 50c, 35c, 25c — Doors Open at 7:30

Tickets on Sale at the Washington Street Box Office from 2 P. M. Tremont Street Box Office Opens at 6 P. M.

WEEK COMMENCING MONDAY, DECEMBER 28

Boston's Best Holiday Bill—The Children's Paradise

House Opens at 1:30 P. M. Performance Continuous Until 10:30 P. M.

A Man Whose Name Is a Synonym for Merriment

CLAUDE GILLINGWATER

And His Capable Company of Farceurs, Producing His Own Comedy Sketch "A Strenuous Rehearsal"

"The Queen of Eccentricities" — He Hails from the Hub

MAUDE WULFF — WILL H. MACART

Presenting the Greatest Exhibition of Homewoundship Ever Shown — An Up-to-Date Monologue Delivered in an Up-to-Date Manner

The Apex of Animal Acts

PROF. EDWARD WULFF AND HIS FRIENDS

A Mole, a Pony, a St. Bernard Dog, a Siberian Hound and Several Smaller Dogs in a Series of Surprises

(The acts presented by Prof. Wulff and Maude Wulff were the leading features at the New York Hippodrome last season)

An Actual Sensation — A Sure Fire Hit

WILLY PANTZER AND HIS MIDGET MARVELS — LULU McCONNELL AND GRANT SIMPSON

Record and Final Week of Vaudeville's Most Remarkable Acrobatic Feature — In Lester Longman's Scrip and Snappy Comedietta, "A Storm Hour"

"The Conjurer of Quality" — "The Coon and the Chink"

LEIPZIG — He Has No Superior as a Mysterious Manipulator — COOK AND STEVENS — There Is No Better Team of Colored Comedians

Two Extremely Slick Steppers and a Very Smooth Pianist

JOHN AND BERTHA GLEESON AND FRED HOULIHAN

A Dancing Act That Is Really Worth While

"The Irish Athletes" — "The American Japs"

WOOD BROTHERS — They Excel as Ring Performers — YOUNA AND WARDELL — Decidedly Expert in Juggling Feats

THE KINETOGRAPH Will Show the Latest Scenic and Comic Motion Pictures. This Week's List Will Include "The American Fleet in Australia" and "The Doctor's Substitute."

ALL SEATS In the Orchestra and First Balcony Are Sold Reserved, and Can Be Secured One Week in Advance at the Advance Sale Box Office, Washington Street Entrance. This Office Is Open at 9 A. M. Second Balcony Not Reserved.

MAIL ORDERS Should Be Addressed "Advance Sale Office, Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass." Only in the Form of Post Office or Express Money Orders Payable to the Order of Tom Corbett, Jr., Will Be Accepted. Stamps Should Be Addressed Envelope For Return of Tickets. Must Accompany All Mail Orders.

ORPHEUM

TUNNEL TO DOOR AT SUMMER—WINTER STS.

Daily Matinees 15c and 25c — WEEK OF DEC. 28 — Every Evening 15c to 50c

★★★A Magnificent All-Star Bill★★★

Comedy — LAUGHS LAUGHS LAUGHS — Dancing — The Four Mortons — Clowned Family of Entertainers in the World in a Brand New Dancing Novelty

Dramatic — Annie Yeamans — "The Grand Old Lady of the Stage" In Her Classic Character Monologue

Glimpses of the Under World — Junie McCree & Co. — In an Clever Sketch, "The Man From Denver"

JOE FLYNN — "The Man With the Book" — Proverbs that Solomon never heard of

Evans Jones and Gracyn Whitehouse — Music and Song — Four Corners — Clever Pianist

Kelly & Katlin — Elverton — Variety and Novelty — "In Contrasts and Each Their Own" — The Spinning Marvel

4--GREAT BARD BROS.--4

The World's Greatest Acrobatic and Originators of Hand Balancing Feats

The Young American Quintet — With Man's Voices — The Morriscope — New Series of Pictures

ABSOLUTELY THE STRONGEST BILL OF THE SEASON

TO-NIGHT BIG CONCERT TO-NIGHT

10—BIG FEATURES—10 Prices 25c & 50c

Sunday Concert Tonight

AUSTIN and STONE'S MUSEUM

SCOLLAY SQ., TREMONT ROW

GO WHERE EVERYBODY GOES

The Past Week Has Been a Real Hot Week

PACKED TO THE DOORS ALL WEEK TO SEE

THE OSSIFIED MAN AND LIBBERA

LIBBERA

A Wonderful Young Lady of Mystery Just 21 Years Young. Weighs 20 Pounds

POSITIVELY HIS LAST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA

SIX DAYS MORE TO SEE

The OSSIFIED MAN

He is a Living Being, Not a Mummy. Most Interesting Man Ever Exhibited

TOM MITCHELL

Champion Automatic Tile of Boston

MARIE MIDLAND'S EDUCATED BIRDS

MANHATTAN GIRLS

In for the Week as a Going to Stay

THE BEST SHOW IN BOSTON

10c—ADMISSION—10c

Big Sunday Concert Tonight

Bowdoin Sq. Theatre

One minute's walk to the theatre from the Hay Market Square Station of the Tremont Street Subway and Elevated. Boarding Motor Matrons at the service of ladies and escorts there after the usual Naval Drama.

THE WHITE SQUADRON

A careful and realistic production of a naval subject. Interesting to all classes.

LATEST MOVING PICTURES DAILY.

1:30 to 2, 7:30 to 8, and between acts.

Next Week: In the Name of the Czar.

SUNDAY CONCERT TONIGHT AT 7

Popular Prices 10c and 20c

COLUMBIA

WORLD'S HANDSOMEST BURLESQUE THEATRE

Tel. 96 Tremont — SMOKING

TUESDAY NIGHT

FRIDAY NIGHT

Burlesque at Its Zenith

BIG REVIEW

—PRESENTING—

"Frivolities of 1918"

PRETTIEST GIRLS—JOLLIEST COMEDIANS

WILLOUGHBY vs. JOHN PERELLI

10c Bargain Matinees 10c Ladies Every Day Except Saturday

Sportsmen's Show Patrons

Rich's Souvenir Cards

AT EXHIBIT OF

National Sportsman

(HEAD CAMP)

ALWAYS SOMETHING DOING FROM 1 TILL ELEVEN

AT THE OLD HOWARD THIS WEEK

BOSTON'S BRIGHTEST, BIGGEST AND BEST BURLESQUES

IT

SMOKING ALLOWED

SAM T. JACK'S

BURLESQUERS

Happy Highflyers

South Boston Night Wednesday

Also the Old

HOWARD Frivolous Fashionists

Tonight at 7—Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs

General Admission 10 Cents. Reserved Orchestra Seats 10 Cents Extra

It's Your Money's Worth Every Time at the Old

A'ways Something Doing from 1 till 11 at the Old HOWARD

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE

CHAS. FROHMAN, RICH & HARRIS, Lessees and Managers.

FINAL FAREWELL WEEK

ONLY 6 MORE NIGHT PERFORMANCES AT 8 — 2 MORE MATINEES WED. AND SAT. AT 2

The Play that Grips and Holds You from the Rise of the First Curtain to "Home Sweet Home."

HENRY B. HARRIS Presents

THE THIRD DEGREE

BY CHARLES KLEIN

PRICES 35-50-75-1.00-1.50

Mon. Jan. 4. Two Weeks Only — MATINEES Wed. and Sat. — Seat Sale Tuesday

CHARLES FROHMAN Presents

JOHN DREW In His Latest and Greatest Comedy Success JACK STRAW

TREMONT THEATRE

Tom B. Rowell, Pres. & Mgr. — EVENINGS AT 8 O'CLOCK — MATS. WED. and SAT. AT 2 — Direction Chas. Frohman & Wm. Harris

TOMORROW NIGHT AT 8 SHARP

ZIEGFELD'S LATEST MUSICAL REVUE

FOLLIES OF 1908

STAGED BY JULIAN MITCHELL

With the Most Eminent Cast Ever Offered in a Musical Organization

GEORGE BICKEL and HARRY WATSON, Jr.

ARTHUR DEAGON—JACK NORWORTH—BILLY REEVES—ANNABELLE WHITFORD—GRACE LEIGH—WM. SCHROUD—SEYMOUR BROWN—WM. POWERS and DAZIE.

SPECIALLY ENGAGED FEATURES — NORA BAYES — THE BRINKLEY — THE TANGUAY — THE MOSQUITO — THE DRUMMER — THE NAUGHTY — THE HOOSIER — GIRLS

SEE

PRICES - - - - 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50

MAJESTIC

MATINEE WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY

First curtain rises promptly at 2:30 and patrons seated during first act only.

LAST 4 TIMES BEGINNING TO-MORROW NIGHT

JULIA MARLOWE

PRESENTING A DRAMA OF THE FRENCH REVOLUTION

THE GODDESS OF REASON

By BRET JOHNSTON

Author of "To Have and to Hold" and "Lovers Road"

MONDAY, Jan. 4 TWO WEEKS ONLY

FIRST TIME IN BOSTON

GIRLS

GIRLS CLYDE FITCH'S GREATEST COMEDY GIRLS

GIRLS

AS PLAYED 225 TIMES AT DALY'S THEATRE, NEW YORK, WITH THE ORIGINAL CAST AND PRODUCTION

SEATS THURSDAY

PRICES 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50

TONIGHT ALL STAR CONCERT

STUART BARNES With His Pocket Drama

REMICK FOUR Popular Singers

OSCAR LORAINE Piano Virtuoso

DAISY PELLETIER The Classic Comedienne

MAJESTICOPE

BUCKNER COMEDY 4 Musical Novelty

AVON COMEDY 4 Fun Real Funny

THE CHASSINS Cleverly Comedians

DEAN & WASHBURN Vaudeville

POPULAR PRICES 25-50

This Is My Birthday

"These pants were wished on me."

PARK THEATRE

Chas. Frohman, Rich & Harris Lessees and Managers

Extra Mat. This Week Wed., Dec. 30

The Great Show for the Holidays

CLEAN FUN, MUSIC and DAINTY DANCING

Charles Frohman Presents

FRANK DANIELS

In the Dutch Musical Incident

Hook of Holland

Grand Opera House

Few Doors Above Dover St. "L" Station. Telephone 1109 Tremont

STAIR & WILBUR and MAGLE, Proprietors. GEORGE W. MAGLE, Manager.

Evenings at 8. Family Circle 20c. Balcony 35c, 50c. Orchestra 35c, 50c, 75c

MATINEES Tues., Thurs., Sat. at 2 1500 RESERVED SEATS at 25c

CHILDREN under 14: Family Circle 10c; Balcony and Orchestra 15c

Klimt & Gazzolo's Melodramatic Hit

An American Play — THE MONTANA LIMITED — Pure and Wholesome

An Entirely New and Original Theme, During in Conception. A Strong Human Story Full of Fascinating Pictures of Western Life.

AMATEURS EVERY FRIDAY NIGHT—CASH PRIZES "No Nook" No Rough House Allowed

Those Wishing to Appear Leave Names at Box Office.

NEXT WEEK "THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN EXPRESS"

PROVIDENCE JOY LINE

$2.40 TO NEW YORK Via Rail and Boat. DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY

Ticket Office, 214 Washington St.

STAR — 5 TREMONT ROW SCOLLAY SQ. — EXCLUSIVE PROGRAM OF MOVING PICTURES AND ILLUSTRATED SONGS — Admission 10c All Seats Free

NEW YEAR'S EXCURSION

MONTREAL and return $10.65

QUEBEC and return $12.10

Tickets good to leave Dec. 30th and 31st, Jan. 1 and 2d. For return until Jan. 5th. For particulars address

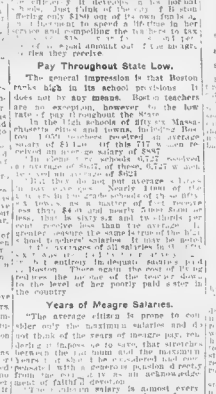
GEO. E. MARSTERS, N. E. P. A.

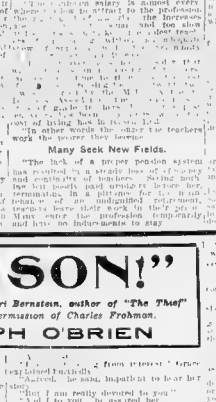
RUTLAND RAILROAD

295 Washington St., Boston.

BOSTON TEACHERS ASK FOR REAL PENSION SYSTEM.

SOME THINGS WILL BE SEEN WHEN THE NEW TRAFFIC RULES GO INTO EFFECT





Increases Efficiency.

Fund Provisions Unfair.

"The fund does not treat teachers fairly," he said, "although they are compelled to support it during their career.

"For instance, supposing a teacher has served the full period of thirty years and in stepping gets tod and she wants to retire

Pay Throughout State Low.

"The general impression is that Boston ranks high in its school provisions. It does not by any means. Boston teachers are the exception, however, in the low rate of pay throughout the State.

Objects to Compulsion.

Means Cut in Salaries.

Years of Meagre Salaries.

"The charge often is made by outsider only the maximum salaries and do not think of the years of meagre pay, re-

Many Seek New Fields.

"The lack of a proper pension system has resulted in a steady loss of efficient and experienced teachers. In the last few months [illegible] have left the service. Many enter the professions temporarily [illegible] and have no intention of [illegible]

Public Cabmen.

NEW TRAFFIC LAWS FOR HUB STREETS

Regulations to Remedy Congestion in Force Throughfares in Effect Friday.

"One-Way" Streets.

Wigwagging, as in London.

Among the Firemen

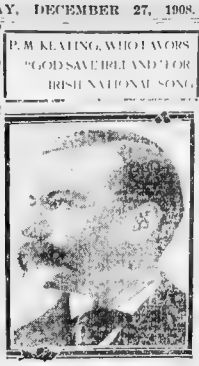
'GOD SAVE IRELAND,' AS ERIN'S ANTHEM

Patrick M. Keating Declares This Should Be National Song to Honor Martyrs.

Prominent Irishmen in Boston are showing deep interest in the question "What shall be the national anthem of Ireland?" Patrick M. Keating says it should be "God save Ireland." Tim Healy says it should be "The Wearing of the Green," and Justin McCarthy says it should be "A Nation Once Again." Each has given his reasons for his choice. Mr. Keating's reasons are given in the following article.

BY PATRICK M. KEATING.

P. M. KEATING, WHO FAVORS "GOD SAVE IRELAND" FOR IRISH NATIONAL SONG



GOD, SAVE IRELAND

Words by [illegible]
"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp the Boys are Marching."

[illegible]

Then [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[

What Big Fight Result Means to Pugilism

Sunday
December 27, 1908

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

Sporting and Automobiles

John L. Sullivan Says:

JACK JOHNSON has walloped Tom[illegible] my Burns for fair and the fistic world for the first time since a glove was donned is ashamed to find that an Ethiopian is heavyweight champion of it. It is not to be expected under the circumstances that the followers of the ring game are going to make any big demonstration. All the notes I look for over this little fracas at the Antipodes is what comes out of Australia.

It isn't what you'd call a popular victory. I want to give Johnson full credit for beating Burns. He won in a walk. But I'm betting my dollar against doughnuts that when the history of the ring is all written up it will not be classed as any Marathon or Waterloo fight.

Johnson won't ever have his picture hung up in the first row of champions for Burns as the holder of the belt—well it always turns a fistfight a bit, now didn't it?

I drew the color line when the[illegible] wasn't a blackamoor in the game was a first-class second-rater. I did it not because I couldn't lick 'em in the squared circle, but I've always had a hunch that you can't get a square deal from a foreigner in the game. [illegible]

Champion Johnson Says:

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 27.—I want in the first place to give Burns credit for being as game as they make them. I gave him a beating that would have made most men quit, but he never showed the white feather and stuck it out until the police took a hand. We talked the battle over in my training quarters and we came to the conclusion that Burns would try to make a runaway race of it from the start. He played right into my hands. His rushes were discounted weeks before the battle. I had practiced over and over again just what to do in such a case.

Sure enough he started like a mad bull. I had only to sidestep and hand him an upper cut. Luckily the[illegible] was true and Burns went to the mat. That blow put Burns to the bad and made me know that I had him beat.

I am a very happy man to day. I travelled half way around the world to corner Burns and to tell the truth I expected that he would dodge me here. But to my surprise he made the match. He insisted on condition that I would never have accepted except for the belief that I could beat him. He made six times as much as I did, but I got the title and I am very well satisfied.

I want to say that I am personally [illegible]

Tommy Burns Says:

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 27.—Short cables have been received in this country saying that such men as John L. Sullivan and James J. Jeffries find fault with me for fighting a negro for the title of heavyweight champion of the world. They say I am money mad.

I have no excuse whatever to offer. The fighting game is not the most public business on earth. When a man makes his livelihood by entering a 24-foot ring and doing his best to knock his opponent into insensibility he forfeits the respect of a part of society. The profession of pugilism is not a drawing room affair. If a man is in the pugilistic business he should be willing to meet all comers. I have always been willing to meet any man that crossed my path since I acquired the title. The fighting game is different from what it used to be. If I played it for the money that was in it I am willing to stand the gaff that Sullivan and Jeffries hand me.

I made the match with Johnson for the reason that I believed I could beat him and beat him easily. I was mistaken. The fact that I fought a negro is entirely beside the question. If a negro can make good in any other line of business there is no reason why he cannot make good in the fighting line.

Johnson is champion. I met the best men there were. I fought all the beauties that had not retired in America. I met the best men Australia could send to the United States. I cleaned them all up in my country and I went to England. I met the best men they could produce there. I went to Ireland and beat their best man. I came to Australia and polished up all that country had to offer.

I then made a match with Johnson expecting to beat him easily and put him out of the running for good and all. Johnson refused to meet Johnson. He had his scruples and I respect his views. I think he was on the level.

James J. Jeffries Says:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 26.—Give Jack Johnson credit for being a game fighter. He has proved that he is entitled to all the honors that his victory over Burns can bring. I insist that it is a deplorable state of affairs that a colored man has to be recognized as the heavyweight champion of the world. I blame Burns for [illegible] which was the easiest thing in the world. Leaving aside the question of color, which I have no right to fight on, Johnson is not entitled to the championship title. For the first time in the history of the prize ring we have no holder of all titles—no heavyweight championship of the world. Burns was wrapped up in money. He could be expected Johnson[illegible] to be a shine and he confidently looked for an easy victory. That thirty thousand dollars seemed to be as if he was finding the money. He coveted the dollars.

Does anybody believe that Burns would be a match for me in the ring? I am not bragging about myself, but if I couldn't put this man away inside of twenty minutes I should be ashamed to show my face in public. Johnson made several cracks at me while I was champion. He got some of his newspaper friends to insist that I ought to give him a match and finally I sought me out one night and suggested that I fight him for the heavyweight title of the world. This was my reply.

"Johnson, I will go up stairs with you right now and lock the door. The best man can turn the key and come down and [illegible] out of here now and if you don't get out I will put you out."

Johnson turned the color of a sickly green and said, "Mr. Jeffries, I don't want no bar room fights so I guess I will bid you good bye." That is the last I have ever seen of him.

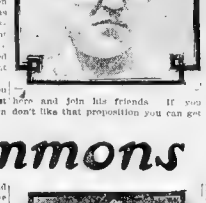
I could have cleared as much as Mr. Burns cleared in fighting Mr. Jack Johnson and if I had been[illegible] over I guess I could have pulled[illegible] $10,000 for my share. But I[illegible] the color line. I refused to meet a[illegible] man.

I knew just as well as I know that I am sitting at this desk that I could have beaten him in short order. I can beat him a month from now if I[illegible] matched. But I refused to fight a negro for the heavy-weight title and[illegible] here and join his friends. If you don't like that proposition you can get a negro for the heavy-weight title and[illegible] I will refuse to my dying day.

Burns will never be forgiven by the American public for allowing the title of the best physical man in the world to be passed from his keeping to a member of the African race.

Johnson is now the champion of the world and as such he is entitled to all the glory and all the emoluments that that championship bring him. The fact that Johnson is a negro cannot now be brought against him by the followers of the boxing game. The time to draw the color line is the time that the challenge is issued.

Burns has been vastly overrated as a fighter. This has always been my belief, yet I never realized his shortcomings until I saw and listened to the returns of the battle in Australia.



Bob Fitzsimmons Says:

LONDON, Dec. 26.—I expected to see Johnson win by the knock out. I knew he had the punch, but considered Burns both the cleverer and was surprised to hear that the decision went to him partly on points.

Johnson however is not in Jeffries' class. In fact, there isn't any real championship material in the present crop of fighters. The result means the end of Burns. He will never again regain his lost laurels. I never thought he had a chance to defeat Johnson as my bout with the colored man proved to me that Johnson had the wallop. He knocked me out at Philadelphia, and any man who can put me to sleep, old as I am, has got to have the goods.

At that I rated him too cheaply, and I was foolish to meet him under the circumstances as I didn't train properly for the battle. At that time he looked to me like the easiest kind of a[illegible] but in the bout he got to me and put me out. It was a hard blow. I remember it well, but I blame myself for allowing him to put it over.

In my prime I believe I could make Johnson look like a novice; that is to say, I think I could have beaten him as easily as I did Sharkey and Ruhlin. I could hit some in those days.

Johnson was too big, too fast and too clever for Burns. I have carefully read the reports of the fight, and I say Burns showed wonderful gameness. He took a terrible beating from the colored man. That he stayed as long as he did was a wonderful performance in itself. What surprises me is that Johnson didn't knock him out quicker. He had him all to the bad in the first round and I know he has the punch. He probably wanted to play a sure game.

I have no doubt but that it was a genuine, square fight with no fake attachments. Johnson showed he had a head on him when he sidestepped Burns in the first round and then met him with an uppercut that sent the champion to the floor.

I believe I can defeat Johnson in spite of his defeat of me. With the proper time to train I think I could get into condition by slow and careful methods and if I should ever get in the ring with him again you can bet the old champion will be the new champion again.

Johnson likes a flashy life. He will make lots of money in the next year and he will spend most of it in fast living. I take care of myself and lead a quiet life. In a year from now Johnson will not be the man he is today. I will be just as good.

I will watch the courses of events and you can bet that if I make a match with him the old title will come back to old Sankey Bob. Wonder[illegible] that be a strange thing? The old man isn't a dead one yet. Just keep your eye on Robert Fitzsimmons.

James J. Corbett Says:

I [illegible] am surprised that Johnson defeated Burns. I would not have been surprised if Burns had defeated Johnson. To record of neither man was first class and there was no real way to dope the winner except on the old and moth-eaten principle that a good big man is better than a good little man.

[illegible] the present day people with the opinion of a few years ago. In making this statement I am not considering myself. I say that from four years [illegible] five years ago neither Johnson nor Burns would have had a chance to gain the championship honors. These men went about the country meeting and defeating men that would never have had a look in before Jeffries relinquished the championship. Finally they came together. As far as picking the winner was concerned it was all guess work. Neither man had defeated a first class heavyweight. Johnson defeated Fitzsimmons, it is true, but he couldn't have done it when Bob was in his prime.

To get down to the fight itself, Johnson appears to have fought a splendid battle. He used fine judgment from the very start. I cannot understand all the cheap talk the men indulged in when they were supposed to be fighting. Johnson must have felt mighty confident he must have centered the whole thing a buggy ride. That first knockdown gave him the confidence and his ability to meet every following one only strengthened it.

Johnson certainly fought a clever and well timed battle. The cabled report of the rounds were not as full as they would have been if the fight had taken place in this country, and we will have to wait for the Australian sporting papers to see just how some of those middle rounds were fought. It appears, however, that Johnson took things easy after he had established his big lead early in the battle, and when he saw that Burns had tired himself out he sailed in to finish his man and would have done so if the police had not ordered the fight stopped.

What the outcome of the fight will be it is impossible to say. I should doubt if Johnson fights again within a year, although he may give Burns a return battle if the public demands it. If he does give the white man another chance it is good betting that Sam Fitzpatrick, his manager, will demand and receive five-eighths of the purse. It would be well within his rights if he did so considering what Burns did to him in the money way.

I make no comment on the color line business. Johnson is entitled to all he can get out of the title he has won against great monetary odds. One might say that he had nothing to lose and everything to gain. He was certainly a persistent challenger. He never cared for the fighting game as near as I was able to figure and was glad to pass up any challenges that did not appeal to him.

I have no plans for the future. My wife has been after me for a long time to quit fighting. They give me credit for being a great business man and I guess I can make my living it I care to give up pugilism.

I consider Johnson a great fighter, no matter what various other former champions think of his ability. I had used my battle and it failed. I thought Johnson had a yellow streak and I think so yet. But he was much better than me and he had the[illegible] to fall me off. I was not able to do to him as I thought I would be.

TALK OF ANOTHER FIGHT IN SYDNEY, BURNS IS WILLING

Johnson Declares the Vanquished Man Must Accept His Terms; Says Burns Was an Easy Mark.

NEW CHAMPION LIONIZED

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 27.—Jack Johnson, the new heavyweight champion of the world, was up betimes this morning, showing himself to the populace of Sydney. He was dressed in his newest and flashiest sort of clothes and made a very striking appearance as he strolled down the street followed by all the small boys and some of the big boys of the town.

He visited the office of the Referee, which is the great sporting paper of Australia, and declared his intentions of meeting any man who challenged him for the title, provided his manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, was willing.

Johnson showed [illegible] men he remarked Johnson is negro encounter with Tommy Burns either. Burns has not definitely decided [illegible] there was a scrap here and there, but on the whole he came out of the fight with hardly a scar.

He was in big [illegible] time the same as [illegible] under than ever, especially Burns did. [illegible] he had enough to make me feel good when I got out of bed this morning and early [illegible] another champion for [illegible] as an appetizer.

Burns's Courage Praised.

Johnson was loud in his praises for the gameness of Burns. "He certainly got some hard wallops," declared the dusky champion, "and [illegible] but he never quit. He certainly deserves credit for [illegible] I think so yet. But he was much better than me and he had the [illegible] to fall me off. I was not able to do to him as I thought I would be.

"No Excuse," Says Burns.

"I have no excuse," Burns declared [illegible] "I am game and beat me fairly. I will acknowledge, I did not think he had such a punch or things might be different. I made up my mind to rush him from the start and was somewhat careless.

"That first punch won the battle for me. I will not make that any time after that. I have [illegible] recollection of what occurred. The [illegible] me and [illegible] the [illegible] of fists, and the great courage [illegible] had displayed. Many will believe that the former title holder is capable of reversing the decision.

Demand for Another Match.

There is almost a universal demand [illegible]

WHO'LL MEET JOHNSON NEW YORK SPORTS ASK

New York, Dec. 26. The [illegible] topic in sporting circles to-night is: "Who will be the man to wrest the championship from Jack Johnson?"

Never before in the history of the prize ring has such a crisis arisen as that which faces the followers of the game at present. While some predict that the big negro from Galveston, Texas, would wrest the title from Tommy Burns, few desired to see a negro hailed as champion of champions.

The concensus of opinion is that "Jim" Jeffries is the only one to take Johnson's measure. The big California [illegible] refuses to come out of his retirement, but it is hoped that the scraps of the past will force him to again recover the ring. No one [illegible] Johnson's chances with the [illegible] tired champion.

Tom Sharkey has issued a [illegible] Jack Johnson, "the white [illegible] not taken seriously. [illegible] Philadelphia Jack O'Brien [illegible] Philadelphia is not [illegible] sporting element.

"Lanky Bob" Fitzsimmons may [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS EDITED BY JOHN L. SULLIVAN

STARS COMPETE IN SWIMMING RACES

Bullivant of Brookline Takes Dash in Sportsman's Show Tank; Goodwin Wins.

Races in the big tank with boys as the performers in the afternoon and girls and men in the evening made up the competitive program at the Sportsman's Show yesterday. There was a splendid crowd in the afternoon and a big one in the evening. Besides the contests there were exhibitions of all kinds and styles of the natatorial art by Fleet Rich, who also did the famous Monte Cristo dive, just as Edmond Dantes was thrown into the sea; "Dutch" Elliott and Peter S. McCarthy.

The races by the girls at night made a hit with the crowd, particularly the [illegible] lengths of the tank. This was a stubborn [illegible] from start to finish, the [illegible] waited until the judges stepped after he had [illegible]

Noted Natators Race.

Some well known swimmers competed [illegible] in the open events, and the one [illegible] was that by Bullivant, [illegible] Brookline A. C., who [illegible] length in the 220 yards handicap [illegible] 5 seconds [illegible] was captured by Frank J. O'Hare [illegible] Boston A. C. from scratch [illegible] was started [illegible] in the second heat, Leo J. Dineen of Brookline being the winner. Dan James won the first heat and his brother Ben the second in the [illegible] Dineen [illegible] Sullivan withdrawing [illegible] Dan James [illegible] Ben James [illegible] appearances [illegible] in the [illegible] and was [illegible]

Ruddy Won Sack Race.

A good feature was the sack swimming race between Joe Roddy and George Smith. Their arms were [illegible] the feet and legs were tied and [illegible] a sack. Roddy won.

The boys' races in the afternoon were a [illegible] [illegible] Won by [illegible] Time 1 [illegible] Second, Edward [illegible] Third, [illegible] Time, 1 [illegible] 50 yards—Won by Edward [illegible] Second, Daniel Fahey; third, [illegible] Time, 1 [illegible] 50 yards—Won by Edward [illegible] Second, Daniel Fahey; third, [illegible] Time, 1 [illegible] 40-yard scratch race—Won by Willard [illegible] New York A. C.; second, Herbert H. Hoole, Pastime A. C.; third, Daniel Fahey. Time, 1 [illegible] 50-yard handicap for girls under fifteen years of age—Won by Miss Gertrude Margaret Keane; second, Miss [illegible]

50-yard dash for girls under fifteen years of age—Won by Miss Gertrude Margaret Keane; second, Miss Fahey. Time, 1 [illegible] 50-yard scratch race—Won by Willard [illegible] New York A. C.; second, Herbert H. Hoole, Pastime A. C.; third, Daniel Fahey. Time, 1 [illegible] 40 yards handicap for boys under fifteen years of age—Won by George Lee; second, Bob Thompson; third, Bob Hoole. Time, 1 [illegible] 50 yards handicap for boys under fifteen years of age—Won by Edward Sullivan; second, Daniel Fahey; third, [illegible] Time, 1 [illegible]

Fancy costume race for boys, for latest arrivals—Won by Hank O'Day. For best suit—Won by Herbert Hoole.

50-yard swim—Won by Bud Goodwin, New York A. C.; second, Herbert H. Hoole, Pastime A. C.; third, Edward Sack, Brookline Swimming Club. Time, 1 [illegible]

50-yard handicap for boys under 15—Won by Edward [illegible] Second, Sam Kahn, Brookline Swimming Club; third, [illegible] Won by Sam James, Brookline Swimming Club; second, Ben James, Brookline Swimming Club; third, [illegible] Time, 2 [illegible]

Obstacle race—Won by Fleet Rich, Boston A. C.; second, Bullivant; third, [illegible] Time, 2

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS EDITED BY JOHN L. SULLIVAN

NELSON LAYS DOWN LAW TO HIS CLASS

Would Have Elimination Contests to Go to a Finish for Candidate to Meet Him.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—"I will fight but little more, but in defence of the championship," Battling Nelson has spoken.

"I realize that I have fought many and many a hard battle for my honors, took more than I gave in his every day other and did in two world to gain a title and I defy score a year. I've made a lot of money but of the game, but I earned every penny I got it honest.

"Now, this final battle which I intend to engage in is this: There are four men who are clamoring for a chance at me and I believe them to be the foremost lightweights in the world. They are Murphy, Thompson, McFarland and Welsh. This is what they will have to do: Let Murphy and Thompson are matched. They must go forty-five rounds. There mustn't be any arguments as to who is the better man. McFarland and Welsh must then go through the same process, forty-five rounds, mind you. Then the only battle, either. When the winner of the first bout will have to go forty-five rounds with the winner of the second bout, and I will meet the winner and not till then. I will pay the least attention to anyone else for me. I believe, and the public will at that time, that the winner of the series will be a pretty fair sort of a champion to be bound to be a great one.

Must Fight to Finish.

"The [illegible] Barry's [illegible] and the only rule [illegible] my car [illegible] circumstances. I was [illegible] I stipulate [illegible] to make good. It may be [illegible] Brad Leon [illegible] to [illegible] that it was [illegible] that it's [illegible] a chance [illegible] about [illegible] keeps [illegible] fight Joe Gans [illegible] out [illegible] about [illegible] out of the [illegible] never be [illegible] again [illegible] fighting [illegible] We [illegible] I [illegible] have [illegible] here [illegible]

Boxing Made Dat Strong.

"Boxing [illegible] I assume no matter how [illegible] Otherwise [illegible] I would have been [illegible] fighting has kept me [illegible] I think my lucky stars also [illegible] I have helped [illegible] fighting. I [illegible] information as [illegible] "In [illegible] I have bettered me in [illegible] my [illegible] selling [illegible] can [illegible] I [illegible] don't [illegible] bar none [illegible] I [illegible] no person [illegible] be the most [illegible] although the [illegible] over saw, and I [illegible] I [illegible] my own [illegible] in my own way, and live a quiet, easy life.

"I couldn't do anything else because I wouldn't [illegible] some of the [illegible] and [illegible] have [illegible] I have [illegible] in a [illegible] and I will [illegible] part of an exhibition [illegible] an ordinary [illegible]

MATTY BALDWIN TO FACE CLASSY BOY

Local Boxer Will Have Chance to Redeem Himself Against Jem Driscoll.

When the announcement was made that Matty Baldwin had finally agreed to box Jem Driscoll once again, there was joy in Charlestown, because there has been so much talk made that Baldwin was not trying in the bout that these boys sparred in New York, and everyone knew that Matty would redeem himself if given the chance.

Baldwin has been working for over two weeks for this bout, says that he can defeat any man that is not a knockout boxer, and he is one of the few men who have always followed him will see that he has not retrograded.

Driscoll's work was a revelation on his first appearance here, and the fact that in fact Griffin is not as strong or as powerful as the ordinary Boniface Hill.

The contest looks the classiest, high grade article of boxing that has been seen in [illegible] the members of the Armory Athletic [illegible]

In addition to the main event of the evening there will be six bouts of [illegible] in seeing Henry Hall box Belfield Walcott.

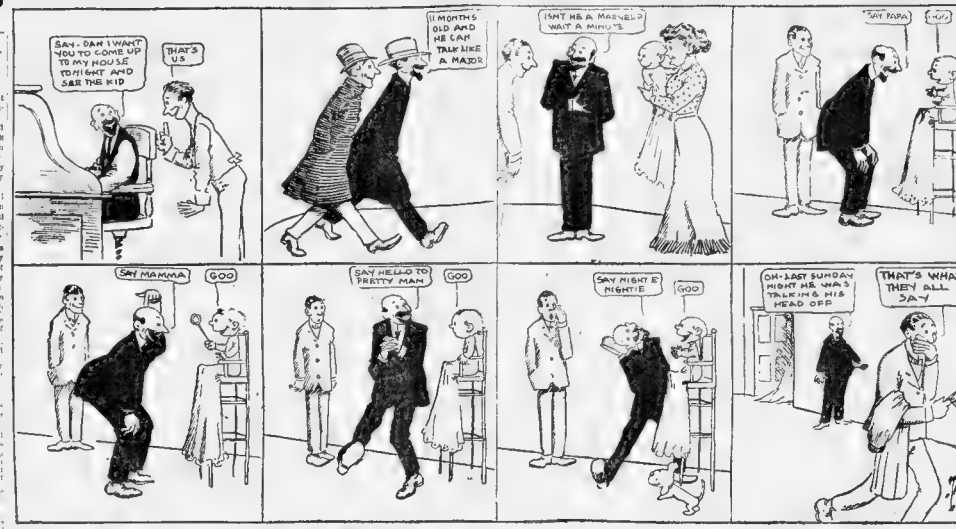
The introduction of Tommy Fare, from Taunton, to the audiences of Boston, Lowell and Lawrence, from East Boston will be watched closely, as Tatty is one of the best box-destroyed outside of [illegible] rings in a great many years.

WILLOUGHBY TO WRESTLE PERELLI

John Perelli of New York, the noted Italian wrestler, has been matched to meet Walter Willoughby of Cleveland next Wednesday night at the Columbia. Perelli is one of the most pugnacious men on the mat game, and always carries the fight to his opponent all the way. He is a so one of the most popular wrestlers who ever appeared in this city, as he is followed by a showing who [illegible] the house whenever he is [illegible]

In Willoughby the Italian meets a man who [illegible] every [illegible] but who [illegible] not. In this [illegible] he is [illegible] takes advantage of every weakness of his opponent. Those [illegible] who have seen Willoughby [illegible] and as Willoughby got Perelli's goat in his [illegible] and [illegible] waiting for his opportunity, the latter will [illegible] out to redeem himself. And promises to [illegible] the decision against him on that occasion. It will be a fast and furious battle from start to finish, with a man who takes all kinds of chances against a cool customer, who waits for an opening, and then proceeds to take advantage of it. Willoughby's shooting [illegible] was [illegible] on last week when the bout lasted two hours and forty-five minutes, made the fans anxious to see him work against the great Perelli, and Manager Farren very obligingly arranged the match, and lovers of the game are anxiously waiting for the [illegible]

THAT'S WHAT THEY ALL SAY---By Tad



M'GRAW THINKS SCHLEI A WONDER

Says the Giants Will Be Far Stronger Next Season Than Last.

New York, Dec. 26.—Manager McGraw is a great [illegible] just now is [illegible] one of the New York Nationals when they take the field for the pennant race next April. He will have a number of young players to try out during the spring training trip, but believes that his veterans will be well up to the requirements and will hardly be replaced by new material. McGraw is confident that he has strengthened the New York team at least 20 per cent by making [illegible] with his old Catcher Schlei. Pitcher Raymond and Outfielder Murray. He says that while he was reluctant [illegible] to part with Schlei, Manager Bresnahan got away he was compelled to surrender the latter receiver in order to strengthen his team in other departments.

McGraw, it seems, kept his eye on Catcher Schlei for several seasons, and finally concluded that the former Cincinnati backstop was [illegible] a decided acquisition to the New York team [illegible] Schlei is not going to be found to improve in this city for the reason that he already has the [illegible] steadiness, nerve and class. He thinks that Schlei with some coaching will prove an able substitute for Bresnahan and that he will be able to earn a [illegible] majority of the games. Schlei has an even disposition, is a game fighter, works well and is a fair batsman. To help him out behind the bat there will be Needham and Snodgrass already tried and not found wanting. Also there is Jack Warner, Western catcher, who comes here with an excellent reputation, and a youngster named Wilson.

Strong in Twirlers.

In the pitching department McGraw believes there will be more strength than ever before. In Mathewson, Ames and Wiltse he has three stars whose qualities are well known. Raymond, under proper handling, should prove a consistent winner, according to McGraw, who says the new pitcher has plenty of stamina and can take his turn regularly. Crandall should improve very much next year's record. Crandall showed experience when he first came here, and he got plenty of it. Taylor will probably be retained, but whether McGinnity stays is a matter that has not been decided yet. The Indianapolis pitchers, Maynard and Burns, are also expected to [illegible] next season, McGraw, realizing last neither [illegible] can afford to go blindly [illegible]

McGraw has already announced that his regular infield will be made up of Tenney, Doyle, Devlin and Bridwell, and he believes that this combination can not be improved. Young Herzog will be the utility infielder unless he wins a regular place in the outfield. Captain Devlin will play right field again, and Murray, the lefthanded and base runner, will take care of left field. Seymour's place in centre field is somewhat in doubt and the veteran will have to hustle to keep in line. Should the Baltimore, a fast youngster, probably will get a big [illegible] for the regular place, while Herzog will have a chance, too, to show what he can do. Spencer, who played well in Newark, is another candidate for the outfield who gives much promise.

Altogether it looks as if McGraw had assembled a good prospect for next season, and that New York fans will see another pennant race for the pennant at the Polo grounds.

Yankees Unsettled.

The makeup of the New York Americans, on the other hand, is problematical. Manager Stallings will take things pretty easy at Macon and will go slow before he decides on the regular team. It is practically certain, however, that Jack Chesbro will be on hand of the catching, as Stallings [illegible] Chesbro [illegible] Wolfgang [illegible] as if the fans would see Chesbro, Lake, Wolfgang and Hogg [illegible] pitching staff and Hogg will be with the team, but [illegible] not. In this event Lake may be traded. Stallings has other pitchers who [illegible] a chance with the [illegible] but at present they cannot be rated. McConnell or Hoffelt is highly regarded.

Chase will play first base to a certainty and there is a chance for Gessler to [illegible] Second baseman and Esgorts will be the leading candidates, while Conroy will have rivals for third base in Austin of Omaha and Knight of last year's Newark team, who is said to be a coming star. Knight of last year's Baltimore team is looked for short field, which means that Elberfeld will go [illegible] Wolfgang, Hogg, Engle, Hogan, Keeler, Free, McIlveen and others will make a hard fight for the positions. Neal Ball and Moriarty will be used as extra infielders. Stallings is not making predictions, but says he thinks the Americans will show plenty of speed when they strike the [illegible]

FOUR FAMOUS MARES NOW ON KENTUCKY FARM

Nancy Hanks, Hamburg Belle, Silicon and Elsie Leyburn Roam Fields Together.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 26.—I. Y. Harkness arrived here the week for a visit to his Walnut Hall stock farm and to consult with his manager, Harry Burgoyne, about the mating of his [illegible] brood mares next season. Mr. Harkness expects to get phenomenal trotters by the mating of many of his stallion Moko, known in this section as the sire of Futurity winners, to the young sire Walnut Hall, himself a Futurity winner. The champion three-year-old of last season. The list embraces a [illegible] of such a mating, his dam, Nodell, by Hugh Noko and the star Walnut Hall. Two of the finest looking youngsters on Walnut Hall farm are a [illegible] of the Harvester and a yearling colt by Walnut Hall, out of the dam of Futurity winner, Peregon. Both Peregon and Nodell are [illegible] in foal to Walnut Hall. Mr. Harkness recently purchased the young bay mare Nancy Noko, by Hugh Noko and Nancy Hanks, 2 04¾, the fastest trotting mare of last season, Silicon, 2 13½, sire of the game little trotter Silicon Belle and the [illegible] dam of Jack Leyburn, 2 04¾, one of the best [illegible] and sweetest [illegible] ever seen on the [illegible] in the country.

Among the noted stallions that will [illegible] at the farm of Mr. Harkness in central Kentucky are Searchlight, 2 03¼, at Kenmore Farm; Cresceus Spier, 2 11¾, at Orchard Park; Leonda, 2 02, at Mapleburn Farm; Peter, by Baron Dillon, 2 12, and Justice Lay, Vandale Farm; Baron Wilkes, 2 17, at Georgetown, Ky.; Peter the Great [illegible] 2 13½; Captain Kidd, 2 14; Mighty Atom, 2 16, at Lexington; Peter the Second, Audubon, 2 16, and Patchen Wilkes at the farm of [illegible] Mogg. The [illegible] Nash a horse [illegible] of the [illegible] breeding of Peter the Great, [illegible] from young Early [illegible] Since then he has realized over $50,000 for [illegible] and now has at his farm a yearling and a weanling out of [illegible] as fine a looking pair of youngsters as can be found in the State. Nash is now one of the most valuable young brood mares in Kentucky.

A. B. Cox of Paoli, Pa., has sent his highclass young mare, The Leading Lady, 2 07, to the Walnut Hall Farm to be bred to Moko. The Leading Lady was one of the star three-year-olds of last season, winning several valuable events and lowering her record from 2 16¾ to 2 07. She is by Bingen, 2 06¾, out of Miss Pratt, by Pilot Jr.

Owing to the difficulty of getting desirable quarters for his young stallion Gen. Watts, 2 09¾, Gen. C. C. Watts, of Hamburg, Ia., has decided not to send the [illegible] three-year-old of 1907 to Kentucky to make the season of 1909 and has the young stallion will again stand at the [illegible] Farm of his cousin in West Virginia. This young horse was bred to fifteen choice mares last season, and of that number twenty-eight are believed to be in foal. This season he will be allowed to serve only forty mares, the breeding of each to be approved by Gen. C. C. Watts before the mare is booked.

Noted Trotting Mares.

Probably on no stock farm in the country can be found four such noted trotting mares as now roam the fields of Hamburg Place. They are Nancy Hanks, 2 04, queen of trotting turf and for sixteen years the fastest horse owned by Kentucky; Hamburg Belle, 2 04¾, the fastest trotting mare of last season; Silicon, 2 13½, dam of the game little trotter Silicon Belle,

BIG GOTHAM SHOW WILL OPEN ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

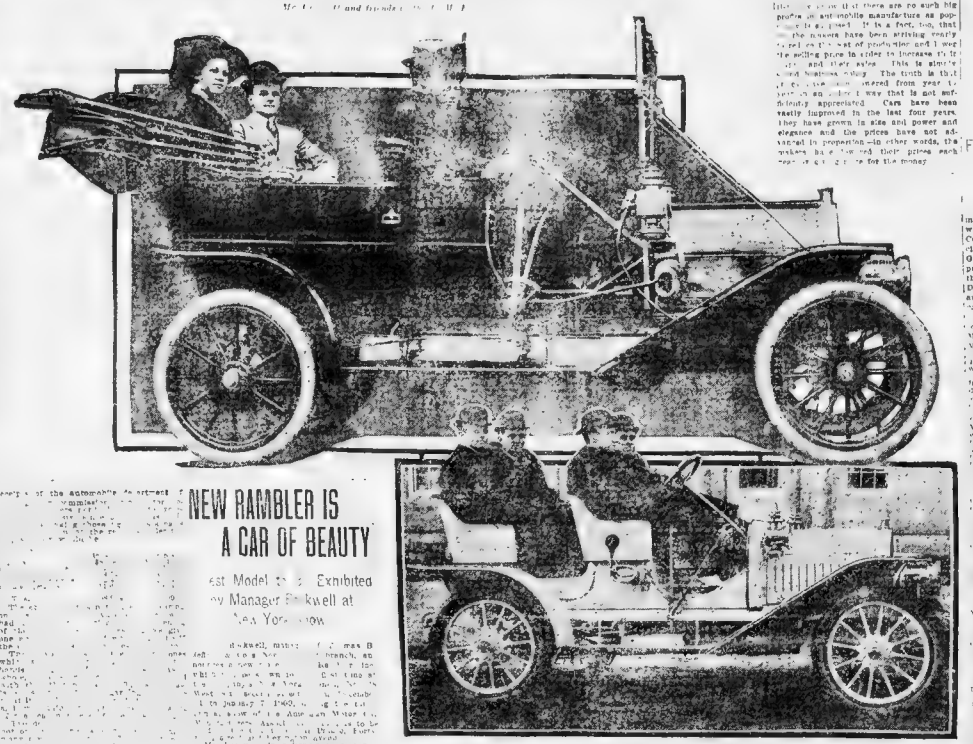
AUTOMOBILES

BAY STATE MOTORISTS STRONGLY OPPOSE TO NEW BILL

'JOKER' IN NEW AUTOMOBILE BILL IN THE BAY STATE

BY J. C. KERRISON

TWO UP-TO-DATE CARS NOW IN THE HUB



Walter Clapp and friends on the Hub

FABULOUS PROFITS SAID TO BE MYTHS

RACING CARS A FEATURE OF THE PALACE SHOW.

Famous Machines Will Be Seen at Exhibition Which Opens on New Year's Eve

For the first time in the history of automobile shows in America, the exhibition which opens New Year's Eve in Grand Central Palace, New York, will be officially recognized by the New York City Government, when Patrick F. McGowan, president of the Board of Aldermen, makes the address of welcome on the evening of December 31 and turns over to the visiting automobile manufacturers and dealers and carriage dealers the freedom of the city.

Patrick F. McGowan has been designated to represent the City Government by Mayor George B. McClellan. It was the Mayor's intention to be in attendance personally, but an important change next week in the affairs of the city during which time Mr. McGowan is Acting Mayor will not permit the latter's absence. Although the show is not under the auspices of the Motor Car Manufacturers' Association, all of the members of that organization are received. Many of the members of the Association will be on hand at the opening of the show, and a delegation of more than one hundred persons, representing the motor industries of the entire country, will be present. The Motor Vehicle Manufacturers' Association has arranged for a reception at the Grand Central Palace after a ball to be given by the governors and their staffs in the Astor Gallery. The ball will be held in the Astor Hotel, and will be in honor of the governors of the forty-six States and Territories of the United States. Including the ball and reception, which will be one of the most interesting features of the entire week, there will be many other social events. Palaces in New York's Fifth Avenue will be the exhibition of foreign and American racing cars. Considerable interest has been displayed by the Governors of Delaware, which passed a law in connection with the Vanderbilt Cup race, which will be held over the Long Island course next fall.

The Governors of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, North Dakota, South Dakota, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico have been invited to attend the ball.

The dealers of Georgia, which passed a law requiring the licensing of automobile dealers, will also be present. Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia, has been invited to attend the ball. Governor Smith is a personal friend of Governor Hughes, of New York, and has been invited to attend the ball. Governor Hughes has been invited to attend the ball. Governor Hughes has been invited to attend the ball.

NEW RAMBLER IS A CAR OF BEAUTY

FRANKLIN WILL TAKE SEVERE TEST

PIERCE ARROW HANDY BOOK OF WEIGHTS

FEATURES OF AUTOMOBILE SHOW, GRAND CENTRAL PALACE, NEW YORK

STEVENS-DURYEA CARS AT THE SHOW

HEMERY LAUDS SAVANNAH

WATSON COLEMAN MARRIED

WHITE STEAMER FOR WAR DEPARTMENT

NEW WHITE MODEL BEING RUSHED

LEWIS STRANG TO SAIL AIRSHIP

GETTING BUSY ON SHOWS JUST NOW

SHERIDAN TO HAVE CHARGE OF GARAGE

TO RACE ON FLORIDA SANDS

RACING AT BROOKLANDS.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW

Opens New Year's Eve

Grand Central Palace

NEW YORK

Leading American Cars

All Foreign Cars

'Direct from Paris Salon'

Only Exhibit in America

All Accessory Makers

Rambler

Automobiles

WILL BE EXHIBITED AT OUR

NEW YORK BRANCH, 38 WEST 62nd STREET

From December 31 to January 7, 1909

DURING THE

Palace Automobile Show

We extend a most cordial invitation to call and examine the complete 1909 RAMBLER line. New England representatives will be in attendance.

While in New York make our Branch your headquarters.

THOMAS B. JEFFERY & CO.

NEW ENGLAND BRANCH

93 Massachusetts Avenue

C. P. ROCKWELL - - - Manager

Don't Miss It!

The National Market Place on Page 10, Magazine Section to-day contains something for YOU!

BIG TRANSACTIONS MARK TRADING IN REALTY MARKET

REAL ESTATE AND FINANCIAL

BULL LEADERS ARE STILL IN CONTROL OF STOCK MARKET

'MYSTIC' NOW CITY OF HOMES ON FAMOUS RACE TRACK SITE

Model Dwellings Beautify Park at Medford; Investors Now Their Own Landlords.

By the Investigator.

Famous as the greatest racetrack in New England [illegible] a quarter of a century [illegible] Mystic Park, Medford, is now [illegible] days when its racing attractions were [illegible] of homeseekers throng over the [illegible] 25 to 35 cents a foot.

The far-famed racing park will soon be only a memory, while the thousands of its visitors of light and fleeting fame, who brought out the best horses in the world [illegible] wholesale house building that is going on in Mystic as the setting is now.

It will [illegible] a model suburban city, [illegible] and an exceptionally well [illegible] modern dwellings. Each house [illegible] acre in size and quite well [illegible] to street.

To those who have not been in that part of Greater Boston since the palmy days when Mystic Park was the resort of thousands, the transformation that has taken place there will be astonishing.

New Site for Old Hotel.

Of the old track itself all but the track proper has disappeared. [illegible] stretch is now [illegible] and [illegible] when all [illegible] and [illegible] boulevard, laid out with [illegible] full shade trees, grass [illegible] and up-to-date [illegible] now made use of by the Fellsway [illegible] Club as a speedway.

[illegible] the old [illegible] the [illegible] Mystic Park Hotel, [illegible] the [illegible] Mystic Park [illegible] Mystic Park [illegible] Mystic Park

'WIFE'S BOSS; SHE'S MADE ME WHAT I AM,' SAYS TAFT.

Augusta Admirers Learn the Secret: Mrs. Taft Is Really "Power Behind Throne."

SORRY STAY IS SO SHORT

Baby Named President-Elect "Old Santa Claus," 'Cause He Looks So Happy."

By MARY FONTAINE STOKES

Mrs. Taft Is the Boss."

Interest in Taft Children.

Rockefeller Likes Its Seclusion.

MRS. WILLIAM H. TAFT, ONLY "BOSS" RECOGNIZED BY PRESIDENT-ELECT

ILLINOIS LEADS DIVORCE RECORD

$2,209 Couples Are Separated Here in Past 20 Years—Bay State Far Down the List.

Divorce Rate Increases.

The divorce rate throughout the country, based on total population, was almost three times as great in 1905 as it was in 1870.

CONTEMPT OF LAW PERIL

Twentieth Century Orators Arraign Evil of Upper Class People.

MAKING YOUNG BOYS GOOD WOOD CARVERS

Thomas Barr of Foxboro Doing Notable Work in His Free School.

Organizing Boys' Clubs.

Guide Children's Careers

Boys Enjoy the Work.

Show Contempt of Law.

THOMAS BARR, WHO IS TEACHING CLASS OF BOYS IN MECHANICAL TRADES

PREPARE TO PROBE WALL STREET RING

Hughes Investigation Committee Organizes for Quiz of Market Operators.

PLAN CELEBRATION OF DARWIN BIRTHDAY

American Association for Advancement of Science Meets in City of Baltimore.

Gas Overcomes Mother.

BIG PISTOL FIRM TO BE RE-ORGANIZED

VENEZUELANS BOW TO RULE OF GOMEZ

URGE NATIONAL LABOR EXCHANGE

"LOBSTERS" FEAST ON FAVORITE DISH

NEWTON GIRL WEDS WORCESTER MAN

GREENWICH POLICE ON REAL MYSTERY

POLICE ARE LOOKING FOR ROXBURY WOMAN

Mrs. Grace Campbell Missing From Home Since Thursday.

COL. H. M. PHILLIPS TO LEAVE MUTUAL LIFE

Resigns After 20 Years' Service—Was Formerly State Treasurer.

DYING MAN DRAGGED HIMSELF 300 YARDS

South Boston Teamster Crushed by Heavy Coal Wagon.

DERELICT ENDANGERS NORTH ATLANTIC SHIPS

Revenue Cutter to Dispatch Wreck of the Warner Moore.

Rescued by Captain Crockett.

DUTCH FLAG FLOATS IN VENEZUELAN WATERS

Commerce Suspended by Castro Is Again Resumed.

RICHARD SHERMAN GOING TO PANAMA

GRANT POLICEMAN HEARING ON DEMAND

Suspended Malden Officer Will Present Case To-morrow Night.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES GO UNDER THE HAMMER

Big Sum Realized From "Dead Letter" Sale.

MRS. KING LOCATED IN FORT ERIE, ONTARIO

East Boston Woman Goes Astray When Mind Is Clouded.

FREED OF $175,000 THEFT CHARGE, SUES FOR $50,000

Former Chicago Sub-Treasury Teller Asks for Big Damages.

WM. T. BULGER IS HONORED

Blood Poison Cured

VALUABLE BOOK FREE

H. DARWIN MELLGREN, Pres. THE S. S. SWIFT CO., Dept. B A, 1728 Rector Bldg., Chicago.

TALKS ON TEETH By G. Gordon Martin

Test of Good Dentistry

It's important to have your dentistry done right at the beginning. The best is the cheapest in the end. The first work—the first, such as crowns or bridges, is always the most costly. It gives you better service, look better, wears better and is more comfortable, generally, than from ordinary dental work.

This cannot be said for appearance, service and comfort in dentistry. People usually care the difference of a dollar—the reason why a dentist is placed in the hands of a specialist, and you get the benefit of his skill and experience.

Although we do all kinds of dental work according to this high standard, we are specializing on crowns, bridges, etc. Plan now for the next few months if you can't do it with ready cash, or with ordinary budget.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Write us to-day for names of those living in your community who have had our work.

FREE—Illustrated Free Illustrated Book on Alveolar Pyorrhea.

CAUTION—We have no store else in New England.

G. GORDON MARTIN DENTISTS

Suite 600 Berkeley Bldg., Cor. Berkeley and Boylston Sts., Boston, Mass.

Beauty's Aid

Woman may improve her complexion, keep her face free from pimples and humors; brighten her eyes and purify the blood by the occasional use of

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

RATS

USE Martin's Powder for Rats

DRIVES, DOES NOT KILL.

50c., $1.00; by mail, 5c. extra. Druggists and Department Stores. WALTHAM CHEMICAL CO., WALTHAM, MASS. Tel. 26.

What You Get?

Beautiful Gifts and many of them, and you're happy. Good,—But remember—a sick liver and slow torpid bowels—make the most beautiful gifts lose their beauty—CASCARETS will clean up the bowels—make the liver act—everything look better. 972 CASCARETS—10c box—week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month.

MARJORIE GOULD TO WED STEVENS?

Society Hears the Story at a Remarkable "Ham and Eggs" Breakfast.

Newport, R. I., Dec. 26. That Miss Marjorie Stewart and Mr. [illegible] daughter of George J. Gould, will shortly become engaged to be married is the rumor of Mrs. Winthrop Stevens's ham eggs and omelet breakfast in New [illegible] Newport friends of the young couple [illegible] by daily reality in a startling [illegible]

"It's no [illegible] you know. They're saying to-[illegible]

While [illegible] the [illegible] during the [illegible] the hostess [illegible] everyone to [illegible] they be [illegible] the wee small hours [illegible] preached [illegible] they danced together [illegible] frequent, and [illegible] that it is [illegible] anybody el[illegible]

Everybody [illegible] way said to [illegible] other [illegible] guess [illegible] engaged. Now everybody [illegible] sure of it, and [illegible] to Stewart [illegible] Miss Gould has taken the trouble to [illegible] it, so the rumor is [illegible] growing more [illegible] with each hour of its life. They're wondering now when the wedding will take place and where.

The "ham and eggs" dance idea has caught here, for the limit had been struck in [illegible] repasts, and a "ham and eggs" [illegible] after Mrs. Stevens's [illegible] hit everybody in the best step in natural progression [illegible] return to first principles. [illegible] of a man's point of view. Winter society has been obliged to give inexpensive affairs, and this one has opened the way.

MISS MARJORIE GOULD, REPORTED ENGAGED TO YOUNG SOCIETY SCION

Copyright, 1908, by Morceau.

Noted Jesuit to Lecture.

"The Catholic Church Before the Tribunal of Reason" will be the subject of a course of five lectures to be opened by Chickering Hall Monday evening. [illegible] will be [illegible] John A. O'Brien, S. J., of New York, who is regarded as one of the [illegible] speakers in the Jesuit order. The lectures will be under the auspices of the State Council, Knights of Columbus.

ARREST FUGITIVE MAINE LANDLORD

Former Sheriff and Hotel Keeper Trailed by Detectives to Fall River.

Fall River, Dec. 26. [illegible] Howard of Dexter, [illegible] Maine, [illegible] and Keating of Lewiston, Me., [illegible] on a charge from Lisbon warrant. Howard was for [illegible] sheriff of Somerset [illegible] He was [illegible] proprietor of a large [illegible] hotel in Lisbon until a few months [illegible]

Louis Rickman Weds.

Louis Rickman, a prominent Hebrew [illegible] and Miss [illegible] were married [illegible] at the Westminster Hall [illegible] Rabbi Friedman performed the ceremony.

The groom was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Zaff and the bride was escorted by Mr. and Mrs. Swachman. Miss Elizabeth Freeman was maid of honor and Jacob Cohen best man. A reception and wedding feast followed.

$11,000 Fire in Coal

Pennsylvania, Dec. 26. A large [illegible] containing 3,000 tons of coal, part of the Monmouth Dredge Company's plant at Beesley's Point, was destroyed by fire early today with a loss of about $11,000.

GATES' SON DROPS $24,750 ON TRACK

Plunger Smiles as Bet After Bet on Runners Goes Against

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 26. [illegible] made [illegible] on the [illegible] and is good for [illegible] William Gates, son of [illegible] Gates, [illegible] dropped $24,750 on the [illegible] Tracks here [illegible] Monday. Gates [illegible] Inglewood track, and [illegible] stakes [illegible] $1,000 [illegible] $5,000.

Kill Two in Mr. Battle.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 26. [illegible] and [illegible] Kentucky [illegible] from [illegible] here, with [illegible] Mathis and Richard Ross [illegible] killed. The fight, it is [illegible] the strike promoters fill [illegible] junction of the Federal [illegible] More trouble is feared.

Xmas Cheer for Leper.

Washington, Dec. 26. [illegible] Christmas [illegible] with his little family [illegible] quarantined house on [illegible] vation.

MISS ETHEL MAKES DEBUT TO-MORROW

Daughter of President Youngest White House Bud to Enter Society.

[illegible] a little more [illegible] a little more [illegible] [illegible] Miss Ethel [illegible] Miss Roosevelt [illegible] Miss Ethel [illegible] [illegible] Miss Roosevelt [illegible]

PREACHER OF DIVINE HEALING DEFIES TOWN'S THREATS.

Demolished Church of "First Harvesters" at Jefferson, N. H., Its Pastor and His Wife

Rev. J. A. Wright, pastor, and Mrs. Wright.

SLAM LID TIGHT ON GAY WHITE WAY

Dunham's Ban on Open Sabbath; Picture Men Band for New York War.

MORLEY'S POLICY BREWS BIG STORM

England's Aristocracy Furious at His Acts as Indian Secretary.

PROBE LILLEY'S CAMPAIGN COST

PLAN DETAILS FOR HOLY NAME PARADE

PAWTUCKET MAN TO GET VOUCHERS

Court Proceedings Continued When Promise Is Made to Produce Records.

FAVOR BALLANTYNE FOR HEAD OF BOARD

Break in Democratic Ranks Gives Republicans Hope to Name Chairman.

BATES TO PRESIDE OVER THE ELECTORS

Massachusetts Presidential Vote to Be Cast at State House on January 11

Houghton & Dutton Co.

It pays to pay Cash

Mail Orders — NEW ENGLAND'S GREAT CASH HOUSE — Mail Orders

Silks! Silks! Silks!

Immense purchase of Up-to-Date Silks bought at the Great "Auction Sale" of Townsend & Mortant by order of Achley & Bailey Co., New York.

Plaid Silks—Firm, durable weave in handsome color combinations, also black and white. Regular value 59c. "Auction Sale" price 39c

Natural Shantungs—Strictly all pure silk, very lustrous and reliable, 27 inches wide, would be good value at 69c. "Auction Sale" price. 45c

19-Inch Black Taffeta—Clear, high lustre, yarn dyed, suitable for waists and drop-skirts, well worth 59c. "Auction Sale" price. 39c

27-Inch Black Taffeta—A very serviceable grade, clear black, suitable for entire dress. Regular value 79c. "Auction Sale" price. 55c

Chevron Silks—Pure silk, satin finish, in the desirable soft effect so much in demand, in such colors as smoke, myrtle, reseda, brown, navy, copenhagen and gray. Regular price 75c. "Auction Sale" price..... 59c

36-Inch Black Taffeta—An exceptionally fine grade and reliable wearing qualities, probably none better sold at 79c. "Auction Sale" price 59c

36-Inch Black Taffeta—Here is probably one of the best values ever offered in a pure yarn dyed silk and firm clear lustre for entire dress. Easily worth 89c. "Auction Sale" price. 68c

Low Prices in Basement

Wall Dusters, made of lamb's wool (white) with handle that detaches easily for washing. 2 sizes, worth 65c and 98c, for 49c and 69c

Dust Brushes (same as cut), polished wood back, cotton tufts, which can be washed when dirty, worth 35c, for 17c

Dry Mops—For use on polished floors, long handle, worth 25c, for..... 17c

Sanitary Brushes—Wire handle (like cut), worth 29c, for 15c

Bath Tub Mops—Worth 19c, for..... 10c

Dish Mops—Worth 10c, for 5c

Candle Shades—Manufacturer's stock of closed-out patterns at half price:
98c Shades for..... 49c
49c Shades for..... 24c
24c Shades for..... 12c
10c Shades for..... 5c

Canvas Gloves—For furnace use and elsewhere, for keeping the hands clean. 10c goods for..... 5c

Sink Strainers — Enameled and made in one piece, worth 24c, for..... 17c

Hand Drills — Holds bits. Drill handle for holding bits. Drill and 6 bits, very special at 69c. For this sale..... 49c

Covered Roasters — The "Corona," the one that is all enamel and without seams; is self-basting. Regular price $1.98. Reduced to..... 1.49

Egg Poachers—Poaches 3 eggs at one time, 24c goods. For 19c

Poaches 6 eggs at one time, 49c goods for 37c

Waffle Irons—98c goods for 69c

Carvers—Stag handles, fork has guard and rest, knife and fork, worth $1.24. For this sale..... 79c

Steak Knives—Steel Blades, with solid handles, worth 98c dozen, half price 49c

Kitchen Sets—Consisting of Bread, Butter and Paring Knife, 3 pieces, worth 74c, for..... 39c

Child's Chairs—Called the Sans Souci, folds flat when not in use, regarded as a necessity, a bath room blessing, because it can be attached instantly to toilet seat, indispensable for the nursery, regular price $2.00, 50 to be sold at $1.39 each.. 1.39

Nickel Tea Kettles, heavy nickel plate on copper body, No. 7 size, flat or pit bottom, 98c value, for 65c

Upholstery Section

75c Curtains for 49c

60c Curtains for 39c

1.50 Curtains for 98c

Six Patterns of Beautiful Scotch Lace Curtains, 52 inches wide, 3 yards long, every pair equally good. $1.50 a pair value, for 98c

80c Muslin Curtains for 59c a Pair—Beautiful renaissance trimmed muslin curtains, fine, sheer grade muslin, beautifully made. Value 80c a pair, for..... 59c

60-Inch Tapestry Couch Covers. 1.29—Very heavy, perfectly reversible, trimmed with knotted fringe, beautiful colorings. Value $2.00 each 1.29

60-Inch Tapestry Couch Covers, 1.79—Extra heavy, perfect copies of imported rugs, heavily fringed, exquisite colorings. Value 1.79

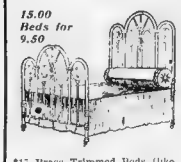
Ruffled Fish Net Curtains. Washable fish net curtains, trimmed with 3-inch lace ruffles, dainty and effective for dining rooms and sleeping rooms. Value 89c a pair..... 69c

$1.25 Folding Screens, 89c White, oak and cherry frames, lined with floral silkoline, in all colorings. Very firm and rigid ... 89c

Bedding Department

Clearance Sale of Iron Beds. Several of these patterns have been discontinued by the manufacturers and as we only have a small quantity of each, and cannot duplicate same, we will sacrifice them at the following reduced prices:

15.00 Beds for 9.50



9.00 Beds for 5.98

$15 Brass Trimmed Beds (like cut), extra heavy, with 1¼-inch pillars, brass spindles in head and footboard, full size only. Limited number only, at 9.50

$9.00 Beds (like cut), continuous post design, with 1-inch brass rod, brass trimmed knobs and spindles and five heavy filling rods; all sizes 5.98

Other Beds at the Following Reduced Prices

$3.48 Beds at.....	2.69	$9.00 Beds at.....	7.49
$3.98 Beds at.....	2.98	$11.98 Beds at.....	8.98
$4.98 Beds at.....	3.98	$14.98 Beds at.....	11.50
$5.98 Beds at.....	4.98	$21.98 Beds at.....	15.00
$7.50 Beds at.....	5.98	$27.98 Beds at.....	19.50

$4.50 Combination Mattresses for $2.98 Made in all sizes, one or two parts, with top, bottom and sides of cream white cotton, and excelsior center; extra heavy ticking in fancy stripe 2.98

Couch Beds—Drop side design, all iron frame, National spring fabric, complete with green denim covered mattress and bolster. Special at 4.50

75c Pillow for 48c—Made of good quality, clean mixed feathers, size 16x25 and covered in blue and white striped A. C. A. ticking 48c

Must Be Sold at a Great Sacrifice

Mail Orders Filled — Express Paid No Extra

Marabout Boas
Fur Turbans Flowers
Fancy Feathers Ornaments

Must be sold at once to make room for New Spring Goods.

Manufacturer Felix Kornfeld Importer

Marabout Furs

6 strands, were $4.50, now $3.25
Extra heavy, were $6.75, now $4.50
Best quality, were $9.75, now $5.75
Gold Roses, were $2.75, now $1.50
Paradise, very full, now..... $4.50
Large Silk and Velvet Roses, all new shades—
Were $1.25, now..... .75c
Were $2.25, now..... 1.25
Red Velvet Poinsettias, latest for Fur Turbans, were $1.50, now .75c
Black Willow Plumes, 21 inches long, 11 inches wide, now.. $9.25

Beautiful Ostrich Plumes

Black, white and colors.
13 inches, were $1.75, now.. $1.00
15 inches, were $3.50, now.. 2.00
18 inches, were $5.00, now.. 3.50
Full line of extra fine Plumes, very wide and full, all lengths, at greatly reduced prices.

Finest Fur Turbans

Black or brown, now..... 98c
Black Lynx, were $7.50, now $3.25
White Fox, extra fine, now.. $2.00
Mink, richly draped, now.. $4.50
Gray Fox, were $5.50, now.. $3.25

THE — 65 SUMMER STREET

Bombard Tent with Stones

"The particular thing that was objected to was my preaching against sectarianism and my opposition to secret societies. It is not the wearing of drums or the parading of banners with the wearing of brass or the use of instruments of music in the meetings and in the parades in the Holy Ghost.

Last Sunday, while preaching at Riverton, a small village within the town of Jefferson, Rev. E. B. Maxwell, of Plainfield, Vt., one of the clergymen connected with the Harvesters, met with still worse treatment than that which I encountered when I first went to the town. The tent in which the services were held was bombarded with stones. A few stones were made to pull it down, and the heads of the congregation were compelled to fight the stones off with umbrellas.

Invaders Disturb Meeting.

"This last season we remodeled a house which was presented to the Harvesters by Mrs. [illegible], one of our communicants. [illegible] before [illegible] our meetings were invaded by certain [illegible] disturbance of the town. Seventeen of them were in the church at one time [illegible] cause and went from time to time. The services were disturbed by these men, and all I could do, acting [illegible] left the pulpit and went down among them, [illegible] quiet.

"A little girl, eleven years of age, [illegible] Spirit, was a little [illegible] hands [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Sunday
December 27, 1908

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

Foreign News

DR. WALSH, NEW CHANCELLOR, PRIDE OF ALL IRELAND.

Great Scholar and Theologian Will Grace Important University Post.

LABOR DECISION NOTABLE

May Have a Vital Bearing on Irish Parliamentary Politics.

Special Correspondence of the Boston Sunday American

Dublin, Dec. 19.—All Ireland praises the appointment of Dr. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin, as first chancellor of the newly created National University of Ireland. The choice of the Senate is in full accord with popular sentiment throughout the country. From every class arise expressions of complete confidence that the election of Dr. Walsh is a strong guarantee that the university will be in fact what its charter and title claim it shall be, an institution of higher learning truly national and Irish in its atmosphere and character.

The Chancellor-elect is one of the most accomplished scholars and learned theologians in the Catholic world. In such widely diverse domains as literature, music, art, the world's politics, he is known and accepted as an authority of high degree. He is the author of books whose subjects range from Gregorian music and lamentations to the minutest analysis of Irish land law finance. His work on hereditarism was perhaps the first lucid explanation the intricate subject was ever given and is to-day a textbook used by students of hereditarism the world over. He is an accomplished linguist and an enthusiastic bibliographer. He is also an ardent lover of outdoor life and has traveled by motor through all the places of interest in Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

Strong National Influence.

From the beginning of his episcopate he has been a strong national influence in Ireland. Indeed, he has been affectionately called the "Pope of Ireland." Twenty years ago, in company with the late Dr. Croke, Archbishop of Cashel, he took a progressive and radical stand on the Irish question. His public appearances as a supporter of the Irish National Land League and its leaders were hailed with delight by his colleagues, all the more so as they emanated from the successor of Cardinal McCabe, who in his later years was altogether out of tune with the Irish people on the questions which they felt affected their most vital progress and welfare.

The chancellor of the new university is a musician of high attainment. His writings on Gregorian music are regarded with high favor. He is an expert stenographer. Faculty has found to be of immense value in literary and other work.

Archbishop Walsh received his education at Maynooth college, where he had a brilliant career. He carried off honors in all his classes and was ordained priest after his ordination, to fill one of the most important posts in the college. In 1874 he was made president of Maynooth, which position he held until he was appointed to Ireland in 1885 to be consecrated Archbishop of Dublin.

President and Viceroy.

One of the leading Dublin papers published a few days ago a short cable from the United States which was read with no small interest by the people of this country. It was to the effect that a member of Congress was about to introduce a bill to increase the annual salary of the United States from $5000 to $7500, 000 per annum. It was surprising to many Americans to learn that the salary of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is $100,000 while that of the President of the rich and powerful United States is $5000. The Viceroy of Ireland draws from the national treasury a sum over and above his salary and, in addition, is allowed all the household expenses of the viceregal establishment.

Of course it would be absurd to compare for a moment the duties and responsibilities of the President of the United States with those of the Governor of Ireland, yet the first is often called the most powerful monarch outside the crowned heads of Europe.

In fairness it should be said that, as a matter of fact, the Viceroy of Ireland is by no means so ridiculously overpaid, when all his charges and responsibilities are taken into consideration. Lord Rosebery, in an address delivered in Dublin some time ago, pointed out that the Viceroy of Ireland is an unpaid servant of India and has to perform many duties in that capacity. He receives and entertains at banquets and receptions, and, in addition, has to maintain a large staff of servants, a part of the expense of which he has to pay himself. In the United States only half of the expenses of the President are paid by the government.

Strange Court Decision.

A recent decision made by the Court of Appeals in Dublin, ruling that the trade union is not an unlawful association, is regarded by the people of Ireland as a wise decision. Parliament is liberal and must be obeyed, but only when obedience will not work a great deal of mischief. The Irish people have an interesting and far-reaching effect on labor politics, but may have an interesting and far-reaching effect on labor politics as well.

This decision of the Court of Appeals practically lifts the curtain from the question of the payment of the members of the House of Commons out of the public treasury, as in America. Of course, it will be remembered that in the United States that members of the House of Commons receive neither a salary nor mileage for mileage.

For generations this had the effect of giving to the House of Commons the generally acknowledged leaders of the leading men of London and the foremost statesmen in Europe. Now that the people, and even the poorest, can be elected to the House of Commons because of the fact that the salary of a member is $5000 per annum, it is expected that the House of Commons will become more democratic and will be less under the influence of the aristocracy.

The Duchess of Rutland, one of the most prominent women in society, is now an intimate friend of Miss Viola Tree. Miss Tree maintains an attitude of neutrality. The Duke of Rutland, who is one of the most ancient peers of England, is an ardent supporter of the Unionist party and his wife also is a strong partisan. Mrs. Tree, however, is unbiased and she continues to play the leading part in "A Marriage of Convenience," by Mrs. Belloc Lowndes.

The Duchess of Rutland, being an artist, always affects a rich Immonian society. Her favorite is the mother of the beautiful Lady Marjorie Manners. In modern times, Lady Marjorie Manners is a duchess, and at 20 May Yohe, formerly the wife of Lord Francis Hope, whom she married for the stranger's sake, her husband being her presumptive to the Duke of Newcastle.

Miss Viola Tree Wins the Heart of a Dukedom's Heir

Marquis of Granby Enthralled by the Lovely Daughter of the Famous Actor.

Special Cable to Boston American.

London, Dec. 19—[illegible] the famous actor and [illegible] of [illegible] Duke of Rutland. The Duke, who is one of the least active [illegible] peers of England, is [illegible] to the [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

DIET TOLD OF MAD KING LUDWIG'S PECULIARITIES.

Insane from Childhood, He Did Not Show Marked Signs Until 1861

LOUD MUSIC [illegible] HORSES

Justification of Rumored Move Made a Set of R[illegible]

LADY SOMERSET SCORES FOLLY OF SUFFRAGETTES

[illegible] to Chancellor [illegible] Work Harm to the [illegible] Sex Declares.

By Lady Henry Somerset.

London, Dec. 26.—The [illegible]

[illegible] body was permitted [illegible] messages could [illegible] gestures

Once the King drove out [illegible] and purple Louis XIV [illegible] rounded by [illegible] gendarmes "to shield him [illegible] Hon.

It was His Majesty's [illegible] of magnificence which caused his [illegible] to spend millions in building [illegible] castles and ennobling them in the [illegible] army.

Mrs. Craston, the "Woman with the Whip," militant suffragette, created a row in the recent Albert Hall meeting; Miss Christabel Pankhurst (left), and mother, on right, prominent Suffragettes.

MANSION IS GIFT TO MRS. KEPPEL

Chicago Girl and Smart Set Gets Surprise Christmas Eve

London, Dec. 26—Mrs George Keppel [illegible] because of her charm and wit stands [illegible] very head of London's very smart [illegible] exclusive circle [illegible]

MRS. GEORGE KEPPEL, WHO GOT A GREAT MANSION AS HER CHRISTMAS GIFT

AMERICAN'S OFFER OF DAUGHTER IS TOLD BY PEER.

Truth Takes a Fling at the United States in Supposed Communication.

NOBLEMAN WAS MARRIED

Talk of South Dakota Divorce and Graft Attributed to Millionaire

[illegible] Artist Americans Intolerable Truth is [illegible] dictionary, and pessimistic satire in this section. A characteristic diatribe is a supposed communication from one of the peers who voted against the Licensing Bill. The following extract will show the character of the whole article:

"I was having breakfast when a card was brought in to me from a man who said he wanted to see me on very urgent business. He was an American name—[illegible]

[illegible] About the face that got in for, [illegible] owned [illegible] down to the ground [illegible] when he saw it, and he kept on talking [illegible] about every [illegible] about [illegible] he was talking [illegible] I'm coming [illegible] the point for all this:

Came Over From Paris

[illegible] and had come straight over from Paris [illegible] the express he stopped [illegible] me and said he [illegible] beautiful girls in [illegible] know, among the [illegible] all of whom, [illegible] creation and had [illegible] a sum of [illegible] them, they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Sunday
December 27, 1908

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

Real Estate and Wants

REAL ESTATE

JOSIAH F. PRESCOTT

C. O. PETERS & CO.,
10 Tremont St., Boston.
Our Telephone is Main 1909-2.

CRUFF & BYRNE,
2405 WASHINGTON ST.

OAKMAN & CO.,
18 TREMONT ST. R. 915.

HENDERSON & ROSS,
1451 DORCHESTER AV., FIELDS CORNER, OR 141 KIMBALL BUILDING,
18 TREMONT STREET.

UPHAM'S CORNER

DORCHESTER CENTRE.

GEO. T. COLLINGHAM,
701 Tremont St.,
SOME RARE BARGAINS.

P. F. LELAND,
SPECIAL FARM BARGAINS.

$1,300, $500 DOWN, ALL STOCKED.

PINE AND SPRUCE TIMBER

200 Chicks, Poultry, Horse, Cow, 9 Hogs

$1,000, $500 Down, All Stocked.

UP COUNTRY BARGAINS.

LET PEAVEY CO.,
27 SCHOOL ST.

FULL COMMISSION TO BROKER MAKING SALE.

AUBURNDALE.
FULL COMMISSION TO BROKER MAKING SALE.

MOUNTFORT ST.

EVERETT

1 ACRE FARM PLOTS.

MUST GO

Somerville Bargains.

"A HOME OF YOUR OWN"

Within the 5c Fare Limit

ROSLINDALE

ALLSTON

Commonwealth Real Estate Trust
529-530 Old South Building, Boston
Telephone Main 636

13 MILES OUT

WELLESLEY

SOMERVILLE

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, $2,300

SUMMER HOME $250.

TIMBERLANDS.

TIMBER LOTS

BARTER & EXCHANGE
ONE CENT A WORD

Grocers, Markets, Restaurants.

APARTMENTS
Solid, 12½c. a line. Display, 30c. a line.

APARTMENTS
Solid, 12½c. a line. Display, 30c. a line.

BRAND NEW SUITES

APARTMENTS
Solid, 12½c. a line. Display, 30c. a line.

BACK BAY APARIMENTS

BOARD & ROOMS
Solid, 12½c. a line. Display, 30c. a line.

HOUSMAN'S

WHY WEAR YOURSELF OUT?
LET ME FIND YOUR APARTMENT

VISITORS TO BOSTON
FURNISHED ROOMS AND 2-ROOM FURNISHED SUITES.

OXFORD TERRACE.

GOING ABROAD.

Perfect Home in Dorchester.

NEW TRACT OF LAND
AT HOUGH'S NECK

"TROUT'S FARM BUYERS' GUIDE"

ROXBURY
Full Commission to Broker Making Sale

WINCHESTER.
Full Commission to Broker Making Sale

MONEY TO LOAN
Solid, 12½c. a line. Display, 30c. a line.

EVER NEED MONEY?
WE ARE STILL LENDING

Fidelity Loan Co., 47 Court St., Room 12
LOANS MADE WHILE YOU WAIT

CITY LOAN CO
(OVER PEOPLE'S BANK)

WHAT'S THE USE?

WAGE EARNERS' LOAN ASSN.

NO ONE REFUSED.
GLOBE LOAN CO.

Thousands Visit the American's New Branch Want Ad. Office

264 WASHINGTON ST.

IN THE JOURNAL BUILDING

Want Advertisers Can Get Premiums Here, Same as at Main Office

Where to Dine

HOUSES TO LET.

Especially Somerville

STORES, OFFICES, ETC.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES.
Not Solid 12½c. per line, Displayed, 30c. per line.

FARMS.

CAMERAS AND PHOTOGRAPHS.
Not Solid 12½c. per line, Displayed, 30c. per line.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

Set solid, 12½c. per line; displayed, 20c. per line

F. W. YERXA Boston Real Estate Co.
TREMONT BLDG., ROOM [illegible] 6 Beacon St Tel. Hay. 2353-2

LARGE SODA FOUNTAIN FOR SALE

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS

MARCY & CO.
101 Tremont St., Room 506

PATENTS
Send for My Free Book
"How to Get Them"
JOSHUA R. H. POTTS
800 Ninth St., Washington, D. C.

CASH FOR YOUR STORE, STOCK AND FIXTURES, NO MATTER WHERE LOCATED.

TIMBERLANDS
PINE AND SPRUCE

Thompson's Is the Place
TO LET

LUNCH ROOMS, LODGING HOUSES,

WINES AND LIQUORS.

Set solid, 12½c. per line; displayed, 20c. per line.

JOHN LYONS Importer & Wholesaler
121 Beach St., Boston
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED—SATISFACTION CORRESPONDENCE AND SOLICITATIONS

"BLUE GRASS" KENTUCKY'S FINEST WHISKEY
75c qt. $3 for 4 full qts. Case 12 qts., $8
Or, large bottle of Fine O. F. Port, Sherry or other wine free with gallon order.

We were selling our long famous Blue Grass Kentucky Whiskey, Rye and Bourbon, 10 years ago—long before the tax on alcohol—as the Key caused the government to pass a pure food law, and before [illegible] Blue Grass Whiskey was known here. [illegible] Blue Grass Whiskey has always been a splendid whiskey and Blue Grass is absolutely O K

WHISKIES
FREE
RUM
GINS BRANDY

Money Saving Holiday Combinations

Send Your Order to JOHN LYONS, 121 Beach St.,

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

BOSTON'S
GREATEST PIANO BARGAINS

Sale Closes Dec. 31. No Price Refused

The balance of the 250 upright pianos, new and slightly used, together with all the office fixtures, safes, typewriters, rolltop desks, chairs, cabinets, files, etc., of the various piano dealers who were put out of office by the powerful piano trust, must be sold before 9 o'clock p. m., Dec. 31st. More than half of this stock has already been sold. The remainder contains the best piano bargains of this century. Price doesn't mean anything at this sale. Our instructions are—sell. Forget all about any profit or expense. Sell. Clean up. Hold nothing back. Make any credit or cash terms you like—but sell.

$5 DOWN, $1 A WEEK

FREE Delivery Anywhere in Unmarked Wagons

OTHER WONDERFUL BARGAINS IN THIS BIG SALE

CHICKERING UPRIGHT	$80	MASON & HAMLIN UPRIGHT	$70
EMERSON UPRIGHT	$75	KNABE UPRIGHT	$100
EVERETT UPRIGHT	$65	McPHAIL UPRIGHT	$85
HAINES BROS. UPRIGHT	$80	MERRILL UPRIGHT	$90
HALLET & DAVIS UPRIGHT	$85	STEINWAY UPRIGHT	$75
HUNTINGTON UPRIGHT	$65	SOHMER UPRIGHT	$100
IVERS & POND UPRIGHT	$80	STEINHART UPRIGHT	$90
JACOB BROS. UPRIGHT	$70	VOSE UPRIGHT	$65
KRANICH & BACH UPRIGHT	$95	WM. BOURNE	$65
MARTIN BROS. UPRIGHT	$90	WEBBER UPRIGHT	$100

DELIVERED FREE Anywhere in Unmarked Wagons

ROXBURY STORAGE SALESROOMS
2111 Washington St., Roxbury, Boston, Mass., Cor. Williams St.

FREE BOX
10c Cigars
TO ALL CUSTOMERS

The Champion
$3 Combination

1 qt Star Brand	$1.00
1 qt best Martini Rum	1.00
1 qt Imp. Holland Gin	1.00
1 qt Imp. Sherry Wine	1.00
1 qt Rock & Rye Whiskey	1.00
1 qt Best XXXX Whiskey	1.00
1 qt Irish Whiskey	1.00
1 qt Scotch Whisky	1.00
1 qt Jamaica Rum	1.00
1 qt Imp. Port Wine	1.00

Any 5 of Above 10 Bottles, $3.00

1 Qt Ferndale Whiskey	$1.00
1 Qt Ferndale Rum	1.00
1 Qt Ferndale Brandy	1.25
1 Qt Pilate Cherry Cordial	1.00
1 Qt. Ferndale Port Wine	1.00
1 Qt. Ferndale Sherry Wine	1.00

All for $5.00. Value $6.25

J. B. DOHERTY CO.
Direct Importers, Wholesalers
518 Main St. Sullivan Sq., Boston

O. L. FERN CO., Inc.
95 UNION ST., BOSTON

CHATS ON WHISKEY
BY STERNE BROS.—NO. 35

4 FULL QUARTS $2.85

ORDER BY MAIL

STERNE BROS.
171 Summer St., Boston

LEGAL AND PUBLIC NOTICES.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

LAW

CLOTHING.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

EARLIEST VARIETY

ASTROLOGY.

FOR ADOPTION.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

When Ordering
FROM YOUR MAIL ORDER HOUSE
ORDER
Ky. Taylor Whiskey
"THE WORLD'S FINEST"
$1.00— THE FULL HONEST QT.

PHILIP HOWLETT & CO.

When Ordering
FROM YOUR MAIL ORDER HOUSE
ORDER
Ky. Taylor Whiskey
THE WORLD'S FINEST"
$1.00— THE FULL HONEST QT.

CASH REGISTERS.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

OUR GREAT GUARANTEE:
We guarantee to furnish a better Cash Register for less money than any other concern in the world.
THE NATIONAL CASH REGISTER CO.
3,000 HALLWOOD CASH REGISTERS.

DOGS, PETS, ETC.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed 20c. per line.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

DETECTIVES.

Set solid 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

The Wood-Morgan Detective Agency

RAY DETECTIVE AGENCY.

TALKING MACHINES.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line

OSGOOD
744 TO 756 WASHINGTON ST.
AMERICA'S LARGEST LIBERAL HOME FURNISHER

Popular Edison Outfit $27.10

$1.00 DOWN
$1.00 A WEEK

Edison, Victor & Columbia Machines & Records
Attachment for Playing the New AMBEROL (4 minute) Records
$5.00 Extra

SEND FOR OUR CATALOGUE

Edison Latest 1909 Model Phonograph WITH NEW Amberol RECORDS

$1 A WEEK

$1 A WEEK

Your Credit Is Good At Pike's

STOVES.

Set solid, 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

MUSIC.

Set solid 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

BARNARD'S ONE DOLLAR PIANO PLAN
$1 DOWN $1 A WEEK

CALL AT
H. W. BERRY'S
646 Washington Street
Boston
ESTABLISHED IN 1870

EASY TERMS

CLEARANCE SALE.
PIANOS sold WASHINGTON STREET.

PIANOS TUNED, $1.

BILLIARDS AND POOL.

Set solid 12½c. per line, displayed, 20c. per line.

Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co

BOWLING ALLEYS ON EASY PAYMENTS.
Send for free catalogue.

Want Advertisers

Will do well to see the beautiful display of premiums in the window of our down town office,

264 Washington Street

All Premiums given to Want Advertisers in the Sunday American.

Remember

You can leave ads. at 80 Summer St. or 264 Washington St. and get your premiums at either place.

AGENTS AND SALESMEN

Set solid 12½c per line; displayed, 25c per line

A BIG NEW YEAR'S GIFT TO ALL PEOPLE WISHING TO Start a Mail Order Business.

TRIPLEX HAND-BAGS, FOUR BAGS IN ONE.

PHOTO AMATEURS, LOOK! BRAND NEW TRANSFER PAPER JUST OUT PRINT your own film on any paper in daylight

PRISCILLA HAND TRIPLEX BAGS

WANTED—MAN OF MEANS

TAILORS' CLEARING HOUSE.

DON'T BE A READY-MADE MAN

George's Never Offers Old Styles or Out of Date Patterns.

LOST AND FOUND.

Set solid 12½c per line; displayed, 25c per line

LOST!

On train leaving Newport at 5 P. M. for Boston containing Jewelry valuable for their associations. A liberal reward if returned to the office of Elmer A. Lord & Co., 145 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

Green Leather Bag

FOR SALE.

Set as 8, 12 or 20c per line; displayed, 20c per line

INVERTED GAS LAMPS

50c

65c

15 Months 950 Dozen

BOSTON LIGHT SUPPLY CO.

14 COOPER SQUARE, Off North Washington St., near Haymarket Sq.

STORAGE.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Set solid, 12½c per line, displayed, 30c per line

TATTOOING.

CARPET CLEANING.

Set solid 12½c per line; displayed 25c per line

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN BOSTON AMERICAN

HELP WANTED

Set solid, 10c per line; displayed 20c per line

MALE

MEN WANTED AT ONCE

To Drive, Repair and Sell

Automobiles

SALARIES

$25.50 Week

BOSTON AUTO SCHOOL

Inc. under the laws of Mass.

509 Tremont St., Boston

20 Market Sq., Prov., R. I.

209 WOODSMEN.

FUR COATS, $1.00

PAINTERS OF UNION 11

MALE

MEN WANTED.

SOLICITORS WANTED.

LEARN ENGRAVING.

DIAMONDS AND JEWELRY.

Set solid, 12½c per line, displayed, 30c per line

Lenox Jewelry Co.

No Interest Charged.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, $1 DOWN, $1 A WEEK

Open an Account Now. We Will Trust You.

Lenox Jewelry Co.

373 Washington St., Room 75

ON CREDIT—Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry

PRUDENTIAL SUPPLY CO.

5 Bromfield St.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY $1.00 PER WEEK

TYPEWRITERS.

Set as 12 c per line, displayed, 20c per line

TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE

FURNITURE.

Set solid, 12½c per line displayed 20c per line

Rugs & Carpets MILL ENDS

25c to 50c On the Dollar.

MACHINERY AND TOOLS.

REFRIGERATORS.

FEMALE

WANTED

50 Extra Saleswomen for

Starr's Great January

Clearance Sale

Must be thoroughly experienced

Suits, Coats, Skirts, Waists, Furs, Etc.

Apply at superintendent's office ready for work Monday morning. Bring references.

L. STARR & CO.

35-41 Winter Street

"DIFFERENT FROM THE REST."

$1.00 Per Week

Clothing Jewelry

ORDERS ON ALL CASH STORES

PEOPLE'S CREDIT COMPANY

644 Washington St., cor. Winter

100 GIRLS WANTED AT ONCE.

TWO WAISTS

TO THE PURCHASER OF ONE OF OUR HALF PRICE SUITS OR 2 SKIRTS

FREE

WOMEN'S SAMPLE GARMENT CO.

ACCOUNTS OPENED

L. ZANDITON,

GOOD ADVICE.

LEARN ENGRAVING.

LEARN DRESSMAKING

PETTICOATS

SUITS AND COATS.

SEWING MACHINES.

DESKS.

SITUATIONS WANTED

MALE

FEMALE

WANTED.

Set solid 12½c per line; displayed 20c per line

AUTOMOBILES

Set solid, 12½c per line; displayed, 20c per line.

WASHINGTON ST. THE Franklin Sq. Auto 51 Co. MYSTIC ST.

BIG CUT PRICE IN AUTOMOBILES.

NEW ENGLAND AUTO CO.

$130 BUYS

$250 BUYS

I WILL PAY YOU CASH FOR YOUR AUTO.

POULTRY, PIGEONS, ETC.

Set solid 12½c per line, displayed, 30c per line.

To Raise Squab for Profit

Room 423, 6 Beacon St., Boston

SQUAB

DEATH NOTICES.

50 cents

PATENTS.

Set solid, 12½c per line; displayed, 20c per line.

PATENTS SECURED

PICTURE FRAMES.

Set solid 12½c per line, displayed, 20c per line

DEATH NOTICES.

50 cents.

URGES STATION AT CASTLE STREET TO AID RAPID TRANSIT

Establish Transit Station for Surface and "L" Cars, Says C. A. Ufford, and Electrity Steam Roads.

[illegible] Would Save Money and Time [illegible]

MANY SUGGESTIONS IN TRANSIT PUZZLE

"Elevated System Most Complicated in World"

[illegible] JEREMIAH H. [illegible]

Boston, Dec. 26.

"Cast e Junction"

[illegible] Transit Commission Does Not Look Far Enough Ahead.

[illegible] Would Aid South Boston.

[illegible] Ox-Cart Methods of Vermont Preferable

[illegible] Bad More Loops

[illegible] Could Obviate Trouble.

[illegible] Back to Old Conditions Before Elevated

[illegible] Should Force "L" to Relieve Conditions

[illegible] Traffic Conditions Hurt Business in City."

[illegible] Cross-town Subway to Relieve Congestion.

[illegible] Wants Loop Trains Put Back Into Subway

[illegible] Crushing Jams in Cars In Old Subway.

[illegible] Urges Citizens to Attend Commission Hearing.

[illegible] Praises Suggestion for Loop Trains.

[illegible] Wants Bill Presented To Next Legislature

[illegible] Working Girl Scores Conditions in Cars

[illegible] Official Guides, Please! Says This Traveler

[illegible] FAELTEN PIANO PUPILS GIVE FINISHED RECITAL

[illegible] Lynn Man Hit by Truck.

[illegible] Spanish War Veterans' Dance.

[illegible]

Plans for Station to Solve Transit Puzzle

[illegible] —Plan of Charles A. Ufford of Rapid Transit Committee, Harvard Improvement Association.

BATTLE IN 4 STATES ENDS WILD RIDE BY FOR SENATORSHIP SHOOTING UP HOTEL

[illegible] Rich Chicago Business Man Arrested by Police After Night of Revelry.

By Boston American Leased Wire

[illegible]

BOY SHOT HIMSELF WITH XMAS PISTOL

CAPTURE A BURGLAR AND WIN $100 PRIZE

[illegible]

CHANUKA CELEBRATION IN FANEUIL HALL TODAY

Plans All Complete to Entertain 1,000 Children—Fine Musicale.

[illegible]

Last night the town was patrolled by policemen all armed with revolvers and stout guns. Two were in charge of the Chief Constable and Constable P. J. Mullarkey of the town of Weston.

BRITISH WORKMEN'S ACT IS WORKING BADLY

Employers' Liability Too Sweeping, Underwriters Say.

London, Dec. 26.—The workmen's compensation act, which is believed here to have been taken as a model by President Roosevelt in suggesting extension of the American employers' liability legislation, has proved so unsatisfactory in the [illegible] that many of the leading underwriters of London are seeking [illegible] their intention of greatly increasing the rate of premiums on this class of risks on January 1.

[illegible]

HERE'S ONE OF THE ODDEST WEDDING TRIPS GOING

The Couple Leaves Everything to Chance, Including Ceremony.

Oxford, Pa., Dec. 26.—"We don't know where we are going, but we are on the honeymoon trip, and that is enough for us," said Charles W. Rean of Pennsylvania upon [illegible]

[illegible]

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY PASSES 71ST MILESTONE

Hero of Manila Hears From Admirers Near and Far.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Admiral George Dewey celebrated today his seventy-first birthday at the Dewey home in K street in a manner more after the admiral's own heart. Neither fuss nor show and no social functions of any kind were indulged in, but the day was made pleasant with remembrances from a host of friends throughout the country.

ROMAN PALACE BADLY SACKED BY FLAMES

Rome, Dec. 26.—A treacherous fire, which originated in the imperial room of the Arazzi in the royal palace today still [illegible] The efforts of the soldiers and firemen who attempted to extinguish [illegible] While the loss is slight, it might even be amounted to a great deal but for the presence of mind of the firemen, who carried many precious works of art and [illegible] safety before they were [illegible] the mystery of the blaze lies in its origin. The precious wall frescoes known to the [illegible] have been [illegible] from behind the tapestries upon the walls.

IRISH LEAGUE'S DANCE.

The John E. Redmond Branch, United Irish League of America, will hold its fifth annual concert and dance in Catholic Union Hall, February 11.

WEDS WIDOW OF YOUNGER BROTHER

Tender Sympathy at Mutual Bereavement Ripens in Two Years to Love.

[illegible] W. H. Arris of Lewiston, Me., and his bride, formerly his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ada B. Arris of Lynn, were in Boston this noon. Arris having wedded the widow of his younger brother.

Mr. Arris's first husband died two years ago at Lewiston. The sudden sympathy of the elder brother helped to [illegible] the widow's sorrow and the mutual regard of the two deepened to love.

On Christmas day Mrs. Arris became the wife of her brother-in-law at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hook of No. 181 Walnut street, Lynn. Rev. De Waters of the High Street Baptist church performed the ceremony. Miss Josephine Arris was bridesmaid and George Ray best man.

[illegible]

BELIEF THAT CRISIS IS ONLY POSTPONED

[illegible]

PADEREWSKI IS TO GIVE ONE RECITAL IN BOSTON

Noted Pianist Booked for Saturday, February 6.

[illegible]

MISS EISEMAN BRIDE OF JOSEPH ULMAN

Brilliant Assembly Witnesses Ceremony at the Somerset; Honeymoon in Europe.

The small ballroom at the Hotel Somerset was the setting for a beautiful marriage ceremony last evening when Miss Bertha Eiseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eiseman, became the bride of Joseph Ulman, Jr., son of Joseph Ulman of New York city, known as the largest fur dealer in the world.

The prelude to the wedding ceremony was "Freischutz," sung by the boy choir of Temple Israel. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was sung as a wedding march.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white liberty satin in empire style with [illegible] and Burano lace trimming [illegible] a point lace veil caught with orange blossoms and carried white orchids [illegible] Rabbi Fleischer performed the ceremony. Albert Eiseman, the bride's father, gave her in marriage.

Herbert Eiseman, brother of the bride, as head usher, led the bridal party, followed by the ushers, Harold Sterne, New York city, Stanley Sieberliner, Haverhill, Edward Cohen, Fred Eiseman, Sumner Weil, Phil Rose of Louisville, Kentucky, and Albert Eiseman.

The four bridesmaids, gowned in apricot liberty satin gowns of the directoire period, carrying pink rosebuds, were Henrietta Seidel, Judith Wurtheim, Elsie Eiseman, a cousin of the bride, and Elsie Worner. Mrs. Edna Sinsheimer and Miss Julian Stern of New York city were matrons of honor. They were handsome [illegible] gowned in white and carried white roses.

Miss Evelyn Eiseman, a sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore white liberty satin and carried bouquet of [illegible] Charles Ulman, brother of the groom, was best man.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party marched to the [illegible] "Perfect Love."

The bride and groom assisted by the [illegible] received congratulations in the [illegible] room. Mrs. Eiseman wore white [illegible] satin trimmed with [illegible]

Ad returned to the ball room, where [illegible] wedding supper was served. Guests from New York, New Haven, Chicago and surrounding places, to the number of 250, were in attendance.

The decorations in the ball room were [illegible] and carnations and throughout [illegible] added to the festivity of the occasion.

The bride and groom will tour Europe [illegible] sailing on the Kaiserin from New York [illegible] The bride's traveling dress is [illegible] trimmed with [illegible] dress.

FOUND DEAD AFTER BREAK WITH WIF

Worcester, Dec. 26.—Brooding at [illegible] over domestic troubles which resulted in separation from his wife, Josephus Dwight Sess, [illegible] years old, was found dead, apparently [illegible] the room [illegible]

Sess [illegible] Dec. 25 [illegible] by his wife and [illegible] Shanahan and Medical Examiner [illegible] Coroner Bemis [illegible]

Sess had not lived with his wife [illegible] September 17, when [illegible] to leave the house [illegible] [illegible] Mrs. Sess [illegible]

[illegible] Sess [illegible] Mrs. Sess [illegible] Sess [illegible] Mrs. Sess [illegible] Sess [illegible] Mrs. Sess [

SLAYER OF BOY CHUM SOBS FOR MOTHER IN JAIL CELL.

"I'm Sorry for Frank, I'm Only a Kid," Krantz Moans to Guards.

SHEDS TEARS OF REMORSE

Worcester Lad Declares He Cares Not What Be-comes of Him

Worcester, Dec. 26—Sobbing out his long story of the Summer street fire, the anguish of guilt and the enormity of his confessed crime has dawned upon him relieved only by the static visits of his mother and his brother Joseph, fourteen-year-old Ralph W. Krantz, who shot to death Frank E. Jones on Hovey's Pond last Monday, because the sorrow for his deed, his sorrow that Frank Jones is dead—and by his hand—and his grief over what the crime means for his mother.

"I'm sorry I shot Frank," he moans to the guards, who have nothing but pity for the rosy-cheeked lad, locked up, charged with the highest crime known to the law.

"I'm sorry I shot Frank, and I'm sorry for my mother, and I'm only a kid," is what each relief of the corridor guard in the grim black jail hears, amid the sobs.

"I don't care what becomes of me, only for my mother," he sometimes adds. His mother and his remorse are the keener and grief diction are ever in the mind of the young prisoner.

Daily his mother and brother Gustav bring him fruit and delicacies. They console him, but as they leave the mother's tears flow and the crushing thing-ma-jesty of her sorrow in his solemn mien the grief he feels.

Sorry for Mother.

"I'm sorry for Frank, I'm sorry for mother and I'm sorry for—"

It seems as if the words of the boy ring in the ears of the jailer, the guard, near the prisoner, if the keeper as stirring, the never-ending sobbing and supporting, they sorrow descend the grim corridors from the cell of the lad and wend their way to a deserted home.

Young Krantz is left to the solitude of his cell, with only the sobbing of his mother and brother to break the silence, and stretches on a pile of straw among a

He has [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

TAX DODGING IN BAY STATE ON THIRTY MILLIONS

Now Law Reveals Vast Amount of Concealed Personal Property in Massachusetts.

OVER $2,000,000 IN BOSTON

Towns of Dover and Nahant Head List in Point of Delinquency

The [illegible] value of $ [illegible] fully [illegible] the reasons given in Massachusetts was shown [illegible] obtained by local assessors after the working of a law passed by the last Legislature.

Boston is charged with tax dodging on at least $2,000,000 of property.

By this new law local assessors have been given authority to search the records in possession of the State tax commissioner, obtained by him solely for the purpose of a levy for an inheritance tax.

As assessors heretofore have had to rely upon the voluntary submission of facts as to personal holdings of men in corporations, the accurate figures could be obtained, and so the tax on personal property has been easily dodged or avoided.

Now the pupil, coffers will be filled.

By the searching of stockholders' concealed assets, and to date the figures total $28,485,336. The list for the city of Boston has not yet been completed, and only 210 out of the 384 pages to hear from have been [illegible].

When the remaining pages are heard from the amount will be conservative estimate will run to about $30,000,000.

May Get Another Million.

Up to date the assessors in Boston have discovered something over $2,000,000 on which taxes are not paid, but it is expected that when they have completed their work of looking up all property another million will be added.

Astounding[illegible] large amounts have been discovered in [illegible]Dover, Lowell, Brookline, Nahant, New Bedford and Manchester. Records of Dover head the list, having unreported personal property to the amount of $6,15[illegible],000 on which [illegible] Nahant comes next with [illegible] unreported property to the amount of $4,850,[illegible]. Brookline [illegible] were found to have [illegible] escaped taxation, and a total of [illegible] personal holdings.

The property which is brought into the [illegible] list [illegible] consists of shares of [illegible] corporations.

The local assessors [illegible] examine records of [illegible] of deeds and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Tilting at Windmills

A Pursuit That Is Interesting and Calls Forth a Kind of Admiration, but Which Accomplishes Nothing Whatever.

HERE is a picture of Don Quixote, Cervantes's foolish but gallant knight, tilting at a windmill, which he has mistaken for an enemy and means to destroy.

You see him dressed in all the cumbersome, clumsy armor with which the knights of old used to clothe themselves. Of course, any moderately strong man, clad in ordinary clothing, could have beaten such a knight in a fight, because the armor was so unwieldy that it was like moving a battleship to get about in it.

But the old Sir Knights refused to fight any but their own kind, so the contests that they waged were fairly equal.

We have taken Don Quixote as a topic for this editorial because the thing you see him doing illustrates a very human quality.

Allowing that it would be desirable to destroy the harmless, necessary windmill, Don Quixote has gone about the work as a great many men go about their affairs, with bluster and brag and a solemn faith in their powers, based on nothing.

And, like Don Quixote, they too often choose useless exploits, attacking things that are not only harmless, but actually of use, when they might devote their energies to worthy purposes, and by making good use of them become of service to themselves and to the other men that have been put into the world with them.

In every man is a certain amount of the mechanical force that is known as ENERGY.

This store of force must be drawn upon for every thought, every action. The man who has toiled all day with his muscles cannot work so well with his MIND as the man who only works with his mind.

The nervous force required to keep the muscles working saps the energy that the brain requires to do its best work. Sleep and rest must intervene before it can be recruited again. Fortunately, the supply is replenished day by day. Food supplies the material; sleep permits it to be transmuted into force.

It is upon this energy that whatever we do depends. Nothing wastes it so fast as violence, whether it is exercise or anger or too great strain in an attempt to accomplish something beyond our present powers.

To go forth into the world attempting to do spectacular things that are utterly useless is not only foolish, but harmful. Much of the best energies of the world have been wasted in cruel, murderous wars, in killing human beings, devastating countries, engendering bitterness that lasts for generations, smoldering dully for a time and then bursting forth again into fresh wars and fresh murders.

Could this energy have been used profitably—used for the advancement of the people of the world, instead of for their destruction—we should to-day be much nearer real civilization.

But in every age men have tilted at windmills, blindly fought for the sake of fighting, and, even when right, chosen ways to accomplish their purpose that made its accomplishment impossible.

Napoleon, the greatest military genius ever born into the world, tilted at a tremendous windmill—the whole of Europe. He thought he could make himself its Emperor, its master, subdue all its people and form such a monarchy as the world had never seen.

He brought misery and suffering and unhappiness into the world—caused men to murder each other, they knew not why, threatened to destroy the peace of the world forever.

And all the time he was tilting at a windmill that, when he had gone, turned serenely on.

Had that genius been used to upbuild the world rather than to tear it down, it might have done as much for the advancement of the world as it did to retard its progress.

In all forward and upward movements courage is important—necessary. But the courage of the bulldog never avails against the adroitness of the equally courageous but abler wildcat.

We admire the bulldog charging blindly at his prey, but we pity him a little later when the prey comes off victorious.

In Cervantes's wonderfully entertaining story we cannot help admiring his valiant knight, any more than we can help pitying the misfortunes into which his misdirected energy is constantly plunging him.

Determination, tenacity of purpose, WILL POWER men must have if they expect to be anything but mere cumberers of the earth, content with the little food and shelter that they can use for themselves in the brief space of time they are here.

But there is so much that every man ought to do, and so little time in which to do it, that, unless he uses all his energy well, he will find that he is standing still while the procession of progress moves on.

Use the talents that have been given you carefully, and make everything you do count. Leave the tilting at windmills for men who have nothing but courage. They are interesting and entertaining, but they are of no more real value than the wild bear, who is ALL courage—lacking in every other important quality of man or beast.

Cupid the Surgeon

A Funny New Book That Tells Every Kind of Man How to Win Any Kind of a Woman.

"The terms of surrender may be entirely satisfactory, but there must be a battle before the lady capitulates."

Some Epigrams from Herman Lee Meader's New Book.'

There is only one thing in the world worth winning, [illegible] falls.

[illegible] WOMAN WANTS [illegible]

GIVE THEM WHAT THEY THINK THEY WANT.

First give her subtle compliments, huge [illegible], her rubies, and lastly an automobile [illegible].

[illegible] satisfactory, but there must be a battle be[illegible] is capitulates.

[illegible] Therefore, I beg you to be artful. Oh! [illegible] without your finesse our most aggressive gallantry is wasted. Were I allowed to give my despairing brothers but two words of advice, they would be, PATIENCE! PERSEVERANCE.

TO APPEASE BABIES [illegible]

The real triumph of the operation depends upon four big carvers from the instrument case—STRENGTH, FLATTERY, GENEROSITY and APPARENT SINCERITY.

FLATTERY is that refinement of polite speech that enables a beautiful woman to realize her charms and an ugly one to imagine [illegible].

There is no more serviceable club in your bag of tricks than Flattery, and it can be used on any woman, whether you wish to drive, putt or loft.

Women, by the environment of centuries, are small and narrow. They want to be big and they admire bigness, just as every one craves for that which he does not possess.

Skill in sincerity is acquired as it would be in archery—by practice. First, get a very cupid girl and shoot her full of love darts, then gradually aim at more difficult targets until you will finally be able to fix with the shameless face of a mine promoter or a speculator in suburban real estate. At last you may rely upon a bull's eye at every shot, against even the most sophisticated of women.

The conceited woman not only relishes flattery, she requires it. As well expect shrubs to bud without rain, or clergymen to fatten without the guilty conscience of the tainted coin collectors in their parish.

Women usually get what they want; consequently we may expect the mercenary one to be rich in the products of the earth.

Since rubies and sapphires first glittered, maidens have had their hearts made glad by stringing these gems about their vitals.

"Since rubies and sapphires first glittered, maidens have had their hearts made glad by stringing these gems about their vitals."

Hero worship is as much a part of woman as corset steels, and the martyr spirit is never deeper than the epidermis.

This is an era of systematizing in business, and so it should be in love-making, which is not a mere sanie of chance, but an exact science, every move of which can be reduced to formulae with all the precision of whist leads or the attack and defense of the salle d'armes.

Give flattery to the conceited woman, promises of eternal fidelity to the sentimental one, precious gifts to the mercenary and sensational thrills to her who is tormented with ennui.

The man who never parleys over cab fare, who never scans the prices on a wine list or a menu, and who hibernates when he's broke, carries an infallible amulet against feminine criticism.

A carefully prepared toilet and a modish wardrobe may be indispensable, yet the real masculine triumph depends on the strength, flattery, generosity and apparent sincerity.

Supplement an erect carriage with an athletic swing to your walk and a discreet amount of bluster about your prowess, and the woman will soon have a gladiator on a pedestal.

The Pasteur treatment may save you from rabies, but there is no antitoxin in all materia medica that offers any relief to the young man bitten by a rejuvenated dame whose face is a panorama of warfare between crow feet and cosmetics.

"To appease babies and women, give them what they think they want."

"Unlike bass and rabbits, WOMAN WANTS TO BE CAUGHT—A wise provision of nature that deserves the never-ending gratitude of masculine stupidity."

"The conceited woman not only relishes flattery, she requires it. As well expect shrubs to bud without rain, or clergymen to fatten without the guilty conscience of the tainted coin collectors in their parish."

COMPARATIVELY few men are able to appeal successfully to the interest and affections of the opposite sex. They may be adepts at the subtleties of the great American game of poker, shrewd and clever in business deals, great rate winning shots—but when it comes to making the right sort of impression [illegible] of their choice they are [illegible] clods.

Observing this unfortunate fact, and inflamed with desire to remedy the most important defect in his fellow men, Mr. Herman Lee Meader has written and the Henry Altemus Company, of Philadelphia, have published, a helpful volume on the subject, having the hope inspiring title of 'Cupid the Surgeon.'

With true scientific thoroughness the author went direct to the fountain source of the whole matter, and from the lips of very god himself learned the various secrets which he imparts to his fellowmen, says Mr. Meader to begin with.

"There is only one thing in the world worth winning—a woman. Yet men all [illegible] tempts to storm the other quarry with such crude pick [illegible].

Elsewhere [illegible] page are printed opinions from [illegible] Surgeon," which are guaranteed to show [illegible] how they may improve upon the [illegible] nature has put in the past [illegible] can easily be committed [illegible] anywhere, on the [illegible] hope the most en[illegible]

"Unlike bass and rabbits, woman wants to be caught—a wise provision of nature that deserves the never-ending gratitude of masculine stupidity."

Now enters the wisdom of Cupid in his surgical capacity. He understands the importance of diagnosis, which is necessary in the case of women for, unlike bass, they are extremely [illegible] and the call that would be exactly [illegible] will be [illegible] perfect.

Of course it is impossible to furnish a diagnosis of the case of each individual woman in the world. Fortunately Doctor Cupid is able to overcome this difficulty. He separates them into four classes, the [illegible] cified, the Sentimental, the Mercenary and the Blase. Therefore, to a general way, there are but four separate and distinct processes involved in the great business of catching your woman.

Now comes a really big discovery. Each of these four [illegible] women has exactly the same [illegible] wants, but you don't need to consider them, and you can't, for she doesn't know what they are herself. But she knows what she wants and [illegible] are you go[illegible]

Because being a [illegible] you are so [illegible] at once to [illegible] you are [illegible] aside your woman in that case a sure [illegible] conceited [illegible] provided for you [illegible] Full of how you can [illegible]

The Birth of Christ — by Ella Wheeler Wilcox

[illegible] Christ [illegible]

It was a Mass [illegible] gone a-Maying [illegible]
and [illegible]
cause [illegible]
with drudgery [illegible]
so this little [illegible] them out, and had [illegible] behind the [illegible] of her young eyes [illegible] breast to be [illegible]

"It was [illegible]
lets and [illegible]
she went about her [illegible]
soothed with [illegible] tones of the old mans voice. And finally the long day [illegible] through she was an orthodox Jew [illegible] believed no Messiah has yet come [illegible] still Christ was born in her heart that day.

A man deeply [illegible] Church by [illegible] been able to [illegible] the [illegible] Immaculate Conception and Salvation by Blood [illegible] all come by living a man's faith in his own way.

And [illegible]
[illegible]

Where [illegible] there was [illegible]
[illegible] And [illegible]
[illegible] eyes of [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

I know that woman for my wife, [illegible] mother of my children. [illegible] Oh, if not the best, she [illegible] me as well as [illegible] I have made a mistake, but [illegible] the fault she shall never know that I have made a mistake. My children shall never suffer because there is a shadow over the home of their parents. I will make [illegible] mistake with their environment and proof of love.

"There must be a [illegible] happiness in life than that which [illegible] from gratified [illegible]

[illegible] was born in [illegible] on that

[illegible] suffering for [illegible] and still [illegible] in mind or her birth, gazed [illegible] crust of crowd [illegible] was [illegible] the [illegible] form of a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE SENATOR FROM OHIO--WHO?

The Scramble of Foraker Against Taft; Standard Oil Against the Administration.

By Alfred Henry Lewis.

Washington, Dec. 27.

WERE this a tale told of the French court in a day of Louis XIV., and had it happened about White Hall in an hour of the second James, how an interested world would pore over it! But to be sure in such event it would have been written by a St Simon or an Anthony Hamilton and that of itself should make a mighty difference.

Out in Columbus, sprawling on Scioto banks, Standard Oil is trying to elect a Senator. Or rather, since the gentleman thus favored by Standard Oil is the Hon. Joseph Benson Foraker, I should say re-elect a Senator. Not that the oily ones are to have a walkover. There are already a round half dozen Richmonds in this particular Beauworth field.

There will be money and trick and intrigue and chicane. Legislators will be bought and bluffed and bullied and bamboozled. Also from beginning to end no one will say, "the people's interest," or think for one moment of so hopelessly trite an argument as public good. The people have no more to do with picking their Senators in Ohio than they have in New York. In the Buckeye State the Boss—ruling the cubile, ruled himself by money—is as potent, not to say as numerous, as in this, the Empire State. The people have that share in Senator-picking they have in Trotman's stock. They pay their money. They look on. If they interfere, or even comment upon it in a voice above a whisper, out they are thrown.

When Mr. Hearst read those letters sent to Mr. Foraker by that "little Satan's thumb of evil, Mr Archbold, every man between the country's coast lines thought the Foraker death knell of politics had been rung. But, as I have already had occasion to remark, the public memory is very, very short. It has the life of a butterfly, a brief two weeks perhaps and after that events for good or ill, or black or white, are as though they had not been. Even now, the Archbold-Foraker story with its "Dear Charley," "according to our understanding," has all but faded from the popular mind. To tell mankind anything, however grave in its own concerns, I am impressibly to name it in its effects a breathing on a mirror. It is no more than a question of minutes when all has passed away, leaving the mirror or the mind as coldly shallow, as ominously receptive as before.

However enough preaching to the pulpits, let me go back to my story.

Here is a primary word to say. It isn't often that the people of Ohio—to employ the phrase of politicians and sinners—"ever look a horse." They did, however, when recently they knocked together a new constitution. They rearranged the sittings of the Legislature after such manner as abolished the Winter of 1908-9 a legislative blank, and they did not provide for taking care of the Senatorship, which will, Mr Foraker aboard will run ashore on March the 4th.

Thus the Governor could appoint, pending the coming of the legislature. But in its inchoate of Buckeye tangle, too appointing Governor would be Mr Harris a Democrat. This a trifleman he must name by dint of his party's convention a fortnight last Fall would be ex-Governor Campbell, a Democrat; and all highly distressing to the Republican soul.

This difficult choice in the State's politics [illegible] Mr Hanna [illegible] would [illegible] Republican [illegible] of [illegible] Mr Hanna [illegible] January 12th, the [illegible] Senator and successor whom will be the [illegible] Mr Hanna [illegible] Chief [illegible] Monday in January" [illegible] practically "on hand" parades [illegible] up until the 11th, and [illegible] Therefore, for any Harrison [illegible]

Before turning to any [illegible] dates, or laying bets of [illegible] Hanna, let me [illegible] what conditions will exist when the Columbus Legislature comes together. On joint ballot, House and Senate, the Legislature will have one hundred and fifty-one votes of these sixty will be Democrats, ninety-one Republicans. Seventy-six will elect a Senator.

The first battle will be fought in the Republican caucus. Should the ninety-one Republicans all go into the caucus and the unit rule obtain—as it always has in Buckeye annals—the question of a Senator will be made to depend on forty-six. There, as might say some artist of monte-speculation, you have "the lay-out." Now come we to the question of candidates.

There is Mr. Foraker, feared, hated, but backed by Standard Oil, opposed, morally speaking, by every self-respecting man of the Commonwealth. Then we have Mr Taft, of Hamilton County, and, per [illegible] brother of the President-elect, Mr Dougherty, of Lafayette County. Mr Keifer of Clark County, and just now in the House of Representatives as Washington; Mr Harris, of Preble County, the present Governor, who calls the extra session; Mr Burton, of Cuyahoga County, to whom by the other day Mr Taft offered the Treasury portfolio to take effect next 4th of March, and ex-Governor Herrick, also of Cuyahoga, who doesn't expect to land the prize himself, but doesn't want the ambitious Mr Burton to succeed.

"Rolling in its golden barrel—a hogshead this trip!—Standard Oil would go to work."

"The boneless, spineless, vine-like Mr. Dick."

"Why does Mr. Herrick adopt this dog-in-the-manger attitude?"

"In figure Mr. Taft is slight, dark, shadowy, commonplace, lacking in emphasis."

"President-elect Taft will indubitably have Mr. Burton out of the race on a plan to put him in his Cabinet."

Pictures by Penrhyn Stanlaws

OH, WINNIE!

Copyrighted, 1909, by the American Examiner (Great Britain Rights Reserved)

Verse by Carolyn Wells

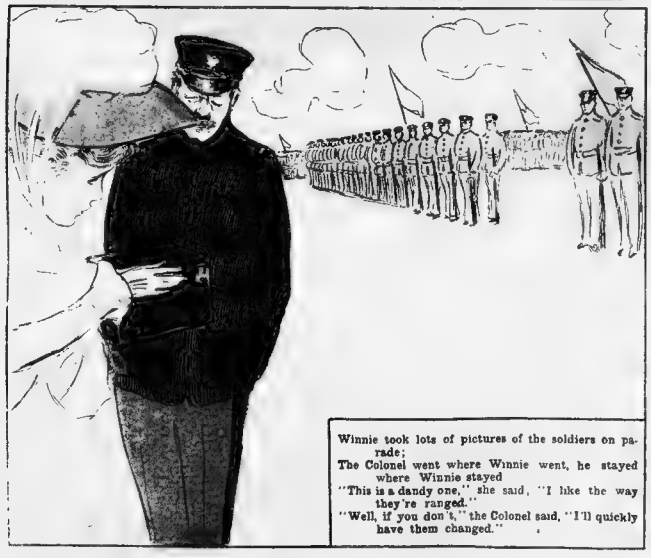
As blithely tripping toward the fort came winsome Winnie Wynne,
She saw another lady who was trying to get in.
"Why they refuse the poor old thing," thought Winnie, "I don't see;
But I somehow rather fancy that they won't say no to me!"

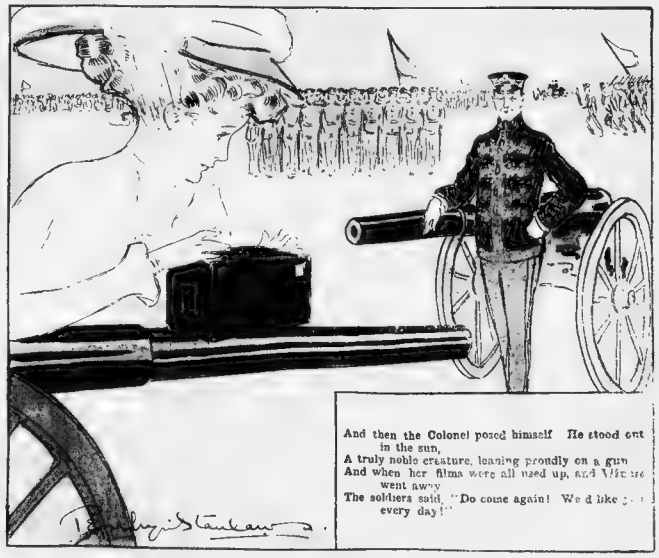
When Winnie reached the portal, to her very great surprise,
The sentry held his hand up, with refusal in his eyes.
"I'm very sorry, miss," he said; "I hate to spoil your sport,
But no one with a camera is let inside the fort."

"Oh, dear!" said winsome Winnie, "that's exactly what I feared!
But couldn't you—in this one case——" The Colonel then appeared.
"Impossible, I grieve to say; It's quite against the rules!"
And to all of Winnie's pleading they were stubborn as two mules

There was but one thing then to do—and Winnie did it well!
She smiled upon that Colonel, and the gallant Colonel fell,
Bedazzled by those smiling eyes, red lips and dimpled chin.
"You'd like to take some snapshots, ma'am?" he said; "pray walk right in!"



Winnie took lots of pictures of the soldiers on parade;
The Colonel went where Winnie went, he stayed where Winnie stayed
"This is a dandy one," she said, "I like the way they're ranged."
"Well, if you don't," the Colonel said, "I'll quickly have them changed."



And then the Colonel posed himself. He stood out in the sun,
A truly noble creature, leaning proudly on a gun
And when her films were all used up, and Winnie went away
The soldiers said, "Do come again! We'd like you every day!"

Drama and Society Section
Boston Sunday American

At the Theatres.

ELEANOR GORDON
JULIA MARLOWE AT THE MAJESTIC.
GRETCHEN SHERMAN IN "THE MONTANA LIMITED" AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE
JULIA DEAN IN "PEGGY FULL" AT THE COLONIAL.

SOCIETY

Buds Must Give Way to Elder Sisters in the Initial Cinderella Dance

Snapshot by a Boston Sunday American photographer of Miss Mina Burnham (at the left) and Mrs. Henry Burnham.

WE are ringing out the old and ringing in the glad new year to usher in the season for 1909 with unity and concord, for most of events brilliant beyond those of any preceding.

The initial function of note will be the ball which the Wa... ...ave to give at the Ar... ...September the ... ...daughter Margaret ... ...ver which ... ...had ... ...the leaders in the C... ...a dance to take place in ... ...Jan... ...when the buds will be expected to ... ...ance while the ... ...elder sisters—the Cinderellas—who have been relegated to the background during ... ...eries of the debutante season, will come forth and make merry.

... ... and save ... ... Mrs. Robert H. ... ... Mrs. Robert H. ... ... Mrs. ...

... ...

This Week in the Theatres of Boston---News of the Plays and Players

'Follies of 1908' at Tremont--Notable Plays Begin Final Week To-Morrow

BOSTON has very satisfactory theatricals with which to see the old year out and the new year in.

New York sends a spectacular opening. Three notable plays are on their final week, each one bidding strongly. Vaudeville, burlesque, comedy, tragedy and drama are to be found in this week, which is divided between 1907 and 1908.

"Follies of 1908," the new Ziegfeld production, opens at the Tremont, with its brilliant life and color, its aggregation of Broadway beauties and its general flutterings of song and spectacle.

Miss Julia Marlowe begins the second and final week at the Majestic in Mary Johnston's new poetical drama of the French Revolution: "The Goddess of Reason."

Keith's Theatre calls attention to the entry of Claude Gillingwater into vaudeville, together with other features.

At the Orpheum there is a favorite old and yet ever-new Mrs. Annie Yeamans, the "grand old lady of the stage" she heads a notable bill.

"The Third Degree" begins its second week at the Hollis, and "Paid in Full" also begins its final week at the Colonial. Both are playing to good houses.

Frank Daniels continues his merriment at the Park in "Hook of Holland."

"The Great Question," a daring exploitation of a modern social problem, comes to the Globe with Jessie Bonstelle as the leading woman. At the Castle Square the John Craig players give another week of "The Clergy Girl," the comedy which opened so promisingly Christmas eve.

At the Boston Theatre the continuous

WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS AT BOSTON THEATRES

Austin & Stone's Museum—Stage show and curios.
Bates—Continuous entertainment.
Bowdoin Square—"The White Squadron."
Castle Square—"The Clergy Girl."
Colonial—"Paid in Full" (last week).
Columbia—"Privolities of 1918."
Gaiety—Transatlantic Burlesquers.
Globe—"The Great Question."
Grand Opera House—"The Montana Limited."
Hollis—"The Third Degree" (second week).
Howard Athenaeum—Sam T. Jack's Burlesquers.
Keith's—Claude Gillingwater and vaudeville.
Majestic—Julia Marlowe in "The Goddess of Reason" (last week).
Orpheum—Annie Yeamans and vaudeville.
Palace—Boris Kantley Burlesquers.
Park—Frank Daniels in "Hook of Holland."
Tremont—Opening of "Follies of 1908."

Annabelle Whitford, as "The Rival Ice Girl," with the "Follies 1908," at the Tremont

Julia Marlowe, as "Yvette," in "The Goddess of Reason," at the Majestic.

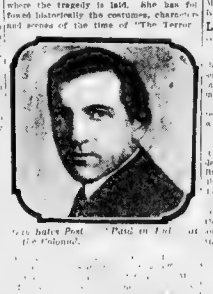
A new comedy-drama, "The Windmill of Old Holland," at the Park.

Claude Gillingwater, who begins a week at Keith's.

Jeanette Cleveland, Girl, at the Castle

Ezra C. Wallack, in "Montana Limited," at the Grand Opera House

Jessie Bonstelle, in "The Great Question," at the Globe

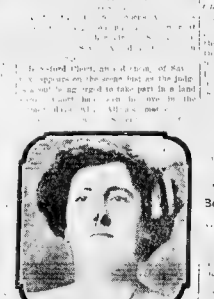


Ann Yeamans, as "Paid in Full" in "Ye Olden Post Office Colonial."

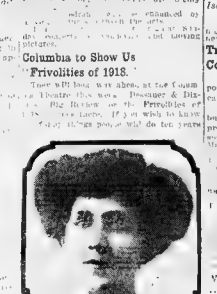
Ann Jennie Yeamans, as Mouse in "Peggy Machree," at the Orpheum.

John Flood, as Howard Jefferson in "The Thief Decree" at the Hollis

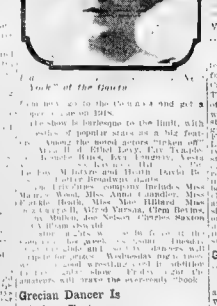
Isabel Leyton, with Sam T. Jack's burlesque company at the Howard.



Annie Yeamans, as Mrs. Holland, at the Park.



Lilian Tucker, behind scenes with the Rentz-Santley Company, at the Palace.



Jack of the Gaiety

Vaudeville Now Gets Claude Gillingwater

Claude Gillingwater has hearkened to the call of the vaudeville. He comes to Keith's Theatre this week in a new sketch, written by himself for his entry onto the vaudeville stage. He is a notable accession from the legitimate stage. Boston remembers him best as "Colonel Reed," the American millionaire in "Man of Last Year."

Mr. Gillingwater's new portal entrance is as a newer manager, who is rehearsing Mrs. George Jones. Mr. Jones comes in during an earnest rehearsal of a love scene with a wealth sensational dialogue. Second and several other entertaining characters participate in the pandemonium that ensues upon the introduction of the new comer into the midst of the rehearsal.

Mr. Gillingwater is supported by Miss Adelaide Prince, Miss Mary Boland, Edgar L. Davenport and Miss Jeanette Cleveland.

Marlowe Is Powerful in Role of "Yvette."

Miss Julia Marlowe is wonderful as Yvette, in the role of Yvette, the [illegible] Mary Johnston's new poetical drama of the French Revolution, "The Goddess of Reason," which begins its second week at the Majestic Theatre tonight. As Yvette, Miss Marlowe has, if possible, in the handful [illegible] her triumphs in earlier [illegible] her finest part I hope is brought to [illegible] this tragic role. From the time she comes onto the stage, to stand by and, quieting down the peasants, till she goes with her lover to the death of her own brother at the River Loire, Miss Marlowe holds [illegible] the production and it is [illegible]

The big support by company, spoken, Walter Whittlesey, as the Duke of Meran admirable foil to Miss Marlowe's Yvette. The large body of supernumeraries in the mob scenes, well trained and all the handled under direction of J. Heffman, is a real mob, not a stage one.

Society's the production in Jewish. Miss Marlowe spent several weeks this Summer studying the Nantes district in France where the tragedy is laid. She has [illegible] historically the costumes, characters and scenes of the time of "The Terror."

Last Week for "Paid in Full"

The engagement [illegible] at the Colonial Theatre [illegible] Boston Tremont for the week of this [illegible] modern American [illegible] It has been perhaps [illegible] popular week [illegible] and a period [illegible] within the [illegible] Theatre [illegible] career, [illegible] detail of how [illegible] Brooks [illegible] the [illegible] countless [illegible]

Globe Has New Play. "The Great Question."

Naval Drama Comes to Bowdoin Square

Sam T. Jack's Troupe to Enliven Howard

Star Theatre Put on Splendid Bills

Scenic Temple's Big Auditorium Crowded

Boston Theatre's New Entertainment Pleases.

"The Circus Girl" Opens Brilliantly.

American "Hook" Outdoes British Columbia to Show Us "Frivolities of 1918.

Transatlantics Come to Gaiety.

Grand Opera House Has "The Montana Limited."

Grecian Dancer Is Palace Feature.

Miles Brothers Films Boom Hub

Idle Hour Theatre Has Merry Holiday.

Advance Notes and Local Stage Topics

John Drew Comes to Hollis January 4

The Third Degree" Begins Final Week

Mabel Taliaferro in "Polly of the Circus"

Strange Freaks at Austin & Stone's.

"Girls" Coming to the Majestic

"Follies of 1908 Opens at Tremont

The new Ziegfeld "Follies of 1908," has its first Boston [illegible] the Tremont Theatre [illegible] Here are some of the [illegible]

Bickel and White [illegible]
Grace Leigh, Wm. [illegible]
Gertrude [illegible]
Miss Nora Hayes, [illegible] cast of "The [illegible]
New Zieglefeld [illegible] 1908" include Arthur [illegible]
ster in "[illegible] Girl."
Billie Rogers, [illegible] who was in [illegible] ish Model."
Jack Norworth [illegible] was to have [illegible]
not gave it up.
Hayes [illegible]
Olaco [illegible]
Brown, Alfred Lam [illegible]
Pauline Thorn and A. Bowes [illegible]
Those [illegible] know that [illegible]
a gorgeous [illegible] ties, songs, dances and travesties.
There will be a [illegible] chorus. Here are [illegible]
some of the [illegible]
Nell Brinkley [illegible]
Pleasure [illegible]
Thoughts of [illegible]
Navy Girls [illegible]
Drummer Girls [illegible]
Ziegfeld's Dancing Doll [illegible]
"Follies of 1908" is the work of Harry B. Smith, with music by Melville Ellis and Raymond Hubbell. Mr. Hubbell also [illegible] arguers well [illegible] of [illegible] two acts. Some of the scenes [illegible]
"New Jersey Tunnel," "Girls of All Ages," "On Board the Lusitania," "Smart Set," "Beaux Arts," "Nell Brinkley's Studio."
This press furnace bit of [illegible] color and general [illegible] of the production.
Among the specialties will [illegible] making a great hullo for the "Miss Production are the travesty on "In Society," in which all the recent Presidential candidates are ridiculed, the Society Prize Fight" and the burlesque on "La Waltz Dream."
There are [illegible] of songs, of course. Here are some of [illegible] Sweet Music," Mother Was a Lady," "The International Match," "Waltz," "The Band of Broadway," "The Nell Brinkley Girl," "The Princess of Tabasco," "Take Me Out to the Ballgame," "Mamie," and "Over on the Jersey Side."

TOO LONG from LONG ACRE SQUARE

As Sung by Bob Dailey in Geo. M. Cohan's Musical Frivolity "THE AMERICAN IDEA"

Published by Permission of Cohan & Harris Publishing Co. New York.

H.R. Cook.

Boston Sunday American, December 27, 1908.

CHORUS

Long A-cre, Long A-cre, oh, Long A-cre Square! Long A-cre, Long A-cre, I long to be there. Fa-kirs and fighters, on Street number For-ty Two, Act-ors and ac-tress-es there waiting for a cue. Long A-cre, Long A-cre, I long for the scene! Long

A-cre, Long A-cre, the home of "long green!" Pa-ris is Pa-ra-dise! Yan-kees declare; But the Boise Boulogne's too long from Long A-cre Square. Long Square.

The performing Rights Reserved by the Author

TOO LONG FROM LONG ACRE SQUARE

Words and Music by GEO. M. COHAN

Tempo di Valse

SOLO

How do you feel when you're a - el? I've a

Ah - y first - class Yan - kee Doo - dle Hits a long - ing for Long - A - cre Square. Trip - ping o'er long - ing for Long - A - cre Square: The high - way of wa - ter or Grev - el, No mat - ter how were dual - isms or boo - dle, Broke or with the trip - ping, we long to be there. The Yan - kees get boo - dle we long to be there. Pa - ris tired out in Pa - ree, Then I'm Lon - don, a long sleep they no place for me here, And I'll stake you to Lon - don, at take: But there's one spot it's "Good morn-ing, Cav - i-er!"

CHORUS

CHORUS

SOLO

that: With all of the sights you can see here!

The lane where the world's ram - pant a - wake.

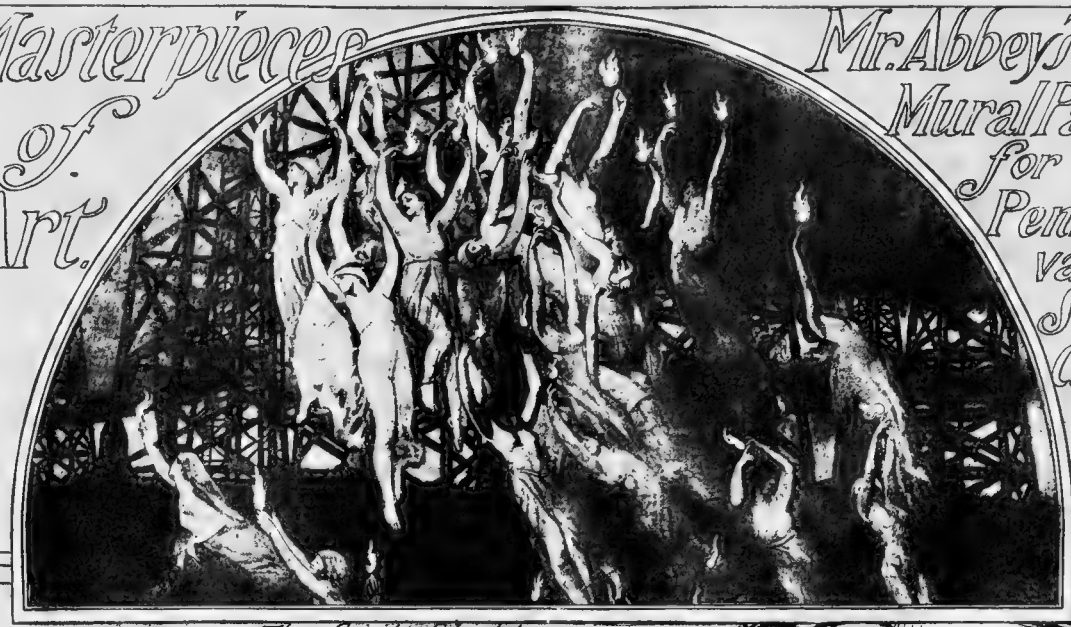
I would ra - ther see Ham - mer - stein's hall;

Copyright MCMVIII by The COHAN & HARRIS Pub. Co. 31 W. 42nd St. N.Y.
Copyright MCMVIII by Walter, Boyce & Co. Ltd. for Canada.
The right to use other the words or melody of this song for any mechanical devices is strictly prohibited.

...1908, by the ... Examiner ... Britain Rights Reserved.

Masterpieces of Art.

Mr. Abbey's New Mural Panels for the Pennsylvania State Capitol.



The Spirit of Light.

Copyright 1908 by Edwin A Abbey from a Copley Print—Copyright 1908 by Curtis & Cameron, Publishers, Boston.

Copyright 1908 by Edwin A. Abbey from a Copley Print Copyright 1908 by Curtis & Cameron Publishers, Boston.

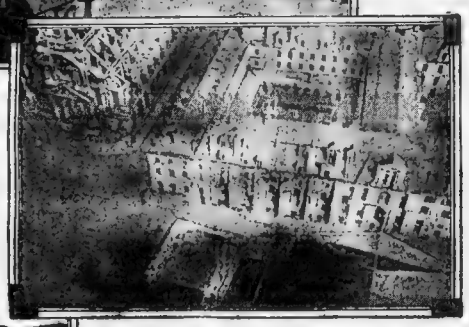
The Spirit of Vulcan ——— See Next Page.

"Air-Ship Garages"

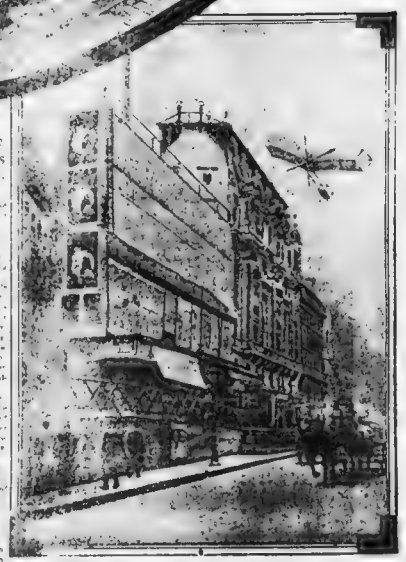
The Very Latest Novelty in the Requirements of Modern City Life.

Flying Machine Arriving at the Garage of the Automobile Club on the Famous Place de la Concorde, Paris, the Central Station of the New System of Aeroplane Garages.

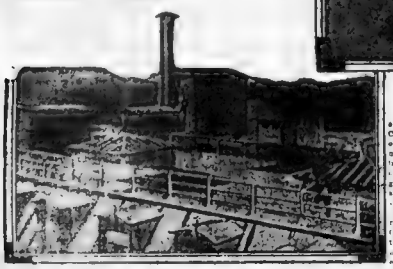
At the Corner of the Boulevard de Bonne Nouvelle and the Rue de la Lune.



Aeroplane Garage at the Pantheon for Arrivals from the South.



An Aeroplane Flying Over the Boulevards.



Garage on the Hotel Meurice, Near the Tuileries Gardens.

Abbey's Masterpieces of Art

Copyright, 1906, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

TWO OF THE FIGURES FOR WHICH HE POSED AND WHICH MADE HER FALL IN LOVE WITH HIM.

The Romance of an Athletic Hero.

How Miss Vilsack, Heiress to $2,000,000, Made the Discovery That a Man of Muscle May Also Understand Tender Lovemaking--and So She Is To Be Mrs. John F. Mulcahy.

John F. Mulcahy, the Athletic Hero.

COPYRIGHT BY MELBA B WILSON.

PHOTO BY ALCIDE FINARD.

COPYRIGHT BY MELBA B WILSON.

"Hi! here, Catherine."

"Who?"

"I say here."

"Who's my hero, sir?"

"A strong man, of course. A broad shouldered man, a deep-chested man, a man with a fighter's jaw, and, well a man——"

"Enough of description! It is advertised, but you should have begun, as they do at banquets, with, 'We have with us this evening.' Who is this ideal in the flesh?"

"Jack Mulcahy."

"The name is not illuminating."

"Ah, yes, because you live in Pittsburg. If you lived in New York you would know Jack Mulcahy. Every one does. He is a champion salmon, and winner of the Olympic double sculls trophy at St. Louis."

"I am tired of trophies. I met a winner of a boat race once and he was a horrid, little——"

"You remember the Hamburg race?"

"For the Emperor's Cup? Yes, but that was declared won by a foul."

"It was not declared a foul, not officially. There was always a question about it. But there was never any dispute about Jack Mulcahy's seamanship. He and his double, Varley, rowed the cleanest, finest race you can imagine, and Jack was the prettiest figure of a ripple of muscles you ever saw. Besides, he showed the man stuff in him by the way he took the news. He and William Varley knew they had won the race, and they sailed that day for America, tickled over what the fellows on the side would say. Well, the boys were down at the pier to meet them, and some of the best sports came out on the Quarantine boat and climbed aboard, looking glum. The first one shook hands with Jack as though he had met him at a funeral and said: 'They're raising a row on the other side, and saying it was a foul.'

"And Jack only laughed. He thought he was going to wear a laurel wreath, and instead of that they planned a bust of ex-Senator Quay on his sleeve. It was tough, but it's the right sort of a man who laughs at such a thing."

"Yes, yes. I like that."

"Do you see, he isn't a horrid, little——"

"No, no; I see."

"He is a graduate of Fordham College and a member of the Union Club, the Belle Haven Yacht Club and the Catholic Club of New York. He is a nephew of Mortimer Mulcahy, and a nephew of John A Sullivan, a founder of the Catholic Club of New York."

"But Jack is neither. You went to the World's Fair at St. Louis."

"Yes."

"And you remember those splendid spandrels on the Mechanical Building?"

"Yes, yes, I remember those figures. They represented 'Power' and 'Strength.' They were superb."

"Jack Mulcahy posed for them. The sculptor, Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson, said he represented the idea better than any professional model she had seen."

Miss Wilson's judgment carries with it authority. Carl Ritter chose her from among many candidates for the work, to decorate the arches of the Mechanical Building at St. Louis. She modelled the bronze statuettes, "Low Roll and the Rest," "La Pola Plaster" and "The Minute Men of the Tiffany" in Paris, she exhibited "The Screen Chariot," which pleased Parisian critics. "The Volunteer," another of her bronzes, was purchased by the State of New York.

Besides being a sculptor, Miss Wilson is an artist. She painted a portrait of Alice Roosevelt, which the Chief Executive commended. In Paris, in London and in Berlin, Miss Wilson has painted and modelled distinguished persons and great men. When she said "Jack Mulcahy is a better type for my 'Power and Strength' than any professional model," her words had the weight of authority.

In politics, as in art and athletics, he won unusual honors. He charmed the Aldermanship of the Twenty-fourth District away from its incumbent in the same apparently easy way he won in the sculling trophies.

"It is he really here?"

"Yes."

"Ah!"

"Shall I present him?"

"Oh, yes, I suppose so."

John F. Mulcahy, of New York, has wide, strong shoulders which swing easily about in his black coat, although he has not the tremendous height of a football hero. His waist tapers to a graceful measure and his limbs are lithe and thin and agile. It was this last noticeable as he guided Miss Vilsack about in a waltz.

His jaw was lean and strong, the jaw of a fighter, yet the smile he turned upon his beautiful partner was most agreeable.

Miss Vilsack carried a chum home with her in her carriage, to which they were attended by the agreeable young man from New York.

"Are you sleepy, Catherine?" she asked. "No dear, why?"

"You are so quiet."

"I was only thinking." And the daughter of the late Leopold Vilsack, heiress to two million dollars, fell again into reverie. The fruit of these reveries appeared in detached remarks.

"I didn't think that a man could win athletic honors among men and—and be agreeable to women, too," she said, looking nowhere in particular.

"Mean," her chum made a sleepy answer.

"I have always admired a man of strength. In fact, I never admired any other. A weak man"—the white shoulders recess scornfully under their covering of pink silk—"is a joke played by nature."

"But the world intellectuals have been little men."

The chum was sweet now and looking into the past.

"I don't care for intellectual men. They are always disagreeable, usually peevish and dyspeptic. No, give me the man with red blood, a man with square shoulders, a deep chest and a square jaw.

"A wild man?"

"He would be delightful to tame such a wild man." Miss Vilsack stared smilingly into the fire. Perhaps it was the reflection from the fire that made her cheeks so pretty pink.

"The new woman doesn't care about a man's physique. She only cares for his mind and character," pursued Miss Vilsack's chum, who belongs to four clubs. "You are a reversion to the primordial type, Kathie. You are a reincarnation of the woman who, when she recovered her consciousness after her suitor's wooing with a club, was glad to see that he was big enough to scare other wild men away from their cave and to protect their future children."

"Of course," assented Miss Vilsack. "That is the chief function of man, besides bringing food and fuel to the cave for his wife—and little ones."

Again she smiled into the fire. Her chum yawned behind her hand and shuffled off in her Japanese slippers to her bungalow, to dream about nothing, as is the habit of tired people.

It was now when Miss Vilsack for a second time the conversation of the night before came back to her. She watched him easier her friend into the tonneau, and took a bold fearless look at him, with an easy swing of his short, sturdy arms, saw her smile and remembered that soliloquy in the open fire in the hotel. "I didn't know that a man could be strong—and—and sweet, too."

Cupid in this case lost no time in dalliance. Perhaps it was because athletic men are impetuous wooers. Perhaps because some women, in spite of the feelings of cynical men, know whom and what they want, when they see them—and can get them, as in the case of Miss Vilsack.

When John F. Mulcahy became Alderman Jack of New York's Twenty-fourth District, the young athlete and graduate of Fordham College beating Guttenhagen, the Republican incumbent, as the cheering partisans declared, "out of his silk stockings," there came from Pittsburg a telegram which "Alderman Jack" refused to show to any of his constituents. He tucked it away in his inside pocket, with a blush, saying: "It is private."

"More strength to my strong man," message was.

Mr. Mulcahy, being an employe of a manufacturing company, had occasion to pay frequent visits to Pittsburg, but more frequent, it seemed to the head of the firm, than was necessary.

"Hello, Jack! When brought you over?" said his chief, one morning, two weeks after the big New Yorker's last visit.

Alderman Jack mumbled about some matter of moment.

"That was of no special consequence," returned the chief. "It could have been arranged by correspondence or telegram. Those trips must be tiresome, Jack."

"No, not in the least. I enjoy them tremendously."

The response was so warm that the head of Worth Brothers glanced at this eager young man in his employ.

"Mighty zealous chap. Fine fellow," he murmured to himself. "Not many young men like that."

The announcement of Alderman Jack's engagement to Miss Vilsack shed a great light upon the dark places for the child. After his first dazed moment, he laughed. Then he called his partner. "The boss must give the boy a fine wedding gift," he said.

The marriage will take place at St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburg, on the seventh of January.

Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson, the Sculptor, Working on One of the Figures for Which Mr. Mulcahy Posed, and Which Were the So Much Admired Decorations of the Mechanical Building of the St. Louis World's Fair.

Miss Catharine Vilsack, the Heiress-Heroine of the Romance.

Why Home-Made Jam Is the Best.

HOUSEKEEPERS who adhere to the old-fashioned custom of putting up their own preserves and jams will be gratified to learn that a recent investigation by the supervisors of home-made products in the factories. No less an authority than the London Lancet testifies to this.

Every housewife who makes jam knows that the keeping powers of the several batches may vary. Some samples will go mouldy in a short time, while others will keep in good condition almost indefinitely. The differences observed may be due to some jams being more concentrated than others, as, of course, it is only a concentrated solution of sugar which is antiseptic.

It seems certain, also, that cane sugar is a much more satisfactory preservative than glucose, and the argument of jam-makers that glucose is necessary in order to keep the jam from crystallizing is put out of court by the fact that if the jam is well made the acids of the fruit should change enough cane sugar into invert sugar to insure against sugar crystals separating. This involves, however, long boiling, and nowadays jams, we are told, must be made as cheaply as possible.

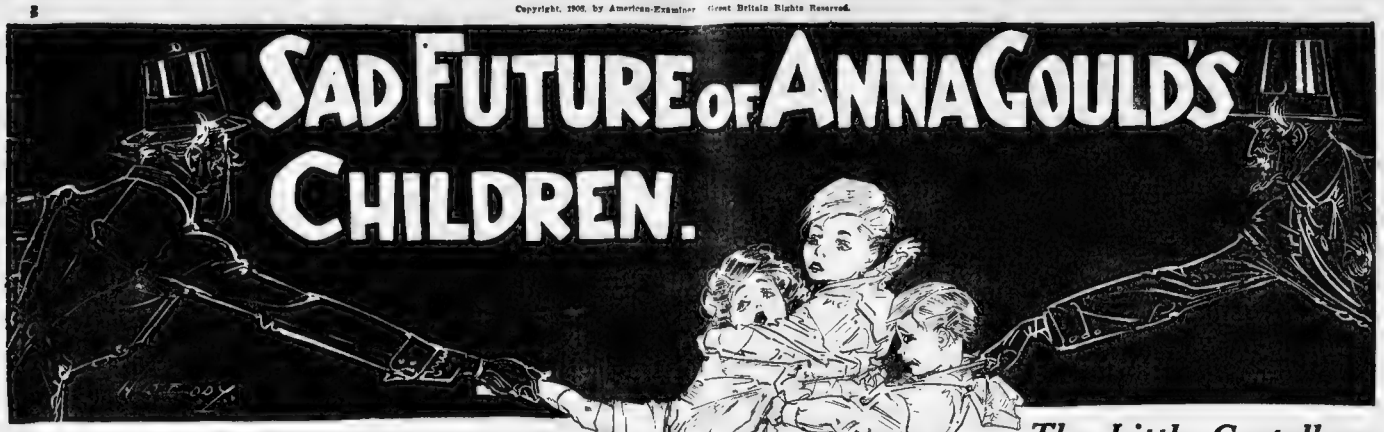
Hence the superiority of the home made article, in which considerably a larger proportion of digestible sugar (and possibly, also, it may be added, more fruit) than as a rule does the commercially prepared article. It would be a somewhat curious fact if it proved that, after all, jam owed its keeping powers not entirely to sugar but in part to what may be regarded as an artificial preservative—namely, formaldehyde. It has been agreed that formaldehyde is an objectionable preservative for foods on account of its toughening effect upon foods in general and upon protein in particular.

And yet it would appear that formaldehyde is readily formed in small quantities by merely boiling solutions of cane sugar, the amount produced depending possibly on the duration of the boiling. According to this, it would not be surprising to find formaldehyde present in many jams as a perfectly unintentional, or even natural, constituent. Its presence, indeed, may be essential to the keeping powers of the jam.

The subject deserves further investigation, since analysts may be put off their guard and be the means of instituting prosecutions for fraud where no fraud exists.

Copyright, 1906, by American-Examiner Great Britain Rights Reserved.

SAD FUTURE OF ANNA GOULD'S CHILDREN.



By Dorothy Dix.

The Little Castellane Boys the Real Stakes in the Shameless Wrangle Between the Divorced Father, Count Boni, and the Notorious Step-Father, Prince Helie.

The Princesse de Sagan When She Was Anna Gould—and Sixteen Years of Age.

Boni—George—Jay—"The humblest little lads are more fortunate than these children."

The Three Children with Their Tutor. "They are frail, sickly little creatures with tired, sad eyes."

Where Can We Find the Perfect Servant Girl?

Copyright, 1906, by American-Exam[illegible] Great Britain Rights Reserved.

The Science of Cosmetics.

by St Claire Rainsford-Gay Ph.G., Pharmacist to the French Hospital, N.Y.

And Precisely the Proper Rouges and Unguents to Use for Various Styles of Skins.

Rubbing the Face Dry with a Turkish Towel

Just a Touch of Rouge Applied High on the Cheeks and Toned Down to the Chin.

A Face That Has Been Successfully Treated and Beautified By the Intelligent Use of Cosmetics.

Only the Very Tips of the Fingers Are Required to Apply the Cream.

Squeeze Out the Offending Blackheads with Thumb Nails, but Do Not Use Pressure as It Will Irritate the Delicate Skin.

In Applying the Lotion with a Gauze Pad Be Sure to Follow the Muscles Upward and Tap the Face Gently.

Why You Should Often Change Wall Paper.

The Sour Milk Diet for Long Life.

To quote Harvey's words, "His ordinary

I am, sir, yours faithfully,

D. FRASER HARRIS, M. D.

THE EARTH IS RUSHING "12-MILES-A-SECOND" TOWARD WHAT?

Prof. Serviss

Prof. Serviss, the Distinguished Astronomer, Explains the Fascinating Mysteries of What Awaits Us on Our Headlong Journey Through Space.

By Prof. Garrett P. Serviss.

1--The Amazing Situation.

W

2--Collision With a Star?

W

"Both day and night the sky will be so full of blazing suns that, if human beings can stand the fearful glare, they will hardly know noon from midnight in the kaleidoscope of fire over their heads."

3--Will We Join a Star Cluster?

I

W

A

"The sun, carrying with it, the [illegible] and the other planets is caught in a mighty current of the ether which is sweeping us, like chips in the rapids of Niagara, straight toward the great constellation of Hercules."

"THE ATTRACTION OF THE APPROACHING PLANET WOULD CAUSE TREMENDOUS UPWARD-TENDING WATER SPOUTS—MEN AND ANIMALS AND BUILDINGS WOULD RUSH SKYWARD AMID THE CRASH OF FLYING OBJECTS AND THE STRIPPING AWAY OF THE EARTH'S SURFACE."

4--Into a Black Hole in the Milky Way?

I

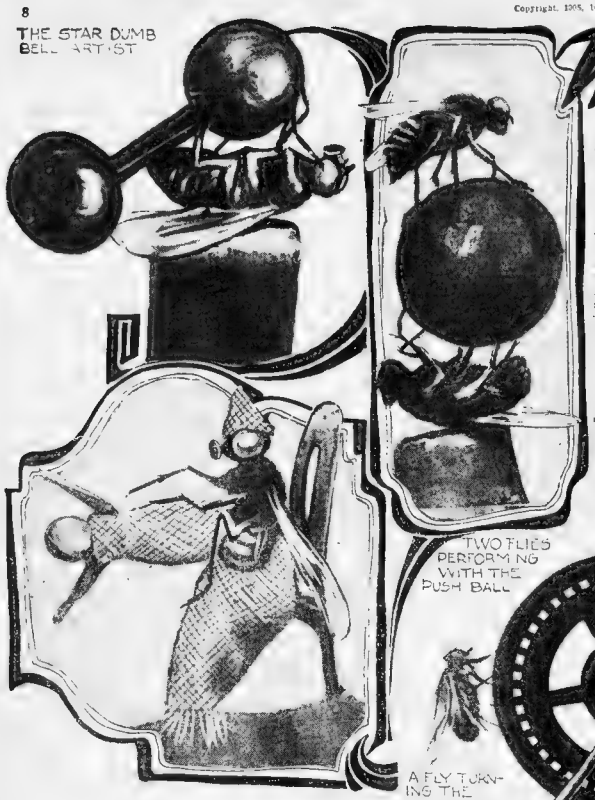
5--Suppose the Earth Should Stop.

C

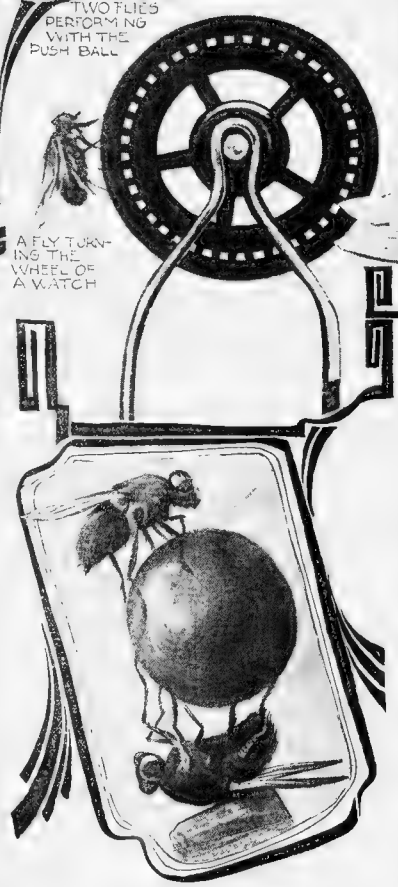
GARRETT P. SERVISS

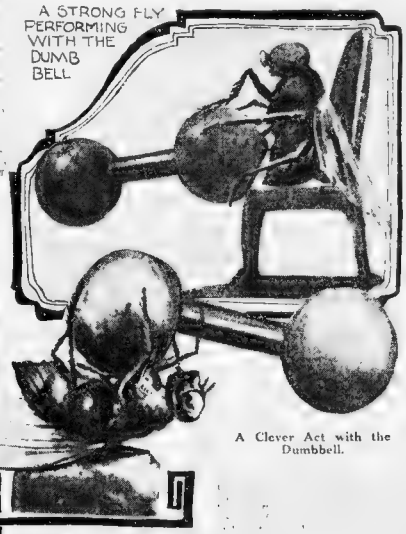
Copyright, 1905, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

What Trained Flies Can Do.



A Fly Nursing a Baby.





A Clever Act with the Dumbbell.

Another Trick with the Pushball.
Photographs by the Urban Trading Co.

Leisure-Hour Employment for Working Girls.

By MRS. A. E. NOBLE.

Christian Science in Art.

"THE TRIUMPH OF TRUTH OVER ERROR."
The Great Painting by Henry B. Fuller, Which Has Won the Carnegie Prize at the National Academy Art Exhibition in New York.

A Woman's Advice to "Hustling" Women.

By PAULINE CORRI.

Copyright, 1908, by American Examiner. [illegible] Rights Reserved.

FOUR NEWEST FASHION FADS

The Devil Collar with Its Little Wicked Looking Dangling Ornaments.

THE VERY NEW FASHIONABLE TWIN BIT MADE FOR A LINK.

The Seductive Hood for Evening Wear Which Is Really One of the Most Fascinating Modes of the Moment.

The Huge Hundred-Dollar Bridal Muff Made Entirely of White Baby Ribbon and Gorgeous Orchids and Little Sprays of Lilies-of-the-Valley.

A Paris Beauty and Her Pet Stag.

Mme. Charron, Followed by Her Pet Stag, "Bayard," on a Paris Boulevard.

Why Women Like the "Unsuspecting Man."

By ANNESLEY KENEALY.

What the Invention of the Elevator Has Done for Health.

Copyright, 1908, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

THE MAN WHO STOLE THE EARTH

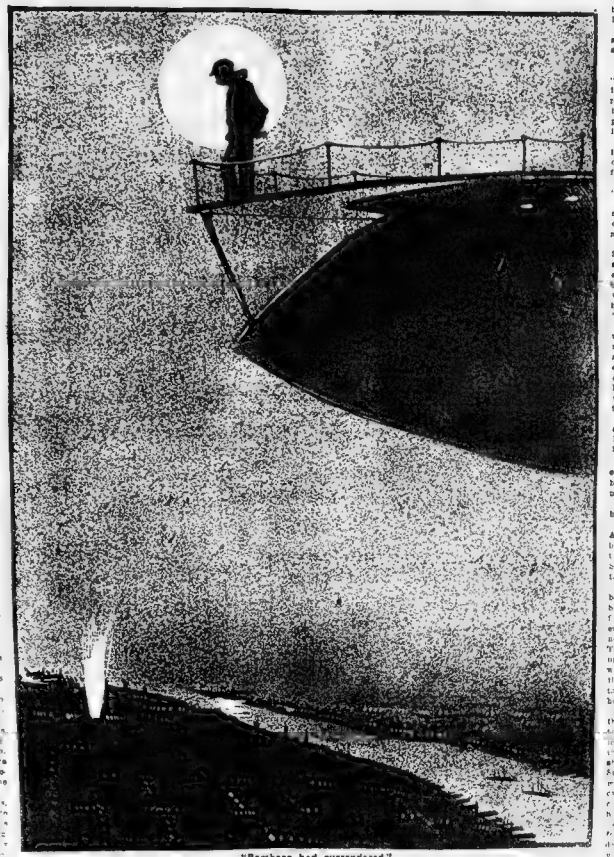
Most Thrilling Novel of Love and Adventure Since Jules Verne's Masterpiece.

By W. Holt White.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

When the King of Baltania—known as Mr. Montgomery Jones—is occupying a villa on the Thames, near London, John Strong, a rich and adventurous young citizen of Baltania, falls in love with his daughter Princess Diana. At Strong's suggestion—from the river his friend, Joe Lang, is perfecting a wonderful flying machine and a system of wireless telegraphy made available to any one who possesses the small, portable mechanism which you have just received, the electrical discoveries, principally in connection with the Tesla and Lang inventions, having placed the whole civilized world at the mercy of the King, owning it. His Majesty now became the richest monarch on the earth.

Strong and Lang are assembling models of the flying machine, and they declare that the young adventurer intends to take to love with the young princess as soon as he has perfected the machine to his satisfaction. Lang is to act as pilot during one of the war-sail trips to Constantinople in the service of his friends Baltania and Archduke Ludwig, a larger machine than the "Victor" being all ready for the trip. Strong will watch proceedings as the mission of peace carried with the rest of the world, being the representative of the United States and Joe Lang the envoy of Baltania, whether the Balkans agree to Diana's wish or not.



"Bomberg had surrendered."

PART III.

Continued from Last Sunday

CHAPTER XIII.—(Continued)

A [illegible] "Bomberg had surrendered." [illegible] Strong [illegible] Diana [illegible] Ludwig [illegible] Strong [illegible] Diana [illegible] Strong [illegible] Diana [illegible] Strong [illegible] Diana

HER NEW MATINEE BONNET.

by MRS. CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER

Oh, Joy! Here's a Head-dress That Lovely Woman May Wear in the Theatre.

But the New Bonnets Demand a New Coiffure. And Away With Hatpins! Some Late Fashion Hints from Paris.

A—Cloth-of-Silver Swathed in Shaded Chiffon of Gray, Green and Gold, with an Aigrette of Copper and Gold. This Headdress Certainly Has the Merit of Being Original.

B—Turban Bonnet of Silver Gauze Wound with Strings of Pearls.

C—Matinee Toque of Chiffon and Jet, with Jet Danglers at Side.

D—Dragon Flies of Jet and Turquoise Held by a Knot of Turquoise Velvet.

E—Bands of Ermine and Gold Crossing the Head, with Golden Grapes Hanging at the Side.

G—Hat Made of Royal Blue Velvet with a Bunch of Roses in Faded Colorings at One Side.

Sunday American-Examiner Patterns---8376.

SUNDAY AMERICAN-EXAMINER PATTERNS.

No. 8376—WORK APRON

Size.....Years.

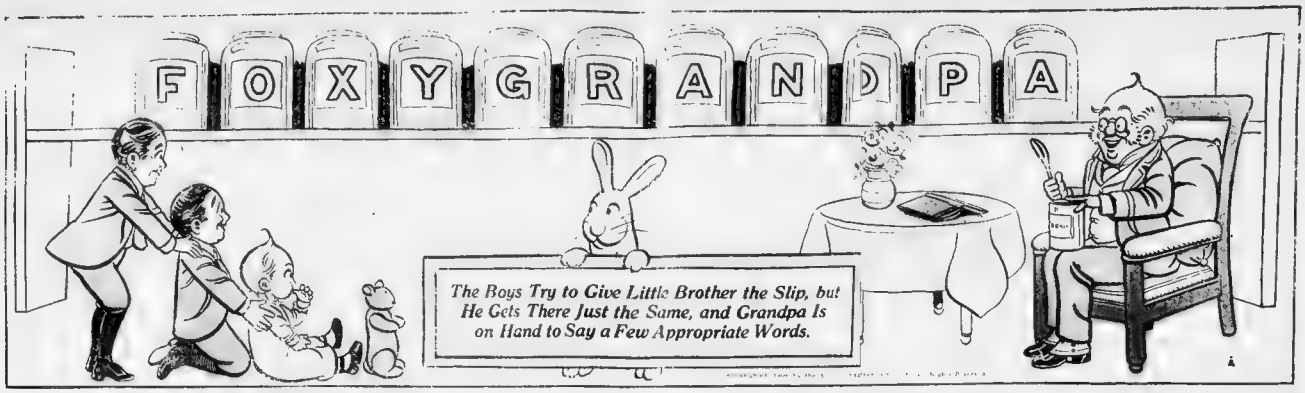
Name .....

Street and Number.....

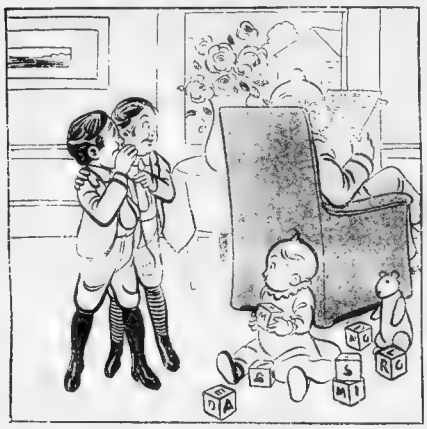
City and State .....

How a "Business Girl" Should Take Care of Herself.

FOXY GRANDPA

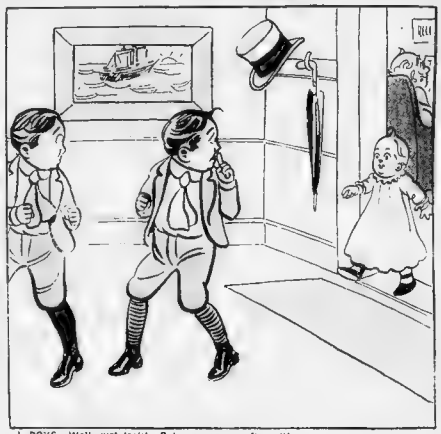


The Boys Try to Give Little Brother the Slip, but He Gets There Just the Same, and Grandpa Is on Hand to Say a Few Appropriate Words.



1. BOYS—Gran'pa's busy reading. Let's sneak out to the jam closet!

2. BOYS—You stay there, little brother. We don't want you on this expedition.



3. BOYS—Well, just look! Baby is coming after all!

4. BOYS—This old hat will soon stop the little trainer.

5. GRANDPA—Here, snookelums, what's all the racket about, and what are you doing with my hat on?

6.—GRANDPA—I wonder where that honey bee is going in such a hurry!

7. GRANDPA—Ha, ho! Well, if he isn't slipping into the jam closet!

8. GRANDPA—Ah, I see! He was following my youngsters, who are up to some mischief, as usual.

9. GRANDPA—Why, hello, boys! So you are playing hide and seek with baby. He caught you. Come out now. It's his time to hide!

Comic Section of the
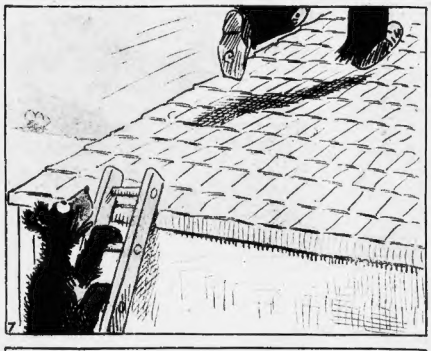
BOSTON AMERICAN
Sunday December 27th 1908.

Copyright, 1908, by the American and Examiner
All Britain Rights Reserved

Happy Hooligan's Triumph! Hip, Hip, Hooray!

Copyrighted, 1908, by the American Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved



ALLOW ME! TO COMPLIMENT HIM, MY DEAR, ALPHONSE
I WILL COMPLIMENT HOOLIGAN, MY DEAR, GASTON!
OH, MR HOOLIGAN, HOW HEROIC YOU ARE!
TANKS, MISS SUZANNE. FOITUNATELY I WASN'T HOITED.
OW!
F. Opper
12

James—He Takes Excellent Care of Baby (Not!)

Copyrighted 1908 by the American Examiner Great Britain Rights Reserved

The Widow Perkins and Her Dog Violet!

Copyrighted 1908 by the American Examiner Great Britain Rights Reserved

1.
"ISNT HE CLEVER! WHY COUNT HOW COULD HE EVER DO IT?"
"AH IT EES NOT ZE ONLY TRICK! WATCH NOW I MAKE HIM ON HIS HEAD STAND!" 2.
"WONDERFUL!"
"I MYSELF AVE TEACH 'IM ZAT TRICK!"
3.
"OH COUNT WONT YOU SEE IF YOU CAN TEACH VIOLET TO DO THAT?"
"FOR YOU FAIR LADY I WOULD DO ANYSING IN ZE WORLD!"
4.
"OH AINT SHE CUNNING!"
"YOU SEE NOW! FIRST I GIVE ZE DOG CONFIDENCE!"
GR-R-R-R
5.
"OH DONT HURT VIOLET!"
6.
"OH, LOOK, COUNT! ISNT VIOLET CUNNING!"
SWINNERTON

Haw! Haw! Ha! Ha! Ha! And Poor Fritz Didn't Tumble!

Copyrighted 1906, by the American Features Great Britain Rights Reserved

GEE, IF I WASN'T SO GOOD LOOKING I WOULD LOOK MORE LIKE DER CAPTAIN BUT I GUESS VEN I PUT ON DER WHISKERS I CAN FOOL FRITZ ALL RIGHTO!
1
FRITZ!! RUN UND TELL YOUR MAMMA TO GIFF ME SOME PIES - HURRY UP LIKE A GOOD LITTLE BOY!
YES CAPTAIN UND VILL YOU GIFF ME A PIECE
2
HERE DEY ISS CAPTAIN - AINT I A GOOD BOY? DON'T I GET SOME!
FRITZ, YOU ISS NEARLY AS GOOD AS YOUR BROTHER HANS - NO, PIES AIN'T GOOD FOR LITTLE BOYS! NOW RUN UND GET ME DOT BOX OF CANDY VOT MAMMA HAS
3
CANDY!! SURE I'LL GET IT FOR YOU CAPTAIN - M-M- CANDY!
HURRY UP, YOU LITTLE RASCAL - REMEMBER DOT I HATE TO BE KEPT VAITING!
4
DIDN'T I HURRY QUICK? NOW DON'T I GET SOME - PLEASE?
HERE MIT IT! UND DON'T ASK SUCH FOOLISH QUESTIONS
5
UM-M-M-M ISS YOU GOING TO BE STINGY CAPTAIN!
AW CHASE YOURSELF - YOU KNOW VOT HAPPENS VEN YOU GET FRESH MIT ME
6
GO UND PLAY MIT DOT NICE BROTHER OF YOURS UND DON'T BOTHER A MAN VEN HE ISS LUNCHING OH!
7
DOD GAST IT VOT —
SUMETING TELLS ME IN MY BONES DOT I'M A CHUMP!
A-A
8
HAWK HAWK HA-HA - DER LITTLE CAPTAIN - HO! HO!
OH FRITZ! SUCH A EASY MARKER VOT YOU ISS!
9
DER DOD GASTED LITTLE SHAVER!! I COULDN'T TELL MYSELF APART!
I AM - AM I!! WUFF-FF!
10
VOT ISS?
HAW! HAW! COME SEE WHO ISS ME UND WHO ISS HANS!
11
UND ALL MY PIES UND ALL MY CANDY!
DOT AINT ALL VOT I KNOW
Resolved yet —
DOT DISS ISS A SURE PROOF DOT DER FACE ISS ONLY SKIN DEEP UND NO MATTER HOW MUCH WE ARE RESEMBLED TO LOOK AT, IN DER HEART DERE ISS NO DIFFERENCE! YOU CAN NOTICE IT MORE SHARPLY AT A MASK-BALL - IF YOU ARE A WALZER! OTHERWISE WE GO HEART BY HEART UND DER SOUL LOOKS DER EYES OUDT! Captain 12

WHAT HAPPENED ON CHRISTMAS TO and NOW FOR NEW YEARS

Copyrighted, 1902, by the Hearst-Chicago Syndicate, Great Britain Rights Reserved.

Any body can be happy on New Years day but how about Christmas and New years night ah ha

At New Year You are happy, and you are pleased because it is new. But be careful dear heart and be happy when the year is Old Be happy to know you have done well and been square and kind during the Whole year

1
YOU LOOK EXACTLY LIKE SANTA CLAUS, WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO NOW?
JUST FOLLOW ME AND WATCH

2
I'M GOING ON THE ROOF AND COME DOWN THE CHIMNEY

3

4
WHATS THE MATTER?
AH OO o . . ~

5

6

7
HELP I'M STUCK

8
LOOK OUT

9

10
SANTA CLAUS YOU NEED N'T COME HERE OUR LITTLE BOY DOES N'T EXPECT YOU
DONT YOU KNOW ME PA? I'M YOUR DEAR LITTLE SON BUSTER PA AINT YOU TICKLED?

11
MA THAT CHIMNEY NEEDED CLEANING ANYHOW

12
HAPPY NEW YEAR

HERES A HAPPY NEW YEAR. HAPPINESS IS OUR DUTY TO OUR CREATOR. IF WE ARE NOT HAPPY IN THIS WONDERFUL & BEAUTIFUL WORLD, WITH THE FLOWERS AND BIRDS AND SUNSHINE, AND EYESIGHT WE ARE NOT PAYING A VERY NICE COMPLIMENT TO OUR MAKER. IF YOU GAVE A FEAST, WITH MUSIC, FLOWERS & EVERY THING, IT WOULD N'T BE VERY NICE OF YOUR GUESTS TO JUST SHOW THAT THEY WERE UNHAPPY. HAPPINESS IS IMPORTANT, IT MAKES HEALTH. BOYS, YOU CANT BE HAPPY IF YOU KICK A DOG OR ROB A BIRD'S NEST OR HURT SOME BODYS FEELINGS BECAUSE IF YOU ARE MEAN YOU ARE A COWARD. IT TAKES A GOOD BOY TO BE BRAVE AND A BRAVE BOY TO BE GOOD. THE KINDEST BOY IS THE BRAVEST BOY AND HAPPIEST

R. F. Outcault